'HOUSEMOTHER' FOR SEMINARY

Miss E. A. Calvert Arrives to Take Up Duties at Maunaloa

WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 15.—Miss E. A. Calvert, the house mother for Maunaloa arrived on the last boat from the Coast and came to Maui today by the Claudine. This is a new position at the Seminary created by a friend in order that the teachers might be relieved from so long hours on duty. The new position means what it implies, namely, the entire care of the children as a mother in a home would care for her own children. The trustees and teachers are very much pleased that such a position has been created, and they believe they have been exceedingly fortunate in the selection of Miss Calvert.

The entrance to the Seminary grounds has been vastly improved during the last two or three months. The drive begins at the point where formerly it left the Makawao road, but instead of coming directly to the Seminary and therefore taking a very sharp grade, the road now turns a

MISS DE FOREST TALKS ON JAPAN

Noted College Woman Delivers Address at Central Union on Mission Work

Choosing as her subject "Christian Education in Japan," Miss Charlotte De Forest gave an interesting talk at Central Union Church last night where a large crowd had gathered to listen to the address and to hear the sacred music, which is the second series to be given this year. Miss De Forest, who is a teacher in the Girl's School in Kobe, Japan, is not unknown in Honolulu, as her father visited the islands several years ago enroute to Japan to engage in missionary work. After his death last year a memorial church was erected in his honor. She is on her way to the Orient to resume her duties after a year's leave of absence in the States.

Following a brief outline as to the methods of Christian education in the Japanese and the ways in which the Japanese children are being taught the Christian faith, Miss De Forest explained that the systems used in that country for the development of morals and manners were probably better than those in use in the English schools, for in Japan they begin at the age of six years, when the child enters school. Good citizenship, generosity, helpfulness, and like subjects are given to the small students for study each day, and with the help of a chart and blackboard, and with donations by the students themselves, these subjects make a firm impression on the minds of the children.

The teaching of the English language, said Miss De Forest, is a most important factor. She also stated that in nearly every case she found the pupils willing to study it. They have found out that it is the key to a wonderful literature, and Charles Dickens' works and other books along that line are now being read with great interest by the girls of her school. After mastering the English language, it is easy for them to understand the Bible, and they are quick to grasp its teachings. Miss De Forest said that the singing of hymns has accomplished a great deal for Christianity, as the Japanese have a great attraction for them. Together with these hymns and the teaching of the children, they slowly but surely acquire a knowledge of Christianity that will be an everlasting help to them.

The sacred music contained many well-selected numbers, which were as follows: Evening Shadows Gently Falling, Quartet; Anthem—Te Deum, Yorgrich; Chorus; With Overflowing Heart, Arthur F. Wall; Adagio Pathétique, Mrs. Ingalls; Anthem—Cantata, Buck; Chorus.

ADD TO BIG BILL AT LIBERTY THEATER

With a program of four pictures and an equal number of vaudeville acts, the Liberty Theatre bill of last week was generally considered about the best ever offered since this theatre's opening, and the announcement

JEANETTE FLETCHER
Prima Donna at Va Liberty.

That an additional turn far above the ordinary act of its kind, will be presented tonight, comes as a surprise to many. The prices of admission remain as usual.

Another feature of tonight's changes will be the introduction to Empire theatre patrons of Leroy Lenhart, originally billed for appearance at the Liberty, but on account of the unusual length of that theatre's program he will be the feature of the Empire's bill, and is claimed to be the only act of his kind to ever appear in this city. The usual new pictures will be presented at both theatres and indications point to unusually good performance at both the Liberty and Empire.

TALKS TO GIRLS
Mrs. Jessie Honeyman, who for five years was president of the Y. W. C. A. at Portland, Oregon, addressed a large gathering of the members of the local association in the Boston Building yesterday afternoon, where they had met to meet the new president, Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, and to hear Mrs. Honeyman talk. The topic which the speaker chose for her address was one of especial interest to the girls.

A bunch of angry Cuban baseball fans went to a Havana hotel with ropes prepared to lynch the American Empire, who a few hours before had rendered decisions on the diamond which the Cubans didn't like. The police had to be called.
