SUGAR CUT WON'T BE HEAVY

Senate Will Block Any Move of the House to Slash Tariff Deep

Too many senators, both Democrats and Republicans, oppose free sugar, or a reduction of more than one-third from existing rates, to permit any other form of final legislation. President-elect Wilson does not favor free sugar, but believes a small reduction in duties should be made. This could be later followed by another limited reduction, if the industry was able to stand the cut. The Progressives in the Senate will under no circumstances go below a rate of $1.55 1/2 per 100 pounds of refined sugar.

By C. S. ALBERT
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The suggestion that the next Congress should demonstrate in both branches, will pass a free sugar bill, is ridiculed by senators of all parties now sitting here. It is declared impossible to make effective the measure proposed last session by the House and Senate. The House removed the 20 percent duty on refined sugar, which was amended by the Senate to provide for a 25 percent decrease in rates.

Several Democratic members of Congress now here say the maximum reduction in sugar duties will be 33 1/3 percent. A few believe the lowering of duties as fixed by the Payne-Aldrich act will not exceed 25 percent. Too many senators, Democrats and Republicans, oppose free sugar, or a reduction of more than one-third from existing rates, to permit any other form of final legislation. The House would doubtless again pass the free sugar measure it brought before it, but the Senate would refuse to accept it and send it back with amendments.

President Taft's promise to send Governor Frear's resignation to the senate this winter is definite, even though it was made prior to the election. This is made certain from letters received by the Governor in the morning's mail from Secretary of the Interior Fisher, which letters were written after the election.

Secretary Fisher also wrote Territorial Secretary Mott-Smith, regretting that he was prevented, by Mott-Smith's evident desire to retire, from advising against the acceptance of the secretary's resignation. He realized he states, that after Mott-Smith's long and faithful public service he is entitled to return to private life and attend to his own affairs, that the public cannot demand further self-sacrifice on his part.

PRATT URGES GUARD HEALTH OF THIS PORT

Makes Report to Governor on Work Done at Washington Sanitation Congress

OPENING OF CANAL MAKES PROBLEM VITAL

Experts Recognized That Honolulu Should Have Rat-Proof Wharves

Rat-proofing of Honolulu's waterfront and eternal vigilance in keeping up the fight on mosquitos are urged by Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the Territorial Board of Health, in a long statement he made to Governor Frear yesterday as a report of the Fifteenth International Congress of Hygiene and Demography at Washington, D. C.

Dr. Pratt was chairman of the Territorial delegation which attended the Congress, the others being Dr. George W. McCoy, of the U. S. Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, and Dr. Hubert H. Wood, of Waialua.

In his report of the session, given in large part below, Dr. Pratt first explained that the Congress was the largest of its kind ever held, about 2500 delegates and members, from all parts of the world, being in attendance. President Taft delivered the opening address.

Taft pointed out that under the U. S. form of government each community has control of its own sanitary matters as long as they do not constitute a menace to other communities. He also spoke of the recent action of Congress in establishing a national bureau of health, and emphasized the wisdom of municipal, state and national governments making liberal, even generous provision of funds for the carrying out of work in the study of the means of preventing diseases, and for the general improvement of sanitary conditions.

Dr. Anderson and Goldberger of the U. S. Public Health Service showed that animals are occasionally temporarily immune to measles and typhus fever infections and later become again susceptible. These investigations also demonstrated that measles is infectious in the catarrhal stage.

Walter G. Smith, commander of the advance forces of the Hawaii Promotion Committee in the invasion of Canada, writes to Secretary Wood that after a little difficulty in passing the customs, he has successfully started his lecture campaign in the Canadian Northwest.

Colonel's Associate On Outlook Is Here; Talks On Big Political Aims

Noted Critic and Editorial Leader Spends Day in Honolulu

Theodore Roosevelt took the defeat administered his party at the last election like a big man. He believed that the Progressive cause had but just commenced to fight, and regarded the showing made as a triumph for that cause.

Doctor Hamilton Wright Mabie, associate editor of the Outlook Magazine, is an optimistic Progressive. When he arrived in port this morning on the T. K. K. liner, Chiyo Maru accompanied by his wife and daughter, all enroute to Japan, Dr. Mabie expressed himself regarding the prospects for the new party, and reaffirmed his confidence and trust in the man Roosevelt, in his capacity for leadership, in his patriotism and sincerity.

He said that the Progressive party is in the best of shape, and declared that while the hopes of the leaders of that party, prior to the last election had been high, the result so far as they were concerned had not surprised, and were going forward with the fight, for victory, unabated in courage and admiration.

"I have not seen Mr. Roosevelt since November 5 and can not say how he took the result of the election, but from what I know of the man and the politician, I am convinced that he took his defeat like a big man."

"In common with all the rest of us he believes that the Progressive party as such has but just commenced the fight, and I feel sure that he regarded the showing made as a triumph for the cause."

Willet & Gray, New York, make the following interesting and coming from such close students of the sugar outlook, important observations on the result of the elections, in their review of the raw sugar market under date of November 7:

"The week under review was interrupted by two important holidays, viz., the funeral of our late vice president of the United States and by the day set apart for the election of a president, vice president, governors of states, congressmen and mayors of cities. This election was certainly the most notable event of the week and year, for it has resulted in a complete overthrow of the old Republican party, which has ruled the country for the past sixteen years, now placing this power exclusively in the hands of the Democratic party after March 4, 1913."

DR. HAMILTON WRIGHT MABIE, Associate editor of The Outlook, noted critic and advocate of progressivism, who declares that Roosevelt will step down from leadership in the party if another proves able to take the place.

SCHOFIELD MACHINE GUNS SHOOT IN STERN REALISM

Ball Used in Problem Work Against Cardboard Soldiers and Artillery

(Star-Bulletin Staff Correspondence) SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Nov. 21.—Firing under the most unfavorable conditions, for machine guns, the three platoons at Schofield Barracks combined into one war-strength company, this morning demonstrated the great effectiveness of such an organization.

Had the stream of lead been directed at an actual enemy, advancing through Kolo Kolo pass, instead of at silhouette, cardboard targets the height of a kneeling marksman, a new line of defense for Schofield Barracks would have been effected.

Gen. Macomb, the department commander, was a close observer of the three problems worked out this morning, and expressed himself as greatly pleased with the success of the new theories of attack and defense which have been worked out by the war-strength company organized by Col. McQuinn.

Clinton J. Hutchins is the latest avowed candidate for Governor of the Territory of Hawaii to succeed Governor Frear when the Democratic administration assumes control. It was learned by today's mail that Hutchins who has made his residence in San Francisco for a number of years, has begun his active campaign and is already assured of the backing of the State Democratic committee of California. Mr. Hutchins' claim to the special consideration of the Democracy of the Nation is the strenuous work he did in California for Wilson and Marshall during the recent campaign.

COAST SUGARMEN VOTED FOR WILSON

"Everything is all right in San Francisco," said W. J. Dyer, manager of the Honolulu Iron Works, who returned in the Lurline last night. "They are not worrying over the Democrats over there. It was Republican votes that did the business in California. It was anything to beat Johnson with them. Even the men of San Francisco voted for Wilson. When some of them told me of their intention to vote for Wilson, I asked them what about sugar."
