Yuma Watanabe, a Japanese 17 years old was taken to the Queen's Hospital yesterday suffering from burns received while he was engaged in clearing off some land. He was burning off weeds and grass when the fire became beyond control, and in his endeavor to stop it his clothing caught fire. His hair was burned away and his body presented a terrible sight, the burns covering nearly all the body. He may not live.

With the view to beautifying the grounds of the new Library of Hawaii the Children Circle of the Kilauea Art League has been making a study of the situation in regard to the planting of lawns, shrubbery, and trees. Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., recommended that the iron fence and stone wall on the Punchbowl street side of the coming grounds be removed, thereby bringing the library grounds into the area of the public buildings already constructed.

In company with Mr. Burns, manager of the local Federal Telegraph company, Acting British Consul Harrington took a trip to Hoola yesterday, where he had a practical lesson in wireless telegraphy and talked through the air with Carnegie Ross, British consul general of San Francisco. Mr. Harrington is greatly enthused over the opening of the new day wireless, and expects that great things will be accomplished under the new Poulsen system.

Spanish immigrants who leave the Hawaiian Islands for California, where they expect to find plenty of easy work and money, do not meet with the great success they expect to on their arrival. It has been stated by the Spanish consul at San Francisco that many of the Spaniards who have left Hawaii for California are desirous of returning to the islands. The situation for them in California is not as bright as it is painted. Two Spaniards only have left Hawaii for the coast within the last two months.

ANGRY PAPA CAUSES BUMPS ON THE COURSE OF GIRL'S TRUE LOVE

A romance, which started on a steamer enroute from Japan to Honolulu, came to a rather sudden ending yesterday when Ordu, a young Japanese girl seventeen years old, was locked in the room of a Japanese hotel by an angry father and later taken aboard a steamer and sent to her home on Maui, all because of her wish to marry the Japanese boy whom she had met on the boat during her trip.

The young Japanese boy, whose parents had recently died here, was returning to Honolulu to claim the estate. On the steamer he made the acquaintance of Ordu, which resulted in a case of love at first sight. All went well until the girl met her parents on the shores of Honolulu. To them she broached the subject of her desire to marry the man of her choice. Her mother evidently favored the match but father refused to listen to it, as he said he had already picked out a husband for the girl, a man about fifty years old.

The girl was brought to Honolulu last week by her mother, and again she met the man of her choice, this time at the home of her aunt. On Monday, the stern parent entered the scene, and demanded of the girl that she stay away entirely from her lover. Just then calling upon a few friends to help him, he took her to the wharf and later put her aboard the steamer bound for her home in Maui.

WIRELESS LEAK; JOHNSON MAD

When the wireless operators stationed in the Oceanic liner Sonoma that arrived at Honolulu on October 24 caught from the air a message from the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina telling of much loss of deck cargo because of heavy seas, which for hours surged over the deep laden vessel, Captain Peter Johnson is alleged to have got exceedingly wroth.

Through the circulation of the story that over one hundred tons sand and salt had been washed overboard as well as some seventy five feet of rail, it is alleged that one or more wireless operators in the Wilhelmina have been let out, and that new men, who are better pledged to secrecy have been substituted.

In defense of the men who are declared to have incurred the displeasure of the veteran skipper in the Wilhelmina it is claimed that both the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria as well as the Oceanic Sonoma were in more or less constant touch with the Wilhelmina, then laboring through tremendous seas.

Whether a general shake up among wireless operators will follow is yet a matter of conjecture, though two new men in charge of the wireless office in the Ludline arrived at the port last night in that vessel.

BUSINESS ITEMS

Leon M. Straus this morning bought 200 shares of Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company at $1.35.

Centrifugals 96 test sugar remains at 4.05 in New York, according to last night's telegraph report.

Hawaiian stocks closed yesterday in San Francisco as follows: Hawaiian Commercial, 40 asked; Hawaiian Sugar, 30 bid; Honokaa, 10 asked; Hutchinson, 18.25 asked; Kilauea, 12 asked; Onomea, 35 asked; Paauhau, 20.50 asked; Honolulu Plantation, 25 asked.

Home politics as well as the Balkan war caused heaviness with irregularity on the New York stock exchange yesterday. Oil stocks were conspicuous for their activity and strength. Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and copper also were exceptions to the general reaction. Call money was in light demand and unchanged.

Among the army retirements for next year are those of Gen. Walter S. Schuyler, commanding the department of California, on April 26, and Chaplain Samuel H. Bell, First Field Artillery, Schofield Barracks, Nov. 15.

MORE PEOPLE FROM SPAIN

The board of immigration is planning to bring one or two more shiploads of immigrants from Spain, and is conferring with the Spanish consul over arrangements. It is said that transportation can now be obtained, which was impossible earlier this year in consequence of which Spaniards and Portuguese assembled at Gibraltar could not be brought out and had to be allowed to return to their homes. It is stated that Raymond C. Brown has been ordered from Russia to the south of Europe to attend to this matter. Dr. Victor S. Clark is on his way home from Russia, expecting to reach here in the Sonoma on December 23.

The consul has reported to the board on conditions he found in an inspection of conditions of the Spaniards on the plantations, making suggestions of various little changes to enhance their contentment. Accordingly recommendations will be made to the plantation managers, which it is expected will be carried out.

KEKAHA PLANTATION GETS WATER LICENSE EXTENDED

The Territorial government has granted a nextension of two and one-half years to the ditch and water license held by the Kekaha Plantation pany on Kauai, so that this license will expire seven and one-half years from the present time, or simultaneously with the reversion of the Kekaha plantation to the government.

The extension of the ditch and water license has been made on the understanding that the Kekaha plantation will construct a power plant and make other improvements reaching a total valuation of about $150,000, which shall come into the government's possession at the same time that the plantation land reverts to the Territory.

Governor Frear thinks this irrigation system will be worth about $400,000 by the time the license expires. The sale of the water to the plantation in the meantime also provides a definite revenue, so, taken collectively, the Chief Executive considers the deal highly satisfactory to the Territory.
