LURLINE IS OFF PORT 14 HOURS Big Liner Leaves Harbor for San Francisco but Suddenly Stops and Stays OIL-BURNING APPARATUS SAID CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Whispered Rumors Prove Untrue. No Signals of Distress Sent Up

A new oil-burning apparatus installed in the Mateon Navigation steamer Lurline, during the stay of the vessel in San Francisco is declared to be responsible for the delay of fourteen hours in the final departure of the vessel for San Francisco.

Overcoming some miles off the port, and in plain view of the beach rocks and residences, the Mateon Navigation liner provoked much conjecture when viewed with surprise at about this morning.

Captain Henry Weeden did not send signals of distress and for this reason his vessel was not visited by Federal quarantine or customs oficers during the time the vessel lay off the three mile limit of the port.

The Lurline's voyage from San Francisco to Honolulu, it is said, was possible in twelve with the oil-burning apparatus and her machinery. The vessel was halted on the outward voyage for some hours until temporary repairs could be effected.

Supervisor Low left the harbor at an early hour this morning his destination believed to have been the Lurline.

The Lurline left port at six o'clock last night and while between Diamond and Koko heads, lay there for fourteen hours. During this time many wild rumors as to trouble were circulated about town.

REPUBLICANS IN DOUBT AS TO FUTURE

Republican leaders in Honolulu are taking counsel today over so-called a problem that whether or not the party organization here shall be maintained for the next two years.

With the arrival of J. P. Cooke from the mainland, the shattered remnants of the organization which went down to glorious defeat in November 5, are being pulled together, and a conference was scheduled either for this afternoon or Friday to discuss whether the county committee shall disband or go ahead with its work of holding together the Republican organization here.

To keep up the Republican organization will require considerable monthly expenditure for office, clerk hire and other overhead charges. Moreover, it has been no secret that the county organization did not complete all of its campaign fund before election, and that several thousand dollars are still to be secured.

It will probably be some days before anything definite is settled.

TARIFF TO BE OVERHAULED SAYS TENNEY

Many Leading Democrats Take Stand for Free Sugar, He Adds FEARS A REDUCTION OF FIFTY PER CENT Others Dread the Complete Cutting off of the Present Duty

"The one thing certain is that the tariff is going to be overhauled from A to Z," is the opinion of E. D. Tenney, who returned yesterday morning from New York and San Francisco.

"You hear all sorts of statements from Democrats as to what reductions will be made, some even saying that the tariff will not be touched. There is no doubt, though, that there will be a general revision, and sugar is not likely to be an exception. Speaker Champ Clark and Chairman Henry of the rules committee have both come out for free sugar.

"Sugar is considerably in the limelight, I suppose on account of the high prices of the past year and the prominence given to it in Congress. Among sugar men the consensus of opinion is that there will be a reduction of the sugar duty not greater than down to a minimum of one cent a pound. Yet there are others who believe in a maximum reduction down to nothing. But I should judge that the weight of opinion of people in the trade is that the reduction will be fifty per cent.

"The refining interests are really not in favor of free sugar, although they have said that they were many times. What they want to see is a very large reduction but reciprocal relations to be continued with Cuba. The fact of the matter is that when it comes down to making a statement about the tariff on sugar, we do not know what will be done but we do know that the Democrats are going to the tariff hammer and tongs. But what the final tariff will be on any article is impossible to forecast."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY HAS 13 INDICTMENTS Thirteen indictments, none of a sensational character, are returned by the Federal grand jury in its partial report, submitted to the court this morning.

Lee Hin Jou, the Chinese, who shot a fellow countryman aboard the Korea on the night of October 17, is the only one accused of capital crime. He faces a charge of murder in the first degree. Norman B. Smith is made the subject of nearly half the entire number of indictments, five of a statutory nature in which the name of Lily Hookano, now his wife, is prominently mentioned, and the sixth is a charge of opium smuggling. This is the offense he was suspected of perpetrating at the time of last arrest, June 19.

Kostia Rostovitsky, the soldier apprehended a short time ago on a charge of burglarizing a building at Schofield Barracks, is formally accused of the offense. Leong Hing is accused of selling opium, Harada and George Watts face statutory charges; Pua Keawe is indicted for assault and battery on board the W. G. Hall on November 5, when he is alleged to have attacked Jacob Jensen, and Lau Duck is confronted by a charge of selling liquor without paying the special government tax.

Kings Who Have Risked Thrones On Victory Against The Turks

King Nicholas, of Montenegro, who is a dramatist, a poet, a journalist, a writer of prose romances, and an editor. He runs his own press bureau and telegraphs spirited dispatches to the Vienna dailies. He is deemed one of the ablest military commanders in Montenegro, a land in which all are trained to the army.

King George, of Greece, and King Nicholas, of Montenegro, have risked everything in their alliance with Serbia and Austria. Neither Greece nor Montenegro has as much to gain as the other two countries, both of which will profit hugely by a victory over the Turks. Greece will secure a little more territory, and Montenegro may perhaps share in an indemnity, but Bulgaria will take the lion's share of the spoils and Serbia will get most of the rest.

CHURCHES TO JOIN IN THANKSGIVING

Special Union Services to Be Held in Central Union—Schools to Celebrate the Day—Big Dinners Await the Hungry in Many Charitable Institutions

In celebration of Thanksgiving Day, special services will be held at many of the leading churches, schools, charitable institutions, and various other organizations throughout the city tomorrow morning. A few of the schools held their exercises this morning in order that the pupils would have the entire day tomorrow as a holiday. At the many charitable institutions no special service will be held but the usual big dinner will prove a welcome substitute.

CAPTAIN CASE TO SCHOFIELD MARINE WAR RISK DOUBLED

Captain D. B. Case, quartermaster corps, is to be the new post quartermaster at Schofield Barracks. Cabled orders to this effect arrived this morning, and as soon as General Macomb returns from the test ride now in progress, Captain Case will report to him for duty.

There has been much speculation as to which of the regular quartermaster officers now serving in the department would be assigned to the important Schofield Barracks duty, it being a foregone conclusion that a member of the corps would soon be placed in charge. Captain Case, who until the recent consolidation of the staff corps, was depot commissary, has seemed the logical appointee, being very close to his majority, if not already promoted.

He relieves Captain Benjamin H. Watkins, Second Infantry, who has been post quartermaster at Schofield for more than a year past. Recent changes in the regulations required Captain Watkins to resign as regimental quartermaster in order to hold the post position. He has been faced with some knotty problems of water supply and construction, and his administration has come in for universal commendation.

DREAD OF GENERAL WAR GROWS AGAIN

Frantic Effort On Part Of Dual Monarchy To Head Off Demonstration On Part Of Serbia Against Interests—Also Planning Attack Upon Belgrade If Found Necessary—Franz Josef Confers With Crown Prince And His War Lords—Turkey Sullen, Refuses To Meet Terms Of Peace, Counting Upon Uncertainties Of A General European Conflict To Hamper Allies In Their Attack

PARIS, France, Nov. 27.—Dispatches from semi-official sources this morning announce that Austria, determined to head off the Serbs, and to secure a port of entry on the Adriatic, has rushed a squadron of warships to the port of Durazzo, directly across the channel from the lower end of Italy. Serbia is ready to meet force with force, and is assembling its tiny fleet in preparation.

The Belgrade newspapers have joined in demanding that a large part of the troops on the frontier and in the front be recalled to meet the crisis that is now facing their country, and a threat on the part of the Dual Monarchy in the nature of an armed demonstration against the capital has added weight to their appeal, which the government, it is reported, is prepared to heed. Orders have already been issued to the Serbian commanders to detach troops from the main body and rush them back to Belgrade as speedily as possible. The Serbian reserves, already under arms, have been concentrated at central points and the railroads have been ordered to have everything in readiness to rush them to any place on the frontier where they may be needed.

EMPEROR TALKS TO WAR LORDS VIENNA, Austria, November 27.—Following the leaking out of the secret move on the part of the government here today in the dispatching of a squadron of war ships to take and hold a port on the Adriatic, the Emperor called for a conference with his ministers. The first to answer the call was the Crown Prince, who was closeted with the Emperor for an hour or more. After him came the chief of the army staff, and then the Minister of War, and the Hungarian Minister of National Defense. It is understood that the conference dealt with the uncompromising attitude on the part of the Serbs, and the understood attitude of the British Ministry.

HOPE IN PEACE CONFERENCE CONSTANTINOPLE, November 27.—The outer lines of defense are reported quiet this morning, all fighting having stopped since the opening of the peace negotiations. The opinion here, however, is steadily growing that the quiet is but a lull in the storm for the hope of ultimate peace, high when the conference began, is fading rapidly in the face of the attitude adopted by the Porte. It is felt that the government here is taking advantage of the dread uncertainty of a general European war, and the incidental hampering of the movements of the allied Balkan states to wrest better terms from them than it could otherwise expect. It is also the current belief among the well informed that the allies will not allow the danger of general hostilities to disturb their plans for a complete surrender of the Ottoman of all that he has held in Europe.

FAMINE AND FLOOD IN BESIEGED CITY CONSTANTINOPLE, November 27.—Fugitives from the army of Mustapha Pasha who have reached here after fleeing from Adrianople, bring hideous tales of the conditions in which the garrison of that city is fighting. Fire, famine and floods from the heavy autumn rains have added to the horror of war until the state of the defenders of the city is almost beyond belief. To make matters worse red anarchy has broken out among the inhabitants and the commander of the garrison has been compelled to resort to the sternest measures to suppress the outbreaks of the nihilists.

GREEKS ROUT TURKISH COLUMN SALONIKI, November 27.—A Greek army routed and almost destroyed a retreating column of Turks last night according to dispatches received here this morning. The engagement took place in the neighborhood of Monastir. The Turks lost more than 2000 men in killed and wounded.

ASSOCIATED OIL REFUSED SOLE USE OF LINE

Board of Harbor Commissioners Acts on Attorney-General's Advice

The Associated Oil Company can have no contract guaranteeing it the sole use of the fuel oil pipe line. This is the verdict of the board of harbor commissioners, handed to Manager Buck following the verbal opinion given by Attorney General Lindsay a week ago on the subject.
