COMMISSION TO GO AHEAD ON SCHOOL BLDGS.

It was decided by the Loan Fund Commission at a meeting this morning to go ahead with the building of the Kalia schoolhouse for which $200,000 is appropriated. Bids will be invited next week for the work.

Governor Frear was consulted by telephone to ascertain if a road proposition related to this school was valid and he replied that all was right and the commission might proceed with the building.

Land Commissioner Tucker was reported as saying that no doubt negotiations for the site for the proposed Kalia schoolhouse would be satisfactorily concluded.

Mr. Fern expressed a fear that trains would disturb the school on the proposed site, it being near the railway.

Mr. Fern said most of the people of Kalia Camp had been driven out by the Board of Health. He thought the noise of trains would be so brief as not to amount to a serious disturbance.

Chairman Adams did not regard either objection as sufficient reason for rejecting the site. There was no doubt the place around the school would build up.

No further action was taken.

A new courthouse, jail and jailor's cottage at Waiakoa on the site of the present buildings, and a similar group of buildings at Ewa, for which a new site has to be bought, were considered together.

Mr. Fern made the suggestion, which was entertained by the other commissioners, that the material in the old courthouse might be utilized in building the jailor's cottage.

There is $5000 appropriated for the Waiakoa structures, and $10,000 for the Ewa, including the site.

Mr. Johnson reported on the Ewa site, saying four lots were available but advised that a fifth be bought also, which would make the site 22 1/2 feet square, fronting on the main Ewa road. The entire cost would not exceed $7500.

Messrs. Fern, Petrie and Johnson were appointed to attend further to the matter and report back to the commission.

On motion of Mr. Petrie, it was voted to employ Emory & Webb, architects, to draw plans and specifications for both sets of buildings.

It was reported that the Pohukaina schoolhouse was finished but not yet accepted, although the members were satisfied that a good job had been done.

Mr. Fern promised to have data on School street extension completed for next meeting. Cecil Brown and Abraham Fernandez were the only ones holding out for better terms than were offered. Replying to a suggestion by the chairman, that condemnation proceedings be taken at once, Mr. Fern advised waiting for the outcome of pending negotiations.

Mr. Adams made the remark that the figures given amounted to nearly one-third of the appropriation of $10,000 for the work.

"People are very eager to get roads, but they don't want to pay for them," Mr. Fern observed.

"Prog lane!" laconically exclaimed the chairman.

A resolution bearing on No. 1 contract of the belt road, to adjust the work to the money available, was at Mr. Fern's request deferred till next meeting.

POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

With what his friends considered an excellent chance of beating Kuhl for Delegate, Link McCandless, blundering around like the proverbial bull in a china shop, has essayed to drive a nail into his own political coffin by denouncing Jim Coke's candidacy for the Senate in scathing terms and declaring that he would not permit Coke to appear on the Democratic ticket under any conditions. "I'll fight Coke to the end if I lose," McCandless is reported to have said.

Now, it appears that Coke is not a heavy loser for any political boss, that, in fact, he holds the Democratic party on Maui in his vest pocket, and that his friends on Oahu number more than a century's command consequently, the advisers of McCandless are aggrieved at the lack of tact and diplomacy shown by their leader and are pleading with him earnestly to leave Oahu and go to some other island, there to stay until the conventions are over. Otherwise they fear he will take another slam at his hitherto bright prospects.

Because of the statements credited to prominent members of the anti-Jarrett faction that they will enroll themselves as members of the Republican party if Jarrett is nominated to succeed himself, a movement is on foot in the various precinct clubs where the Jarrett forces are in control, to anticipate the threat of the Antis and read them out of the Democratic party before the conventions.

The plans for the wholesale ousting are being considered secretly, it is said, but there is every indication that they will be carried out. Jarrett is strong in the majority of the precinct clubs, and so wide is the chasm between the two factions, and so bitter the feeling, that it is believed the proposal to cast the Antis into outer darkness will receive hearty approval.

(Translated from "Ka Hoku O Hawaii.")

The voters of Kauai, Hawaii, are opposed to Senator Makiaki, because he turned his back to them and supported Frear, who did not vote for him.

"Had it not been for Prince Kuhio, our homesteads would have been sold at auction, the same as those lands on Punchbowl, whose owners shed tears, as they left them and went to other places," is said to be one statement given much emphasis.

D. Kamaokalani Sr., and S. K. Mahoe, Home Rule leaders, and Levi Kauai, Progressive, called in the Kuhiu Headquarters yesterday and had a large conference with secretary Ha Kooie.

Registration of voters is proceeding briskly these days, as the time for closing the great register approaches. By noon today the 5000 mark was passed, leaving a matter of about 2100 of the free and enlightened still to be corralled.

Rumor has it, that certain persons claiming to represent the "Business Men," recently called on the Kuhio leaders and proposed that the name of Charles Hustace, Jr., as "Business Men's" candidate for mayor be ratified by the Kuhio people and that in return the "Business Men" would drop the fight against Kuhio.

The rumor finds no authentication either among the Kuhio forces or the mysterious "Business Men."

Charles Costa, inspector in the garbage department has been selected by the Kuhioites to run for sheriff against Jarrett. This is declared to be the final unalterable selection and John Lan's candidacy has been zrighted accordingly.

It is understood an effort was made to induce Andrew Cox to jump into the arena again, but he replied "Once is enough," and waived aside the proffered honor with more emphasis than dignity.

That's It!

HOME RULERS MAKE COMMISSION GOVERNMENT PLATFORM ISSUE

Charles K. Notley, Home Rule leader, and aspirant for Delegate to Congress on the Home Rule ticket, is opposed to the introduction in Hawaii of the commission or military form of government.

Notley, who will unquestionably receive the nomination of his party for Delegate to Congress, according to the Kuokoa Home Rule, is determined to fight against such government.

The Home Rule platform, which is being drafted by the executive committee, will be introduced in the Home Rule Territorial convention, which meets on the seventeenth of this month in Notley Hall.

In its editorial of last month, the Home Rule organ intimates that Link McCandless, who received the unanimous endorsement of his party for Delegate to Congress, was conspicuously silent as to the commission or military government for Hawaii. The Home Rule leaders therefore believe that McCandless would be a dangerous man for the voters of Hawaii to support for Delegate to Congress.

Acting on that belief, they are now advocating the Hawaiian voters to vote for Notley (Kahiliulani) as their next representative in Congress.

The editorial also mentions the fact that in his speech at Aala Park on the night of August 22, Delegate Kuhio stated that the commission or military form of government was at hand, but added that as long as he is Hawaii's Delegate to Congress he will fight against it.

According to a Home Rule leader, the platform under which Notley will run at the coming campaign will include a clause pertaining to the laws of the Territory.

ers present took leave of Chairman Adams, with cordial wishes for a pleasant journey and safe return, as he is leaving tonight for a tour abroad which will occupy three months.

Those in attendance were Chairman Andrew Adams, Secretary T. H. Petrie and Mayor J. J. Fern, members, and H. Stuart Johnson, consulting engineer.

M. S. Pacheco is the Portuguese candidate for supervisor and there is no doubt but that he will make a very strong fight and has every chance of being elected. He missed by a few votes last election and it is understood this year that he has the labor union behind him as well as the Portuguese vote. If this is so, then it is very hard to see where David Ewaliko gets off. As usual, David is trying for election as supervisor and will naturally enough want the votes of the labor union behind him. This puts the union in rather a tight corner, as there will be Kealoha, Ewaliko and Pacheco to choose from. At the present time it looks as though Kealoha and Pacheco are standing the best chances, although it is impossible to say anything definite, as all the work is being done underground, and it is only now and then that an occasional glimpse can be obtained.

COL. KNOX SHARPENS KNIFE FOR MAHELONA

Col. Knox of the fighting ninth of the fifth district, is sharpening his political knife nowadays with a view to fighting Solomon Mahelona, who has been prominent in precinct politics for many years.

Knox, attired in white, was at the fishmarket this morning advising his friends to vote against Mahelona, who he said is losing his political influence in his own precinct.

"Mahelona thinks he can control the situation in his precinct now," said Knox, "but let me tell you," he added, "that Mahelona is no longer considered boss in his precinct. "Everybody knows me," continued Knox, "and they are now willing to back me up in my fight against Mahelona," concluded Knox.

Knox is angry at Mahelona because he was not selected as one of the delegates to the county convention. Knox and his friends are now trying their best to defeat Mahelona, not only in the convention, but in the general election in November.

HAWAII COUNTY POLITICS BUZZ

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

HLO, September 2.—Although on the surface matters political are quiet there are very fierce fires burning down below and every candidate for nomination at the county convention is working his hardest to make sure of his nomination.

One of the features of the local political game this year is whether or not John Kealoha, the road supervisor, can hold enough of his road laborers in line to make certain of his nomination as supervisor. At the present time he is confident that he can do so, but whether he will or not remains to be seen.

He certainly has a very strong organization, if any weight can be given the way in which he has controlled everything at Waiakoa up to the present time.

Supervisor Austin states that if he is elected he will take the job again but that he is not going to fight for it. His name will be one of those which will go before the county convention, however, and it is generally thought that Austin will fight in spite of the denials he makes to the contrary.

M. S. Pacheco is the Portuguese candidate for supervisor and there is no doubt but that he will make a very strong fight and has every chance of being elected. He missed by a few votes last election and it is understood this year that he has the labor union behind him as well as the Portuguese vote. If this is so, then it is very hard to see where David Ewaliko gets off. As usual, David is trying for election as supervisor and will naturally enough want the votes of the labor union behind him. MINE HOST KIMBALL MAY BE IN POLITICS

Clifford Kimball, manager of the Haleiwa Hotel, is a candidate for supervisor, according to William E. Rathburn, who came to town this morning from Kahuku.

Kimball, said Rathburn today, when discussing the political situation with W. C. Achi, John H. Wise and George Davis, agreed to run for supervisor from the Fifth District if nominated by his friends in the county convention.

Rathburn added that Kimball would be a good man for supervisor. Achi agreed to support Kimball if he was nominated for supervisory honors, but John Wise, who was present, did not express his opinion about the hotel manager.

When the name of Kimball was mentioned as a supervisory aspirant, some Hawaiians at the fishmarket said they would not support him, because of his business connection with the Oahu Railway & Land Co.
