

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." John J. Laffey, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.
"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." Edwin F. Parker, M. D., New York City.
"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." Victor H. Coffman, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

13'S AND RAILROAD LAW ARE COUPLED IN SUIT FOR KILLING

Russian Woman Wants $6000 for Death of Husband Under Train

Coupling a remarkable combination of the "hoodoo" letter, 13, with a subject that has been under the investigation of Secretary of the Interior Fisher during his probe of Hawaiian conditions, there was a damage suit filed this morning in Circuit Judge Cooper's court which will bring to the test one of the so-called railroad laws of the Territory.

It is a suit of Tetana Kovner, a Russian woman, against the Oahu Railway & Land Company for $6,000 damages for the death of the woman's husband, Fred Kovner, a Russian, who was killed early last month on the railroad tracks near the station here.

Here is the combination of thirteens: Kovner was killed on Friday, the 13th of September, by Freight Train No. 13. This suit will probably be heard at a term opening on January 13, 1913.

Of more serious import, however, is the fact that this suit involves Act 141 of the last legislature, the act which specifically exempts owners or operators of railroads in Hawaii from being liable in damages for the death or injury of any person killed while walking on or being upon the rights-of-way of the road.

This law has been looked into by Secretary Fisher. In fact, no longer ago than yesterday it was gone into at the hearing. Several facts were brought out or alleged which Fisher asked to have explained more thoroughly.

In the complaint filed this morning by the widow, it is alleged that while Kovner was going to his work at the Hawaiian Pineapple canneries between six and seven o'clock in the morning, along the tracks of the railroad, he was run down by the train, and carelessness and negligence on the part of the train crew is alleged. It is alleged that the tracks have been and are used by many persons working at the pineapple canneries, and that the railroad operates trains carelessly in spite of the known fact that people might be on the track. It is stated that in front of the train that ran down Kovner were four or more freight cars, so attached that a proper lookout ahead could not be kept. It is further alleged that the tracks and right-of-way of the company are not fenced, as required by law.

The suit filed this morning, it was stated today, will be followed by another suit filed by the mother on behalf of the Russian's baby daughter, for damages in a like amount. Judge R. P. Quarles' and M. Lono Heen are the attorneys for the man's widow and are handling the case.

SOCIALISTS NAME TICKET BY BALLOT

- For Delegate to Congress—Byron O. Clark.
- For Representative Fourth District—Henry Clay Holt.
- For Representative Fifth District—Henry Andrews.

This is the ticket of the Socialist party of Hawaii for the few offices that it intends to contest on this island.

A candidate for Senator has also been selected by the local club's primary, but he lives on the other side of the island and his acceptance had not been received up till noon today.

"Of course, I do not expect to be elected," said Mr. Clark when seen this morning. "We are offering a partial ticket merely as a protest against the way the old parties are running things."

Mr. Holt spoke to like effect. He handed the reporter a copy of the platform, which speaks for itself as a protest.

Mr. Clark is one of the best known residents of Hawaii, having been one of the original colonists from California who started farming at Wahiawa. He was the commissioner of agriculture of the Republic of Hawaii for some time, and is now manager of the Pineapple Sales Co.'s pineapple farm and factory.

Mr. Holt is a clerk in the O. R. & L. Co.'s freight house.

Mr. Andrews is a carpenter at Moanalua.

There are more than forty members in the local Socialist club, that holds meetings for discussion on Sunday evenings.

DYNAMITE CASES

New York in April, 1910, he gave explicit instructions as to how and where the dynamites should operate and named them in the letter.

U. S. Has Records.

How well and expeditiously these jobs were handled the government will show from the records in its possession and from the testimony of contractors. It will be shown that the McClintock & Marshall works at Mount Vernon were dynamited on the night of April 19; that the Havensport works, under construction by the same company, were wrecked June 4; that work at Peoria was dynamited the same night; that a Cleveland job was dynamited on June 22; that a Pittsburg job, for which Leggettner was selected, as it was in his home city, was dynamited on the night of July 15, and that a bridge at Kansas City, which the McClintock & Marshall Company was constructing, was dynamited on August 23.

As Hocking, a board member at the time and now acting secretary, was, according to the letters, most active among the dynamiters, with the possible exception of Ortie McManigal, he would naturally be expected to figure largely in the correspondence. In addition to this, he is often referred to in letters to other members, and always as the man who was very busy or who would be sent to look after certain work.

A letter which recalls the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building is from O. A. Tveitmo, enclosing a check for $300 "for money advanced." The letter expresses the hope that Santa Claus would be as generous with surprises as he had been in the Golden State, and it is said the reference here is to the dynamiting of the Times building, in which so many lives were sacrificed. Letters, nearly 200 of which are in possession of the government, are from or about all the men indicted, and the government is able, it is said, to trace practically every job of dynamiting to a connection with them.

The University of California was left $100,000 in the will of Mrs. Carrie Jones of Los Angeles.

Legal measures to stop horse racing in Maryland have been urged by the governor of the State.

FISHER'S FUNNY STORY IS PAT ON HAWAII

Narrating a little story wherein he implied that the men of Hawaii are inclined to give too much attention to the things that are past and not enough to the remedying of present conditions and preparing for the future, Secretary of the Interior Walter L. Fisher brought to a close a brief talk before the business men of Honolulu at the Commercial Club's luncheon in his honor at noon today.

The story Fisher told was this: "An old darky down south, following in his master's footsteps, had for many years been attending the Episcopal church and naturally, being a darky, was very devout and constant in attendance. Finally, however, to the surprise of his friends, he switched over to the Methodist church, and adopted that as his particular religion."

"His friends protested and questioned him. 'Ain't t he old church good enough for you any more?' they asked."

"Dat' Episcopal church ain't much good no more. I figgers dis way. Dey spends entirely too much time to de readin' of de minutes of de las' meetin', and not enough to new business."

He spoke for less than half an hour, yet during that time he held his audience with closest attention to one of the best lectures on a political topic that has ever been heard in the Territory. The address was full of meat, of sound advice and suggestion, yet interspersed with a seemingly exhaustless fund of humorous stories which never failed to point the idea the speaker sought to impress upon his hearers.

His mention of Territorial affairs was only in the last few sentences. Most of his time was given to a discussion of municipal citizenship, consisting largely of a history of the workings of the Municipal Voters' League of Chicago, which Mr. Fisher aided in organizing in 1896, of which he was the president for several years and which has controlled municipal politics and affairs in the Windy City for the last ten years.

The League has been the outgrowth of his own ideas, to a great extent, and he declared it to be probably the most unique political organization in the United States. He asserted it is founded on the principle of individual citizenship, without party or creed other than the greatest good of the city as a whole. In the course of his talk he declared citizenship means that every individual shall assume the responsibility of studying conditions and of deciding for himself the men most suitable and suited for the public offices.

He said it is not necessary for a man to seek office to do the greatest good for his city or country; that he himself is holding only his second political office of his long career, his first being a two-year term as assistant in the city attorney's office when he first began the practise of law in Chicago.

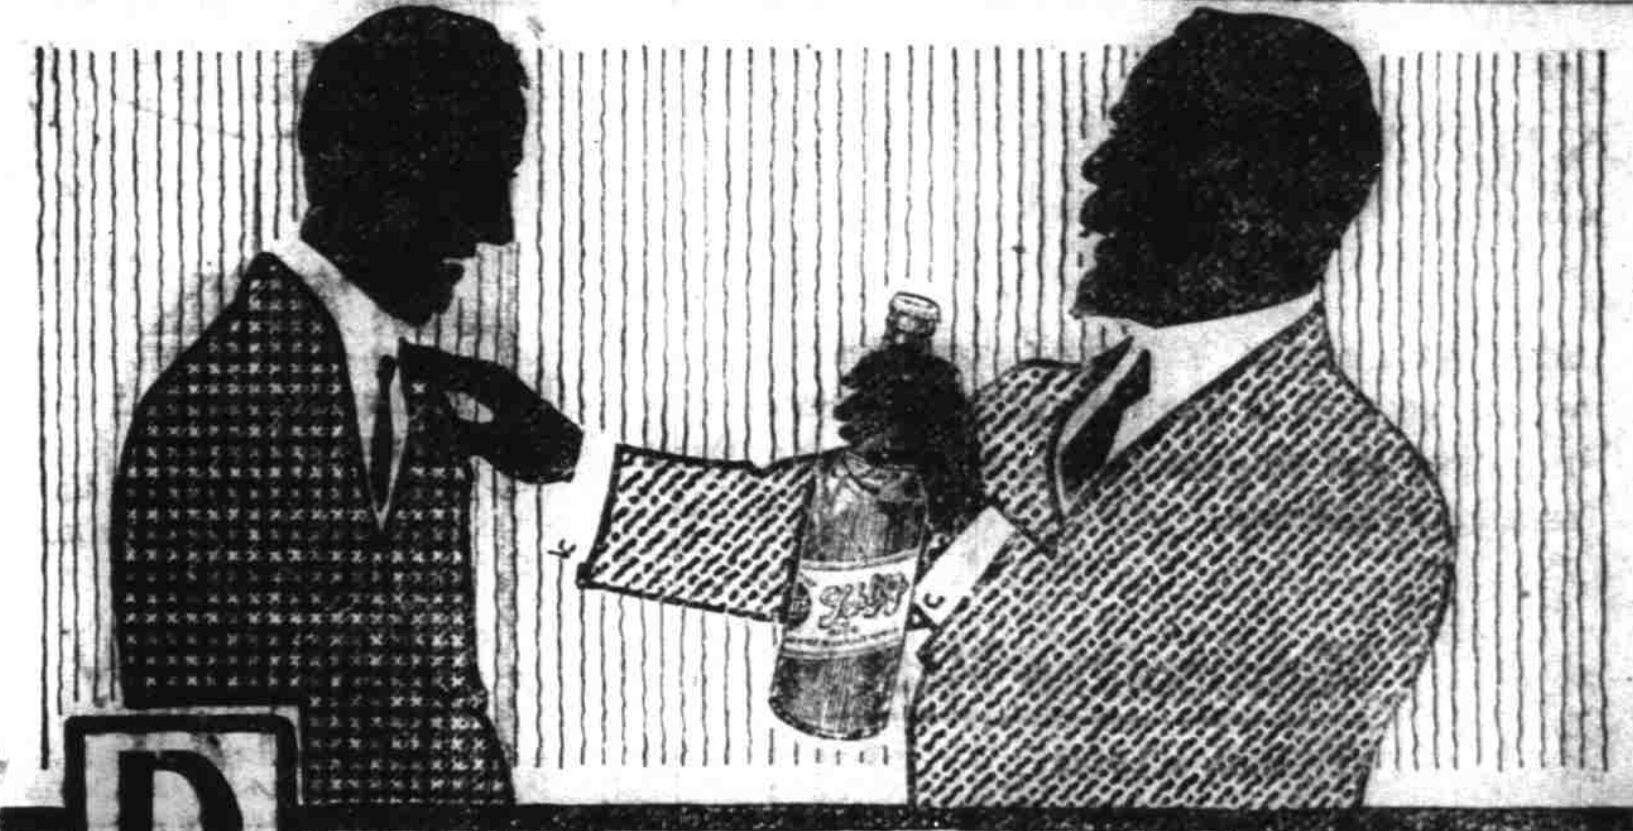

HILO, Sept. 30.—The erstwhile "boy orator" of Honolulu has issued the following card here:

"Owing to rumors being circulated around town that I have withdrawn as a candidate for county clerk in and for the County of Hawaii, I wish to state that my name will never be withdrawn from the race. I am in this fight to win."

"BERNARD H. KELEKOLIO."

J. M. Poepe and J. S. Kalakiela, candidates for representatives on the Democratic ticket, will withdraw their candidacy, according to their friends, who claim to know their political situation.

Col. Henry Casson, for many years sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, has just died at Madison, Wis.

Pure Beer Will Not make You Bilious

We go to Bohemia for hops; one of our partners selects the barley; water is brought from rock 1400 feet under the ground.

Not only is Schlitz—every drop of it—filtered through white wood pulp, but even the air in which it is cooled is filtered.

Before it is offered to you it is aged for months in glass enameled tanks. It will not, it cannot cause biliousness. It will not ferment in your stomach.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. The Brown Bottle protects Schlitz purity from the brewery to your glass.

More and more people every year are demanding Schlitz. Why don't you demand this pure beer?

RAILROAD AND AUTO CO. WAR FOR TOURISTS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] HILO, Sept. 30.—Competitive war for the tourist traffic to the volcano has broken out between the Hilo Railroad Company and the Volcano Stables Company. The latter it is understood has engaged the services of W. H. C. Campbell late manager of the Hawaii Mill who will go to Honolulu to represent the Volcano Stables Company and book every tourist he can lay hands on, through this company.

It is understood that Mr. Campbell will have his desk in the rooms of the Promotion Committee and through this point of vantage will endeavor to interest every tourist that comes to Honolulu in the care of the Volcano Stables and induce them to use the automobiles of the company to visit the various points of interest about the island.

At the Promotion Committee rooms it was stated this morning that Mr. Campbell was expected to occupy a desk there within the next two or three days.
