SECOND GOODSON RECITAL TONIGHT FEATURES CHOPIN

Tonight at Mission Memorial Hall Katharine Goodson, the noted English pianist, will appear for her farewell recital in this city. The recital will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Great interest is being taken by the musical and artistic folk of the city. The program is being presented under the patronage of the women of the Morning Music club. Artistic decorations will adorn the platform and congenial parties are planning to attend. This is to be a Chopin evening and a program is offered by Miss Goodson that cannot fail to delight all music lovers. Tickets can be procured at the door, there being no reserved seats.

The gifted artist has carried her skill around the world, delighting thousands with her marvelous mastery of the mechanism of the piano-forte and her artistic interpretation. She combines the masculine virility and power of execution with the charm and delicacy of a woman, causing her to be best known as "the poet of the piano-forte."

Full of temperament, with a faultless technique, and a stage presence combining dignity and simple, womanly charm, the musician has won the plaudits of critics in Europe, America and Australasia.

The opportunity to hear Miss Goodson tonight should not be missed. Her program will be as follows:

1. Berceuse
Prelude C major
Prelude F major
Fantasia F minor
2. Five Studies
From Op. 10 in A flat
From Op. 10 in F minor
From Op. 10 in F major

Polonaise Op. 34

FINE LOT OF IRISH POTATOES ON KAUAI

There are 1000 bags of "Murphy's" on Kauai.

Supt. A. T. Longley of the territorial marketing division received this information by mail from the Garden Island, and is writing for information on the quality of the "spuds."

Longley says this amount is the largest ever coming from the Garden Island. He hopes they are first class potatoes, because if they are the division will be able to compete in supplying potatoes to the supplies division, quartermaster corps, of the Hawaiian Department, for feeding the soldier boys on this island.

There are quite a few bags of island grown Irish potatoes in the market now. Quality is not quite so good as a year ago. Longley asks Honolulu to insist on island grown potatoes. If they cannot get them from their growers he will furnish a supply.

ENJOYABLE PARTY IS GIVEN BY SINCLAIRS

Dr. and Mrs. Archibald N. Sinclair, of 1226 Kinau street, entertained a number of their friends last night with an informal party at their home, followed by a dance at the Country Club. At the house the program consisted of various stunts, each guest contributing one number to the entertainment. After this, automobiles carried the guests to the club, where dancing was enjoyed, followed by refreshments at the Young Hotel.

MILLS HONOR ROLL

Three honor rolls were announced in the chapel at Mills School, Manoa, yesterday, the students on the roll for the year being August Punki, '17; Henry Lee, '18; Tsumika Maneki, '18; Park Pum Koo, '18; K. EIGHT GET BRIDES WITH ONE STORY

THREE BROTHERS, Ark.—A year ago 23 bachelors lived in single solitude on homesteads around this place. They came from all parts of the country, most of them from cities, where they had been mechanics. There are only 15 bachelors now, and like the 18 little Indians, from the present outlook there soon will be none.

A little publically did the trick. An article in a local paper published a year ago to the effect that the 23 were longing for mates, was copied broadcast and still is traveling. Letters arrive every day from some splinter addressed to Abner Deatherage, the postmaster, who hands them out to the eligibles.

Eight have secured their brides through the power of the press. The remaining 15 are Johnny on the spot every time the mail comes in. It is a kind of matrimonial lottery for them; they take turns at the letters. The postmaster plays no favorites. If several letters come, those whose turn it is draw straws or flip a dime for first choice. It is a game that breaks the monotony of grubbing stumps or making rails in the clearing. The 15 left are no pikers. They are playing the game like 15 Beau Brummels, and each one expects to land by fall.

KAIULANI SCHOOL WILL HOLD FAIR

Kaulani school is planning a fair some day next week, the exact date to be announced later. Teachers and pupils are hard at work getting up the exhibits, which will be of a useful as well as attractive nature. The girls will show samples of sewing and cooking, and the boys will display the products of their carpentry.

Kaulani is planning to create a "revolving fund" to take care of needed school improvements and facilities, and the sale of articles at the fair will help to realize this. It is planned to have a lawn party fair, and as Kaulani school has especially beautiful grounds, large crowds of visitors can be comfortably cared for.

WANTS PARK POSITIONS ESTABLISHED BY LAW

Because the positions of park superintendent and superintendent of Kapiolani park and the public baths have never been fixed by law, Ben Hollinger took time by the forelock last evening and introduced two resolutions establishing these positions. The resolutions passed on first reading and were ordered printed.

Ben Hollinger, chairman of schools, playgrounds and parks committee, said that unless the positions were fixed by law, Mayor-Elect Fern might declare both positions vacant and refuse to appoint any one to them.

Anzac memorial services were celebrated in the Australian churches on Sunday. An open-air service held on the Melbourne cricket grounds was attended by 15,000 people.

The State Senate Judiciary Committee voted to report favorably the Salter bill, designed to repeal the Frauley law, regulating public boxing contests. The vote was 7 to 3.

ELECTIONS IN ISLANDS BRING OUT SMALL VOTE

Only one new member, A. A. Akina, Republican, was elected to the board of supervisors of Hawaii county at the general election on the Big Island yesterday. With one exception—Julian Yates, non-partisan and a member of the old board—the new board will be Republican.

On Maui there was no general election as all contests had been decided at the primary election May 19. There is, however, a dispute between T. H. Lyons, Democrat, and Uahinu, Republican, for supervisor which may be taken to the supreme court.

Results in brief for the Hawaii election are: Samuel Kaulane, 1795, elected supervisor-at-large and chairman of the board, defeating David Ewaliko, Democrat.

East Hawaii—Puna, South and North Hilo and Hamakua. Eugene H. Lyman, 1092; Antonio M. Cabrinhha, 1053, and William A. Todd, Sr., 1003.

West Hawaii—Kau, South and North Kona and South and North Kohala: Julian Yates, 869 (formerly a representative) defeated Robert K. Naipo, a Republican member of the present board, James Ako, 713, and A. A. Akina, 648.

Other defeated candidates include Charles J. Moore and Benjamin Rose, Democrats from East Hawaii, and William M. Kalaiwaa and George Apeia, Democrats from West Hawaii. Over 3100 votes were cast and the supervisors' close race kept the election spirit at a high pitch. The new board meets July 2.

RESULTS ON KAUAI

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.) LIHUE, Kauai, June 12.—Election day passed quietly on Kauai with little or no interest on account of the decisive vote cast at the primaries. About 40 votes were cast for the unopposed candidates, C. A. Maser, auditor, and J. M. Kaneakua, county clerk, at Lihue, when the nominal vote is about 250.

In the Kawaihou district the Republican candidate, Joe Bettencourt, was conceded an easy victory over Hanohano, the Democratic nominee. This was the only contest on this island.

The ROYAL Typewriter and the Road of Anthracite

THE Lackawanna Railroad recently spent $12,000,000 constructing the great Tunkhannock Viaduct, the largest concrete bridge in the world. This "Ninth Wonder of the World" shortens the distance only 3.6 miles, but it means economy, efficiency—"good railroading." In accordance with these high business standards, Lackawanna correspondence, tabulations and records are written on

ROYAL STANDARD TYPEWRITERS

They satisfy the Lackawanna. They are "good railroading"—good business. Thorough tests demonstrate to big business that the Royal is the one typewriter which combines best work with longest life.

Royals reduce operating costs because they are built to last longer to operate faster and more neatly than any other typewriter. A test will convince you. Write or phone us for a demonstration.
