AMATEUR PLEADER APPEARS IN COURT

Extrajudicial Testimony of McCarthy's Good Character.

M. E. LENNON DISBARRED BY SUPREME COURT

Neglectful Lawyers Scored—Judge Little Will Hold Special Term—Mr. Silliman Begins Speech.

M. E. Lennon, admitted to practice law in the courts of this Territory last year, was disbarred by the Supreme Court this morning.

Judge Gear this morning overruled the plea of "once in jeopardy" made by Mr. Blitting on behalf of William McCarthy, wife-beater and biter.

Instead of obeying, the stranger turned around and affectionately pressed the beefy hands of McCarthy, while muttering words of love into his ear.

"My name is George Uphalson. I know Mr. McCarthy a long time. He is a good man. I can swear McCarthy has a good moral character."

"Are you under arrest?" sternly inquired the Court.

Deputy Attorney General Cathcart twitted Mr. Blitting about "one of his witnesses getting loose," but the defendant's attorney disclaimed all relations with the interloper.

Before drawing a jury for McCarthy's trial, an attempt was made to arrange for the next case. Two negroes were upon the prisoner's bench awaiting their turn, but a note had been received by the Court saying their attorney was in bed.

Judge Little has obtained the consent of the Chief Justice to the holding

This is a game given by the Oahu Polo Club for the benefit of the McKinley Memorial Fund. Tickets are 50 cents each.

RECRUITS AT TARGETS

MEN OF 15TH INFANTRY AT CAMP MCKINLEY

Received Their First Lessons With Rifle and Did Good Work—Lieut. Watkins in Command.

A squad of some forty men from the 15th Infantry under command of Lieut. Watkins, went out to the Camp McKinley butts on the slopes of Punchbowl yesterday forenoon and spent the day in firing at the "man" targets which are kept there at all times for the Camp McKinley men.

The men were first made to fire from the hundred yard line and later retreated beyond the road to the two hundred yard line. Some excellent work was done considering the fact that the men are only raw recruits, some of whom had never before handled a gun.

Excellent work was also done at the two hundred yard line. Taylor, the man who made a twenty-three at the hundred yard line making twenty-four.

In the afternoon, Captain Smiley went out to where the men were shooting and, after watching a short time, expressed himself as very much pleased with the work of the men. He said that he had sent the recruits out in order that they might learn to handle their rifles thus giving them confidence should they be called upon to do active work soon after their arrival in Manila.

Captain Smiley had with him one of the new German magazine revolvers with which the German army is now equipped and with this he tried a number of shots at the "man" targets. Of course, the distance was too great for the smaller weapon at two hundred yards but the captain succeeded in making line shots right along. He had with him three makes of cartridges, two being German and one American.

As it was the first time the captain had ever used the new revolver he tried one of the mushroom bullets which at twenty paces, pierced a hard piece of wood to the distance of two inches, flattening out and tearing a great hole.

A thousand of these new automatic revolvers were sent out to Manila a short time ago and are probably now in use by the officers. Should they prove efficient, more will be sent out and they will be distributed generally among the officers on duty there.

IREDALE DESERTER MAY BE DEAD MAN

Sailor Arthur Bloomfield Is Unaccounted For Still.

BULLETIN'S THEORY MAY BE CORRECT

Missing Man Is Not Working in the Country—What a Seaman Says—Police are Working.

A sailor who left port this morning aboard the British ship Peter Iredale for Royal Roads, giving his name as Harry Beck, and who signed articles on the Iredale through local shipping masters, informed a Bulletin reporter just before the vessel sailed that he had met the man found dead in the Warren harbor near the stern of the Warren the other day, on several occasions in this city during the last few days.

Beck said he recognized his acquaintance from the description of the dead man given in the newspapers. He had not reported the matter to the police, he said, for the reason that he did not believe his knowledge of the case amounted to much and he did not want to run the risk of being detained as a witness.

He said he had met the man, now dead, in the office of Lewis & Turk while he was waiting to secure a ship. He did not know his name, but was sure it was the man now dead.

When asked if the dead man was Arthur Bloomfield, a deserter from the Iredale, as was shown to very possibly be the case in yesterday's Bulletin, the man who called himself Harry Beck said that he might have been for all he knew, for Beck only shipped on the Iredale three or four days ago and Bloomfield deserted two weeks ago.

When this sailor was asked to consider the description of the dead man and that of Arthur Bloomfield and the man Beck said he met in the office of Lewis & Turk, he declared that they were identical, except that he failed to notice an amethyst ring on the man he had seen in the shipping office.

Beck declared he knew nothing else concerning the man who called himself Harry Beck except that he seemed to be hard up, as he asked him for ten cents to get a plug of tobacco. This he says, was over a week ago.

It is said that a man in the employ of the custom house was able to say who the dead man was. He will call at the police station this afternoon and confer with the authorities.

It has been learned almost to a certainty that Arthur Bloomfield, who deserted the Iredale, is not "working in the country" and, as exclusively stated in yesterday's Bulletin, Arthur Bloomfield is still to be accounted for.

PEREMPTORY ORDERS

A letter has been filed in court signed by Judge Humphreys and addressed to W. F. Allen, S. M. Damon, W. O. Smith, J. O. Carter and A. W. Carter, trustees of the C. R. Bishop Trust, saying:

ASSOCIATION BALL FOR MCKINLEY FUND

Arrangements are at present being made for a game of Association football to be played soon between the Scotchmen and the "Res. of 'n-World'." The McKinley Memorial Committee some time ago requested the Association Football League to play a game to which admission should be charged. The proceeds will go to swell the McKinley Memorial Fund.

The Scotchmen have many times shown themselves past masters in the noble sport and although the other team will have the pick of all other nationalities, they, with such men as McWhirter, Goudie, Fiddes, Kay, Munro, Boyle, Glass and Gaid to pick their forward line, from, and with Brown, McGill, R. Anderson, Cockburn and others from which they can select their backs, and finally with Fenwick as goal-keeper, ought to be a combination which will be hard to beat.

The date the game will be played has not yet been decided on, but in all probability it will be Saturday, March 22. The reason for this is that Saturday of this week is to be used for the polo game for the memorial fund benefit and as Saturday, March 29, will be the date of the field day, the Association players are practically compelled to play on the 22d. The players are all willing enough and the matter now rests with the McKinley Memorial Committee, which has been communicated with today.

As admission to the game is to be charged, the Punahou campus is practically the only place upon which the game can be played, as the Makiki grounds are public. The Oahu College authorities will therefore be requested to give the players the use of the grounds.

JUDGE WILCOX WAS THERE WHEN NEEDED

It is very seldom that Judge Wilcox ever makes an arrest because he prefers to allow the regular officers to do this work. However, when he was at the fishmarket yesterday, he saw a dead committal called for immediately and, as there were no regular officers on duty, he attended to the matter himself and arrested a young native, Keola, by name.

A wee bit of a Chinese newsboy tried to sell a paper to Keola and the latter, either out of sheer malicious intent or anger at being asked to buy a paper, picked him up and threw him over a fence upon a hard cement pavement. The little fellow was stunned and lay kicking for some little time.

Keola was very insolent when first Judge Wilcox advanced upon him but when he found a firm hand and an impelling arm at his collar, he wilted and asked to be freed. In the Police Court this forenoon he was fined $10 and costs on the charge of assault and battery.

STREET EXTENSION IS NOW IMPOSSIBLE

Kekaulike Street Will Have to End at Hotel.

From the present appearance of things, the Kekaulike street extension from Hotel to Beretania street would seem to be permanently blocked and the hopes that property owners in that locality have entertained for some time past, seem to be forever blasted.

It will be remembered that not long ago, the road board decided on the extension of Kekaulike street between the two thoroughfares mentioned and property owners interested were accordingly notified.

Whenever new buildings went up along the proposed thoroughfare, they were arranged in such a manner as to allow room for the extension. This can be seen by anyone who might go up into the locality mentioned.

HAD THEIR REVENGE

LOCAL BASEBALLISTS DEFEATED SOLDIERS

On Makiki Grounds Yesterday Afternoon To Tune of 24 to 8--Visitors Weak in Box.

There was a hot and interesting game of baseball played on the Makiki grounds yesterday afternoon between the soldiers of the Fifteenth Infantry and the Honolulu nine. The game ended in the Honolulu wrecking a glorious vengeance for the defeat which the soldiers inflicted upon them on Saturday, the final score of 24 to 8 in the Honolulu favor showing that the boys were out for blood. It must not be understood, however, that the boys in blue did not do a lot of good playing. In the beginning of the game things looked all their way and the martial spectators took occasion to "guy" their opponents, especially Barney Joy, whose weakness along the line of getting rattled they discovered with professional instinct. In the third inning the luck changed. The soldiers went to pieces while the Honolulu boys took occasion to pile up their score. Gorman played the star game of the Honolulu team and besides playing well deserves credit for keeping Barney cool. Barney kept his head and pitched nice ball all through the game. Aylett played well and so did Lewis.

The soldiers still showed some of the pretty team-work with which they surprised the Honolulu on Saturday. Their shortstop did excellent work and their catcher also did well until his hand was damaged by a ball. In the field Riley did especially well, hardly ever missing a ball. The pitching was the weak point, however, and no fewer than three different boys pitched during the game.

The score by innings was as follows: Honolulu . . . . . 1 0 2 1 4 5 4 5 2-24 Soldiers . . . . . 4 1 0 0 0 1 2 0 0-8 The line-up of the teams was as follows:

The average woman may not be able to love three men simultaneously, but she can make a strenuous bluff at it.

FIBER MAKING MILL

At the meeting of the Hawaiian Fibre Company, Ltd., held on Saturday it was voted to erect a mill and install machinery in it for working the seal crop into marketable fibre, without any delay. The plant will entail an expenditure of $7000. A meeting of the directors will shortly be held to consider the matter of placing the orders for machinery.

HOW FRED LESLIE LOST HIS COLLIE

Fred Leslie had a rather novel experience last Thursday. He had booked for the Mauna Loa and intended to go to Hawaii. On the way to the steamer, he called at a friend's house and while there, spied a collie dog. Asking his friend about the dog, he was told that it was a stray animal that had blown in during the storm.

Leslie made up his mind that the animal needed attention and so he at once took possession. Going to a store and buying a collar and chain, he went to the steamer and to his room on the steamer.

Suddenly there was a sharp whistle from some place on the steamer, a sharp tug at the chain and the collie had run down the starboard side of the steamer like mad. Leslie started after but finding Purser Willie Simerson hugging the dog, he took the hint and said nothing, not even offering to make a quarrel about the new collar and chain.

DEEP WATER VESSELS DEPART AND ARRIVE

This morning the British ship Peter Iredale, Captain Lawrence, left the channel wharf for Royal Roads, Victoria. The American schooner Wm. H. Marston, Captain Curtis, which arrived from San Francisco on January 30 with general merchandise, got away from the railway wharf with a cargo of sugar for San Francisco.

Three vessels were sighted this morning. The American schooner J. H. Bruce, Captain Miller, came into port with a load of lumber from Gray's Harbor, sailing from that port on February 13. The American bark Olympic, Captain Evans, arrived from San Francisco with a general cargo, making the trip in 21 days. The American schooner King Cyrus, Captain Johnson, arrived with coal from Newcastle, occupying 60 days on the voyage.
