WATER DEVELOPMENT HAWAIIAN JOCKEY CLUB IN SESSION ON ISLAND OF MAUI

The question of the development of water for irrigation purposes upon the various plantations throughout the islands of Hawaii, is a very momentous subject, and one that calls for a high order of engineering knowledge and ability.

Upon the island of Maui much time and expense has been expended on the subject of water development, by the aid of long tunnels and drifts driven for the purpose of tapping the natural subterranean streams at the higher elevations and conveying the water by gravity to point of use.

Among the engineers in the Hawaiian Islands at the present time who has met with unequalled success in the development of water under the above conditions is Carl Waldeyer of Waialua, Maui, who for the past two and a half years has devoted his entire time and practical engineering knowledge to the subject of water development and consequent increased supply to the thirsty soil of the district.

In the successful development of a water supply which in many of the same raising districts of the Hawaiian Islands is the all important feature, much care and good judgment must be exercised as to the general formation of the soil and rock and its fitness to hold water, the grain of the rock, and many of the conditions known only to an engineer who has made a study of water development for years.

Mr. Waldeyer has been employed by the Waialua Sugar Co. (the H. C. & S. Co.) for the purpose of developing water for irrigation purposes, and for mill use. He has also developed water for Dr. J. H. Raymond on the Kahikuni stock ranch, Maui, in an almost arid region, and has also been employed to inspect and report upon the possibilities for obtaining a water supply for stock purposes in the Kula district of Maui.

Mr. Waldeyer comes from a family of mining engineers, his father before him having occupied an enviable position as one of the leading mining engineers in California and whose mining operations covered a vast field in the principal mining section of that state.

The question of the conservation of the natural supply of water emanating from the higher altitudes of the Sierra Nevada mountains in the States of California, and Nevada is well understood, as likewise the preservation of the vast and abundant underground which holds in abeyance billions of gallons of water which gladdens the earth at the extreme lower altitudes, and makes valley and plain most fruitful.

Mary was a conscientious child. One day she was allowed to go and spend the day with some little cousins about her own age. After talking off her wraps she went down to her aunt and said, very soberly: "Now, Aunt Clara, if Salbe and Lizzie are had today, please don't hesitate to punish them because I am here."—Tribune.

MAUNA LOA ARRIVES.

The steamer Mauna Loa, Captain Simerson, arrived from Kona and Kau ports at 10 o'clock this morning with twenty-one cabin and fifty-eight deck passengers and 7046 bags of sugar. Purser Simerson reports smooth sea and very little wind along the Hawaiian coast, with some rain. Along the Kau coast fine weather and smooth seas were experienced, while good weather with smooth seas characterized the passage along the Kona coast. The schooner Eclipse was passed off Kauhau. The Noeau was to leave Honolulu at noon today. In the channel the Mauna Loa had "soft" winds and smooth seas, according to Purser Simerson.

JUNIORS PLAY AT ASSOCIATION BALL

Immediately following the baseball game played on the Makiki grounds yesterday afternoon the Junior Association football game between the Panahou and Maile-filma teams was played and won by the latter by one goal to nothing. The boys were very eager, having waited all the afternoon for the baseball match to finish, and the game was hot from the instant the whistle blew. The Maile forwards proved a good combination and kept the ball among themselves, passing freely to one another, but those of Panahou while doing heroic individual work, failed through lack of combination.

For the lower little Murray, as back proved a surprise, and although this is his first match, played a cool game, kicking with certainty and precision. The play of Osborn, Bailey and Erlich for the winners was the most noteworthy of the day.
The Panahou star player, Andrews, was not put in an appearance; had he played, the result might have been different, and the Mailes would have lost their last chance for the medals.

The line-up was:
Maile—Forwards, Osborn, Bailey, Erlich; backs, Ludwigsen, Turner; goal, Ziegler.
Panahou—Forwards, Dowsett, Dreier, Dodge; backs, Magoon, Murray; goal, ulman.
The next game will take place tomorrow at 4:45 p. m. when the protested game between the Wanderers and Maile-filma will be played. The line-up will probably be as follows:
Maile-filma—Goal, C. Ludwigsen; backs, P. Erlich and B. Nott; forwards, Osborn (captain), H. Bailey and F. Dodge.
Wanderers—Goal, H. Kinsley; backs, F. A. W. Balthayne; forwards, H. Auerbach (captain), F. Bailey and J. Nott.

LA CROSSE GAMES ARE NOW SUGGESTED

A lacrosse club is being formed here and within a few days will begin practicing on the drill shed grounds. The game is a very popular one in Canada and the Eastern States and will be introduced here for the first time by experts who learned the ins and outs of the sport on the Mainland. Many local players have signed to go in and learn the game and it is thought that all the athletic clubs, the artillery and colleges will be induced to take up the sport so that active competition will be the result and the game grow in favor. Lacrosse is an exciting as polo and much more scientific. All the materials for the game are now here and sufficient equipment to supply two teams is ready. Those who will form the pioneer lacrosse team are Chess, Chamberlain, John Clark, Frank and Harry Bachelor, J. N. Schaefer, T. Hiltz, R. Mullin, J. Jones and Messrs. Robt. McCorniston, Bert Mace, Thompson Chambers, Chilton, Bolster and Wise.
The native boys should make good players as they are long winded and can run well. Their sight is also very good and this a great point in lacrosse. The game is played on foot and requires the greatest of skill and agility. Once introduced in Honolulu, it cannot fail to succeed. It will most certainly be popular with all classes. There will be practice of this game on the Makiki grounds this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

MADAME BISHOP IN A GREAT SUCCESS

Many years have passed by since the taste of the music loving public of Honolulu has been so well satisfied as it was at the recent given by Madame Geneva Johnstone-Bishop in the Opera House last night. Honolulu audiences have the name of being very cold, particularly when passing silent judgment on music but there was a most enthusiastic gathering in the Opera House last night. Madame Bishop won her audience when she first stepped before the footlights and when she had finished Verdi's "Pace, Pace, Mio Dio," the genuine enthusiasm of her listeners knew no bounds.
It was about 8:30 o'clock before the concert began, the management wishing to have everyone in his seat before the work should begin. When that hour had been reached, every seat in the orchestra, dress circle and balcony was occupied, the best people in Honolulu being out in great numbers. The right hand lower box was occupied by Prince and Princess Kawananakoa and Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole while the opposite box was occupied by Governor and Mrs. Dole and their party. The box above the princes was occupied by a party of seven. Both boxes were filled with jolly society people, the guests of Albert Cunha.
The stage was very simply but effectively decorated. On the piano was a bunch of pale pink roses while on the left was a table with a huge bunch of marigolds. About the base of the music rack were strewn a lot of yellow flowers.
The number of the program was the allegro (5th Sonata) of Beethoven, on piano and violin, by Miss Castle and Mr. Amme. This selection was well done.
No special mention need be made of the various selections with which Madame Bishop delighted her audience last night. She satisfied everyone and when a singer can do that, her music has reached about the highest notch attainable. She gave three big arias which would tax the strength of the strongest and she sang as well at the end as the beginning. Madame Bishop is to be judged from the artistic plane and from that standpoint her work during the concert last evening was delightful as to tone, quality and enunciation. Each tone was thrilling, each syllable distinct and the singing pleased the minds as well as the ears of the audience.
The singing of "Kuu Pua I Paokalani," a copy of which was presented to Madame Bishop, could not have been done better by singers of the soil. The plaintive strain that runs through all Hawaiian music, the lary produced easily and as the final notes died away, Prince David Kawananakoa nodded his approval, smiled and then applauded. This morning he said: "Madame Bishop delighted me. She sings Italian music like a Hawaiian and I believe she felt every word of that song last night."
The second selection of Miss Castle and Mr. Amme, the Allegro from op. 12 of Grieg, was so well done that an encore was demanded and really the second selection was better than the first. Mrs. W. L. Whitney as accompanist was excellent. Madame Bishop complimented her on her playing after the concert was over.
Madame Bishop has decided to accept the kind invitation of the Kluksklu Art League and a recital will be given there Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The arrangements will be announced later.
It should be mentioned that after every selection of Madame Bishop the head usher handed her up bouquets, baskets of flowers and leis.
