LOCAL AND GENERAL

Alice K. Kia denies the allegations brought against her by Abel Kia in the case for divorce which was filed last week.

The following divorcees were granted this morning: Suetkitchi Teaji from Masuyo Teaji, and Deborah Kane from Joseph Kane.

Jose Dos P. Rodrigues has discontinued his case against the Portuguese society. The papers were filed this morning.

The hearing of the case in which K. Matsumoto and K. Nagata are involved over the foreclosure of a mortgage has been set for hearing to Friday morning at ten o'clock.

Susan K. Flint was denied alimony this morning from her husband, Harry W. Flint, pending the time before the hearing of the suit for divorce which she is bringing before the court.

Lucas Brothers filed an answer this morning in their case against Mollie E. Hustace and J. R. Davis. The latter brought a plea of non-suit and the plaintiffs have filed an answer to this.

The whole of the case centers around two points in the contract which state that plaintiffs had to buy their lumber from a certain firm and also that the defendants would not be responsible for the accounts of any sub-contractors.

M'NAMARAS WILL NOT LACK MONEY

BY C. S. ALBERT.
(Special Bulletin in Correspondence.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1.—The fund being raised by organized labor for the defense of the McNamara brothers, McManigal and others charged with the dynamite outrages at Los Angeles will far surpass any collection heretofore taken for a similar purpose. It is intended to raise $500,000 and expend it all, if necessary. A small per capita sum was assessed upon all those belonging to labor organizations but it was not expected the aggregate sum desired would be half a million dollars. This is considered enormous by those who are furnishing the funds and some little dissatisfaction is expressed by the rank and file. They contend that such an outlay is not required for legal services and other accessories to the coming trials.

FREAR APPROVES HILO'S SCHEME

Governor Frear has answered the petition of the Hilo folks for 2000 acres near the town to be set aside for building lots in a favorable way. He wrote them last week telling them that the idea struck him as being good but that he was not quite certain of what land they wanted.

He is sending a map down by the mail tomorrow for them to mark just exactly where the piece of land is that they want. "I thought," he said this morning, "that I knew just where the land was but a gentleman I was talking to about the question seemed just as certain as I was that it was another piece, so I am going to find out for certain."

MISSOURIAN CARGO AFIRE; DAMAGE BELIEVED SLIGHT

AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN FREIGHTER SAILED FROM SEATTLE FOR HONOLULU YESTERDAY. GUNBOAT PRINCE-TON DEPARTING FOR THE SOUTH SEAS BY LAST OF WEEK. SUNDAY A BUSY DAY IN LOCAL SHIPPING.

A fire believed to have had its origin in through spontaneous combustion on board the American-Hawaiian freighter Missourian, caused much concern to local shippers when news of the trouble was circulated about the local waterfront Sunday morning.

The Missourian was discharging cargo at San Francisco at the time the fire was discovered in hold number 2. It is reported that the blaze was discovered before it had made great headway and a call for the San Francisco fire department brought immediate assistance.

The Missourian is understood to have sailed from Seattle for Honolulu yesterday morning with several thousand tons of general cargo for the Hawaiian Islands. A large amount of the Honolulu freight is merchandise, which was loaded into the American-Hawaiian freighters at New York and then transhipped across the isthmus of Tehuantepec to awaiting freighters at Salina Cruz.

From reports which have reached this city the fire on board the Missourian, due to arrive here on next Saturday or Sunday, was confined to some bales of twine and rolls of carpet lining. The firemen were provided with chemical extinguishers that proved a ready means of extinguishing the fire.

Band Will Play Wilhelmina Off.
The territorial band will be present at Matson wharf to assist in the farewell of the steamer Wilhelmina which is scheduled to depart for San Francisco at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning. At the office of Castle & Cooke, one hundred and ten cabin passengers have signified their intention of taking up accommodation.

There is yet room for a score or more persons should they apply for transportation. The Wilhelmina will be given a unusually large shipment of canned pineapples amounting to 25,000 cases. The vessel has received 3200 tons sugar at Hilo and Honolulu. The freight list also includes 5000 bunches bananas and about 500 sacks rice. Twenty-five stowage passengers have been booked, they being for the most part Portuguese.

May Add Turbiners.
Late files of coast newspapers contain a repetition of statements made in the columns of The Bulletin to the effect that the American-Hawaiian line may add several fast turbiners to the fleet. These vessels will be able to cover the voyage from New York to San Francisco, via the Panama Canal in a little less than fourteen days. As recounted in the columns of this paper some weeks ago, the American-Hawaiian has acquired the Atlantic Transport freighter Massachusetts, which will be converted into an oil burner. Two turbiners are now planned to be ready for service with the opening of the canal. Other tonnage may be secured by the company in order to accommodate the increasing business offered the freighters.

Kinau Here With Varied Cargo.
The inter-island steamer Kinau is to be dispatched for Kanaul ports at five o'clock on Tuesday evening, taking extensive shipments of fertilizer and lumber, as well as a general line of plantation supplies. Quite a list of cabin passengers have booked at the local office. The vessel was an early arrival yesterday morning, bringing fifty-nine cabin and 138 deck passengers; and in addition the following items of cargo: 262 bales of wool, 250 head of sheep, 155 bales taro, 40 bags rice, 35 pes. hides, 24 empty crude oil drums, 15 empty wine barrels, 39 empty beer barrels.

Much Sugar at Makawell.
Makawell plantation warehouses contain a large quantity of sugar awaiting shipment to the coast refineries. Purser Kent of the steamer Kinau arriving from Kanaul ports yesterday reports the following sugar on hand at Garden Island ports: K.

36 cases of caribboid, 3 pigs, 1 dog, 1 turtle, 6 bags sweet potatoes, 3 crates chickens, 23 crates alligator pears and 150 packages sundries.

Chiyo Maru and Dr. Jordan Tomorrow Morning.
Bringing Dr. David Starr Jordan of Stanford University who is en route to Japan in the interests of the International Peace Foundation of which he is one of the chief directors, the Tovo Kison Kaisha liner Chiyo Maru is reported by wireless as steaming towards Honolulu and should be off the quarantine at nine o'clock tomorrow morning. The Chiyo Maru will be detained here until early Wednesday morning before being dispatched for the Orient in order that the distinguished educator may be given an opportunity to deliver an address in this city.

Honolulu Mired, Delayed Sailing.
A crowd gathered at the waterfront on Sunday morning and witnessed the efforts made to get the Matson Navigation steamship Honolulu from off a mud bank as that vessel attempted to negotiate the Matson wharf. The steamer was returning from Hilo and Kahului and had a shipment of 5400 tons sugar besides some 5000 cases of canned pineapples taken on at Kahului. After an hour or more spent in maneuvering the Honolulu made the wharf but the delay was sufficient to prevent the steamer from departing for San Francisco until eleven o'clock. The Matson liner sailed with 44 cabin passengers. While no band lent its presence at the wharf, the departure was nevertheless an animated one.

Polo Players Return to Kanaul.
The passengers to depart for Kanaul ports in the steamer W. G. Hall this evening will include the Rice brothers who have been participating in the polo tournament. They are booked for a round trip in the Hall and will be back here early on Wednesday morning. The Hall is to sail at five o'clock tonight from Mauna Loa wharf. The steamer made a special trip to this port in order that a party of excursionists might witness the opening game in the series of polo matches.

Iced Fish for Coast Ports.
A new feature in the salmon industry is planned by the Alaska Packers' Association, which controls nearly all the canneries along the shores of Alaska. This is to bring the fish to San Francisco on ice. The experiment will be tried on the schooner Metha Nelson, Captain Jacobson, which sailed from that port on July 15 for the station at Kodiak. With a liberal use of ice, which is cheaply available in the North, it is hoped to bring a cargo of fresh salmon in good condition.

Hilonian Sailed from Seattle.
With cargo taken on at San Francisco and Seattle, the Matson Navigation steamer Hilonian, Captain Peterson, sailed from Puget Sound ports on Saturday for Honolulu and according to calculations of her agents, the little vessel should arrive here on next Sunday or Monday. There is a considerable amount of sugar awaiting shipment to the coast by the Hilonian.

San Francisco Jurist Visits Pearl Harbor.
Judge J. J. Sullivan, a well known San Francisco jurist was the guest of honor at a small coterie of Honolulu officials who under the able guidance of Captain Hyde, boarded the Matson Navigation tug Intrepid yesterday morning and sailed for Pearl Harbor locks, where the day was delightfully spent in visiting the many points of interest to be found there. The party called at the naval base now under construction and made an inspection of work being done on the dry dock as well as the new buildings now bearing completion. Later in the day the Intrepid steamed over to portion of the harbor near the Peninsula home of Colonel Samuel Parker. Here a tempting lunch was served.

Among those who enjoyed the trip were Joseph Stevens, Sheriff William Jarrett, Chief of Detectives Arthur McNeill, Deputy Sheriff Charles Rose, Judge J. J. Sullivan and Captain Hyde.

Plantation Laborers Return to City Life.
With the arrival of the inter-island steamer Mikahala from Molokai and Maui ports on Sunday morning there came some thirty Spaniards, Portuguese, Japanese and other plantation laborers who presumably intend to take up other lines of employment here or later on the coast. The inter-island steamer brought freight including 2 autos, 20 cords fire wood, a quantity of empties, 50 hogs, 167 sacks corn, 10 crates eggs, 15 crates chickens and 177 packages sundries. The vessel is to be dispatched on a return trip to the island ports at five o'clock tomorrow evening.

Marama Due at Noon Tomorrow.
Operating under a new and faster schedule which includes a call at New Zealand and eliminating Brisbane as a port of call the Canadian-Australian liner Marama from Australian ports is due to arrive at Honolulu at noon tomorrow. The vessel is slated for dispatch for Victoria and Vancouver at seven o'clock in the evening. The steamer has accommodation for fifty passengers in the various classes and about this number will take passage from Honolulu.

Big Shipment of Honey.
There has been a decided movement in honey from other island ports to Honolulu where this commodity is transhipped to vessels departing for the mainland. The inter-island steamer Iwalani an arrival at the port on Sunday left one hundred and fifty cases of honey in addition to 5000 sacks sugar and 25 head cattle. The Iwalani was an arrival from Mahukona and Hawaii ports of call. The officers report a pleasant trip.

Empty Drums from Kanaul.
The constant accumulation of empty drums at Honolulu has been augmented by the receipt of a number from Kanaul which arrived at the port on Sunday as part of the freight list of the steamer Noean. The inter-island steamer returned to port with 3500 sacks sugar. The Noean is now on the berth to depart for Garden Island ports at five o'clock on Tuesday evening.

Fertilizer for Other Islands.
The Mauna Kea departing for Hilo and way ports at ten o'clock tomorrow morning will take among other lines of cargo thirty tons fertilizer. The steamer Kinau which will sail for Kanaul ports at five o'clock that afternoon will be supplied with 120 tons fertilizer as well as shipments of lumber and coal.

The cargo is practically out of the German ship Alexander Isenberg and that vessel will go over to quarantine wharf tomorrow for a thorough fumigation before proceeding to the North Pacific coast for cargo for Europe. The vessel has been discharging cement, firebrick and pig iron at Bishop wharf.

Secretary A. E. Larimer of the Y. M. C. A. who has recently returned from a trip to the coast, during which he went into the matter of industrial and manual training is to make a report at the directors meeting to be held at eight o'clock tonight. This is a meeting at which all the secretaries of the institution make their annual report and is looked on as one of the most important held during the year.

Although Larimer does not hold himself as an expert he will recommend to the directors that they make some inquiries as to having some of the systems he speaks of put in force here.

One of the main features of the system that is working on the mainland, is that of the co-operation shown between the school end of the work and the practical end. At Cincinnati university there is run in connection with the engineering class a system whereby the students can work in the big machine shops. This has also been applied to apprentices. With the apprentices the big companies allow them off for a couple of afternoons during the week without deducting it from their time. Some 200 apprentices were put through in this way last year.

The public schools have taken the matter up and are working something of the same system with other lines through state. The same plan is being worked by the Fitchburg, Mass. High school, the Seattle Y. M. C. A. and the matter of building has also been taken up by the Chicago Y. M. C. A.

The main feature about the whole thing is to get the cooperation of the big firms. Some of the other bodies that are handling the matter have rooms where everything is fitted up and the boys can see just exactly how it works.

There is also a great demand for manual training among the younger boys and the schools are taking this up with the idea of teaching them how to handle tools rather than to try and teach them a trade. Where it is a matter of only showing students part of a trade the labor unions are working in with it but when it comes down to teaching a boy plumbing in about six months they are kicking hard.

J. Edgar Higgins, who has just returned from Kauai and brought with him some samples of the fruit that is supposed to be attacked by the Mediterranean fruit fly, stated this morning that he could not say for certain as to whether the maggots were those of the fruit fly or not.

The symptoms are very like those produced by the Mediterranean fly, but he will have to wait until they done to make certain. This will in all probability take about a fortnight.
