The Eclipse.

The eclipse of the sun which occurred last Friday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, was very distinct and generally observed in Hilo and vicinity by those whose attention had been called to the phenomenon by the TRIBUNE'S announcement the Tuesday previous. Some fun was had among the Japanese by practical jokesters, who declared the eclipse of the sun's disc meant the eclipse of the Japanese empire, whose national colors consist of a blazing sun on a white field.

PUNA TO CONTINUE

Receiver Puts Weatherbee in Charge During Own Absence.

Wm. Pfothenauer, in company with his attorney, Abe Lewis of Honolulu, arrived on the Maui last week and up to the time of his departure on Friday spent most of his time looking over the Puna plantation, of which he has been appointed receiver. Despite the rumors of the abandonment of the place, Receiver Pfothenauer found the plantation in very fair condition. Owing to the scattered condition of the fields, the property will never prove a profitable plantation under corporation management, but Mr. Pfothenauer believes it can be successfully operated by the contract system to small planters. Already contracts have been let for the care and cultivation of the cane now growing, which presents a fine appearance and promises a good crop. There are 150 laborers, mostly Chinese at Kapoho and perhaps a hundred at Pahaia. Mr. Pfothenauer finds it impossible to spend his entire time in Puna, and during his absence has put Charles Weatherbee in charge. Mr. Weatherbee has been the plantation bookkeeper for many years, since the inception of the Puna Sugar Co., is well acquainted with the fields and will make a capable assistant to Mr. Pfothenauer. Messrs. Pfothenauer and Lewis returned to Honolulu on Friday's Kinau.

His basket trick has a world wide reputation and many Hiloites will welcome to our midst this great and clever performer. Popular prices will prevail, but reserved seats will be on sale at the Drug Stores on Thursday.

A Camping Party.

A camping party consisting of W. H. Lambert, C. E. Wright, R. T. Guard, Daniel S. Bowman and W. I. Madeira leave early Thursday morning for a two weeks outing on the slopes of Mauna Loa. They will carry a wall tent, blankets, provisions and a camp outfit to last them a month, if they determine to stay that long. The exact location of their camp has not been determined upon, but will be about thirty miles distant, in Aihau district, along side of the 1881 flow, where it is reported there is good hunting of game such as quail, plover, wild pigs, etc.

A Swell Party Tonight.

Fully a hundred invitations have been extended and if rain does not interfere, a large attendance is expected.

BASEBALL.

The Rain Interfered With Enjoyment of Game.

Owing to the steady drizzle which started in about the middle of the first game Sunday afternoon, the playing was rather lousy and not up to the standard. Whether owing to climatic conditions or the rabbit foot which P. C. Beamer secured on his trip around the Island, his Specials won their first game from the Black Diamonds. Spaulding pitched until the seventh inning for the Hilo Railroad boys, when Jack Williams was put in the box in order to save the game. Little Harry Matto tossed the ball for the Beamers and did good work, holding out until the ninth inning. Solomon caught but seemed unable to reach second base with his right arm throw in his usual style. The game was satisfactorily umpired by Dick Lyman at the bat and Lou Rogers in the field.

The game was undecided until the ninth inning and neither the crowd nor players would leave the field despite the unpleasantness of the weather, until the decisive run was made by the Beamers in the first half of the ninth. The Railroad boys failed to even up, and the game stood 9 to 8 at the close. The game between Onomes and Ponoehawaii was not played, because of the rain. Following is the score by innings of the first game:

Two Pardons Granted.

On the occasion of the recent visit here, Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson was instrumental in granting the pardon of two Porto Rican young men Jose Maria Rodrigues and Herman Mendez, who were sentenced to five year's imprisonment each on January 8th, 1902, for highway robbery. The affair will be recalled as being one of the first of the series of disturbances growing out of the introduction of Porto Ricans into the Territory. A Japanese stage driver rushed bareheaded into the police station one night about two years ago, with a story of a thrilling experience with Porto Rican highway men. He claimed he was about two miles from town on the Volcano road, when two masked men came from either side of the road, cut the traces of his team which thereupon ran away. Finding no booty in the vehicle, according to the Jap's story, he was permitted to come to Hilo upon a promise to return with money for the robbers.

The police accompanied the Japanese to the spot and found the two men standing guard over the rig. Their excuse was that when they came upon the Japanese stage and found the horses entangled in the harness, they offered the Jap assistance cutting the tugs and the horses escaped. They promised to watch over the vehicle until the return of the Japanese with assistance. The jury brought an indictment, and the circumstantial facts were admitted as above outlined. The two Porto Ricans have been faithful prisoners and Sheriff Andrews believed sufficient punishment had been meted out to them, in view of the circumstances of the case. The Governor acting upon the report of the Sheriff and Secretary Atkinson, granted the two pardons last week.
