THE JAPS REJOICE

Subjects of the Flowery Kingdom Make Merry.

The celebration of the Emperor's Birthday, which occurred on Thursday, November 3rd, was very markedly felt in domestic and business circles in Hawaii. The entire Japanese population of the Territory turns out on this occasion, and this year especial zest was given to the anniversary on account of the war. It has been fondly anticipated by the Japanese that Port Arthur would fall on the Emperor's birthday when a final and decisive assault would be made on the Russian stronghold. Ten years ago, the Japanese began a similar assault on Port Arthur on the Emperor's birthday, but the garrison did not fall until three days' storming.

In Hilo and on nearby plantations every Japanese, no matter how poor he was, displayed on a flag staff or draped in front of his residence flags and banners bearing the national colors of Japan. Thursday found many housewives, who employ Japanese servants, doing their own work, and a general holiday was declared on the plantations. Bombs and day rockets were fired all day and long into the night. Wrestling, Japanese inaus and two shows representing the fall of Port Arthur proved drawing cards for the jubilant Japs. Toasts of sake were passed over festal boards and many European friends took occasion to express "Bonzaï" or success to the Japanese cause.

A happy good humor pervaded the atmosphere everywhere, and the day passed off without any casualties.

Iroquois On Inspection Tour.

The U. S. S. Iroquois, which arrived Friday afternoon in command of Capt. A. P. Niblack, is making a tour of inspection of the federal light houses and government buoys. At Kawaihae Capt. Niblack examined the light house at that point and will inspect the construction of the new light house now being built on Maui, where the Kinau light formerly stood. At Makena a relocation of the buoy will be made and about January 1st the blood reef buoy designating the entrance to Hilo harbor will be replaced by a regulation government marking buoy.

During her stay in port the marines of the vessel, under the name of the Maile Himas, played two games of baseball with a picked Hilo nine, worsting the home team on both occasions. Before her arrival at Hilo, the Iroquois proceeded to Kealahou Bay and the jacksies put Captain Cook's monument in a more presentable shape. As to the prospects for the early construction of light houses in the Territory and especially along the Hamakua coast, Capt. Niblack was unable to give any information. This is a matter of governmental action at Washington.

A Wild Gallop From Kaunana.

A runaway which caused much excitement down Waianuenu street occurred Friday afternoon. M. G. Santos hired a horse and surrey and in company with Mrs. J. P. Fernandez and child of Maui, and Mrs. E. G. Silva, wife of the pastor of the Portuguese Christian Church, visited J. S. Canario's Kaunana home, about five miles from town. On the return, a part of the harness gave way, permitting the vehicle to crowd the horse, which started to run. Mr. Santos was unable to stop the running animal on the steep down grade, and the horse galloped the entire five miles into Hilo, arriving covered with foam and lather. No serious accident resulted from the wild run, although Mrs. Silva jumped with her small child from the flying vehicle and suffered some slight bruises. The infant was cut about the mouth. Manager Wright explains that the horse was endeavoring to get away from the rig pressing from behind and had it not been a gentle animal it would have smashed the vehicle and probably seriously injured its occupants. The horse cantered into the Volcano Stables, driver and animal both exhausted.

Songs of Praise.

The Praise Service at the First Foreign Church last Sunday evening under the supervision of Mrs. J. T. Lewis was enjoyed by a large attendance, the congregation filling the floor and galleries of the church. The song service was given in honor of Mr. C. C. Kennedy, who is a member of the music committee, and it is the purpose of Mrs. Lewis to give a special service of this kind at intervals in honor of the various trustees and members of the music committee who have generously assisted in building up the ladies choir. Mr. Ous E. English was the male soloist of the evening, and Mrs. R. T. Moses rendered a violin solo, both of which added much to the pleasure of the meeting.

EXPENDING MONEY HERE.

Public Works Department Contemplate Many Local Improvements.

There is an increased activity in the local office of the Public Works Department, as contracts are being let for additional road construction and surveys are being made for new roads. Most of this work is being done out of the loan fund, the appropriations of which have to be expended on or before the end of the fiscal year. Road Engineer G. H. Gere has received instructions to resurvey and cross-section the Keaukaha beach road and specifications will immediately be drawn up in order to let the contracts.

There is an appropriation of $5,000 for Keaukaha road under the bill. The proposed Richardson street, connecting Front and Volcano street, the right of way of which has already been secured from J. T. Brown is being restaked and estimates will soon be called for in order to build this thoroughfare.

The specifications for the Kalapana road went down to the Superintendent of Public Works on the last mail, as also for the connecting road from Kaialejki to Honokaa, near Hookena, South Kona. This latter section, upon the completion of the Kapapala division, will complete the belt-road circling the island. Good progress is being made on the Pahala road to the Volcano House. Benton & Arioli have finished 21,251 feet, and there remains about four and a half miles, upon which the work is being rapidly pushed. Owing to breakdowns in machinery and remoteness of the work from a base of supplies, the work has been delayed. It will require six months' hard work to complete the contract.

L. M. Whitehouse has been allotted the contract for building the Hilo Armory, at a cost of $4,997. The appropriation was not sufficient to cover the tender, but through the efforts of Captain Fetter and members of Company D, the deficiency has been made up. It is stated the Company are seeking to have a permanent stage constructed in the armory, the cost of which they agree to stand.

Benton & Arioli have been awarded four Oloa contracts upon bids as follows: Peck Road, 180 days, 67 cents per linear foot; 18 1/2 mile road, Oloa, 85 days, $1,600.70; 14 1/2 mile road, 130 days, $3,360.20; 11 1/2 mile road, 150 days, $5,427.75. Benton & Arioli have the 22-mile, Oloa, cross-road, of which a mile and a half has been sub-graded. Thirty men are daily employed there. The Kahahiku, Puna, road, which takes the place of the old Pahoa trail, is about complete. Herman Elderts, sub-contractor, has sixty men employed there.

Contractor Whitehouse will finish the Ooala-Kukaiau road this month, satis- factory to himself and the citizen labor interests. Whitehouse has finished the Alemanai bridge and put in a temporary wooden bridge at Waiaama, pending the construction of a 40-foot concrete arch at that point. Work has been received that a wooden bridge at Kaieie gulch, at the Hamakua end of the district, has given way, but as bids for a concrete arch have already been advertised for, Engineer Gere hopes to have the work of reconstruction soon under way. Altogether the district is to be congratulated upon the progress being made in road building and other public improvements, which not only means additional money in circulation, but the employment of citizen labor in large numbers.
