ENTERPRISE LUNCHEON.

Captain Miller Entertains Prominent Hiloites on Board. Captain Miller of the steamer Enterprise gave a delightful luncheon on board his ship last Saturday to a small company of Hilo gentlemen. Those who sat at the hospitable board were J. A. Scott, C. C. Kennedy, Judge Gilbert F. Little, Captain Lyon of the steamship Californian, Captain Foye and Bruce Kennedy. The luncheon was an elaborate one of twelve courses and served in the splendid style that marks everything done on the Enterprise. The menu was as follows: Eastern Oysters Raw Mock Turtle Soup Boiled Leg of Mutton, Capers Sauce Sauté of Game Ducks with Olives Roast Ribs of Beef and Yorkshire Pudding Boiled Squab on Toast Pound Pudding Wine Sauce Apple Pie Crackers, Cheese, Assorted Nuts Raisins Coffee Tea Chocolate Ice Cream

CAPTAIN BROWN RESIGNS.

Hilo Police Department Loses One of Its Finest. Captain Ben Brown has resigned from his position as captain on the police force and will enter upon the practice of law in partnership with his brother Senator Brown. Captain Brown has done duty on the force here since 1881.

Thirty-five years ago, June 1st 1857, a little band of people met and organized "The First Foreign Religious Society of Hilo" out of which grew the present First Foreign Church. Sunday morning Mr. Cruzan will preach a historical sermon on "Thirty-five Years of Church Life and Growth." In the evening his subject will be "What Do You Think?" The memorial services at the First Foreign Church last Sunday night called out a full house. The old soldiers were present in a body as also were the members of Company D and the pupils of the Hilo Boarding School. The address by Rev. J. A. Cruzan was a graphic story of the issues preceding the Civil War. The speaker also portrayed the principal events of the war.

Prof. Leonard, the aeronaut now in the city is well acquainted with the city of St. Pierre and the island of Martinique where the disastrous volcanic eruption recently occurred. He visited the island in 1899. At the time of his visit the mountain Pele was slumbering quietly with its summit hidden in a cloak of mist. The people at that time had no fear of an eruption at home but were very apprehensive lest a tidal wave should sweep their city off the map.

Set Forth Clearly. The Santa Cruz daily Surf of May 10th reprints Mr. Cruzan's sermon on "What have we Lost and Gained?" with the following editorial preface: "In the TRIBUNE of Hilo, we find the synopsis of a sermon recently delivered by Rev. J. A. Cruzan, which merits space in the Surf both by reason of the personality of the preacher and the intrinsic value of the sermon which sets forth more clearly than we have previously seen in print, the present position and belief, not only of the speaker but of a large and increasing company, both inside and outside of the churches."

Pioneer Dies on Maui.

Wailuku, May 24.—Thos. C. Forsyth, one of the oldest kamaainas on Maui, passed away at the home of his son, George, at Kula last Wednesday at the ripe age of 78 years.

J. G. Rothwell returns to Honolulu by today's Kinan, having spent ten busy days in the city. The Hilo baseball team which will play on Maui June 11, is composed of the following players: E. M. Brown, pitcher; Ben Spalding, catcher; Gus Stipe, 1b; W. Ragsdale, 2b; Edward Colton, 3b; H. T. Luke, s.s.; T. M. Rowland, c.f.; Katewa, l.f.; C. Keanehon, r.f. Substitutes—H. Kaiana and Henry Kaihale.

THE MAY FESTIVAL.

Hilo Ladies Score a Great Success Socially and Financially. One of the prettiest lawn fetes that Hilo has ever seen was that given by the Entertainment Committee of the Ladies Social Club, and held on the Hotel grounds last Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m. The day was perfect—clear, yet cool, with a most beautiful sunset towards evening in a sky of brilliant colors, which brought to the kamaainas the wondrous glow of the "Golden Gate" during the eruption of '81. The different booths were put up in the morning, greens being used lavishly in the decorations. One of the most attractive was that in charge of Miss Harriette Hitchcock and Miss Ellen Lyman, where Hilo's famous homemade candy disappeared with such rapidity that one wondered why "Lowney's" was ever tolerated in our midst. The supply was insufficient for the demand. In this respect did all the booths come short, as no preparations were made for feeding and accommodating such a large number as were in attendance. The ladies will undoubtedly profit by this experience, and another time make more extensive preparations. The candy sales amounted to $17.50.

In the centre of the beautiful Hotel court, occupying the band stand, Messdames Cruzan, Ridgway, Hayes, Furneaux, Rice and Baldwin served delicious ice-cream and cake. The stand was beautifully decorated with bamboo, ferns, banana, etc., with which it was entirely covered. Japanese lanterns strung from the centre of the canopy overhead to the sides added much to the beauty of the general effect. Inside telescopic tables invitingly awaited the arrival of guests. This booth alone took in $35.40. Much credit is due those who so ably assisted and carried it through. Makai of the ice-cream was a prettily decorated table, where Mrs. J. U. Smith and Mrs. W. Balding and their assistants served delicious bouillon and Scotch broth. It was good and disappeared fast, notwithstanding the cry of "Here comes the lather!" due to the fact that each fresh supply appeared to issue forth from the barber shop near by. The sales here amounted to $8.30.

To one side of the bouillon booth was a daintily decorated retreat, where Messdames Elliot and Bartels, and their assistants, were kept busy with cool and refreshing lemonade. Their praiseworthy efforts were most successful, having realized $15.50. One of the prettiest and most successful was the flower booth, which cleared $16.40, and was presided over by Mrs. Little and the Misses Loebenstein. Those in charge showed their good taste in using one of the majestic old trees as a natural canopy, the many hued flowers beneath adding much to the fairy-like beauty surrounding.

Messdames Shipman, Richardson, Reid and assistants had erected a tent, decorated with ti leaves and bamboo, and from this pretty retreat salads and meats could be had. The large number which thronged about could not be accommodated, and many were turned away. In charge showed the good taste of the last mentioned booth tea and sandwiches were served under the management of Messdames Guard and Shaw, while mauka the most delicious coffee could be had. Here Dr. Francis Wetmore and Mrs. Terry were in charge. From these three booths sales amounting to $56.85 were made, making a total of $100.00, and that which brought forth a great deal of applause was the beautiful May dance in which sixteen young ladies participated. At 5 o'clock, after a delightful cornet solo by Mr. Cavallo, Mrs. Turner accompanied by the musicians struck up a lively two-step, and promptly the young ladies, dressed in white with sashes of different colors, formed in couples and came forth from one of the cottages, marched down the steps to the lawn, and then danced the two-step until a circle was formed around the pole. The partners then saluted, and to the strains of the stately minuet proceeded to the centre where little Lyle Holmes and Gertrude Turner awaited them holding the ribbons of white, pink, blue and yellow. Each girl took her color and then again to the minuet proceeded to her place.

Then came the most beautiful of all the figures, the weaving of the four corners, which were then gracefully woven around the pole. The unwinding was watched with much interest and enthusiasm, bringing forth much applause from the spectators. Another beautiful figure was the final winding and unwinding around the pole. The dancers marching in and out, saluting low as each met her partner. Again the minuet to the pole, where the ribbons were dropped, and out again; then with a low salute to her partner and a round of applause, the dancers two stepped around the circle and out of sight. It was repeated later in the evening, the beautiful sunset in the background greatly adding to the charm of the scene. Much credit is due Mrs. L. Severance for her indefatigable zeal in carrying it out so successfully.

The whole affair was deemed a great success by the large number present and many words of praise were heard on all sides commending all who took part in any way towards making Hilo's first May festival the great success it was.

Hotel Changes.

Manager Scott of the Hilo Hotel has resigned his position and will be succeeded in the general direction of the affairs of the hotel by Mr. Austin, Peacock & Co's representative in this city. Mr. Austin will have the able assistance of Phil B. Dankey in looking after matters at the hotel. Mr. Scott will remain in the Islands, having interests that will require him to be in Honolulu a portion of the time. During his term of service in connection with the Hilo Hotel, Mr. Scott has made acquaintances in Hilo none of whom but will be sorry to learn of his contemplated departure from the city. Mr. Milberg formerly chief of the Hawaiian hotel arrived by this Ki an to take charge of the culinary end of Hilo's leading hostelry.

Kinau Passenger List.

The following passengers arrived by the Kinau this week: C. Meiberg, J. B. Agassiz and wife, E. P. Mellor, F. J. Amberg, D. Lycurgas, Mr. Aoki, M. G. Moniva, J. L. Rockwell, Chas. Creighton, B. Cochhammer, Miss Clara Smith, Le Chung, Z. F. Cord, Jas. Hakuole, H. S. Grigg, Henry Kaawi, wife and child, Geo. Wilson, Miss Fracker, J. W. Cathcart, C. N. Prouty, D. I. Bushnell, S. H. Bushnell, B. Sherwood.

Boeck-Clement.

Wailuku, May 24.—Victor L. Boeck, bookkeeper of the Wailuku Sugar Company, was married to Dr. Elvira M. Clement by Rev. Dr. E. G. Beckwith at Paia last Tuesday, May 20. Mr. and Mrs. Boeck will reside at the Marshal home, Wailuku.

The last of the enjoyable teacher's meetings of the year was held last Tuesday evening at the Union School. The subject of art was treated by Misses Severson and Porter. T. C. Ridgway held current events. Mrs. Cruzan read selections from "Emmy Lou." Refreshments were served. Miss Deyo was chosen president for the coming year.

THE BALLOON ASCENSION.

Prof. Leonard Gives Exhibition of Aeronautical Engineering. Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock, Prof. Leonard made his second ascension and parachute leap in this city, and again won the plaudits of the throngs who saw him ride the wind; and of those who have seen many ascensions, all admitted that for skillful managing of the oft-times fickle parachute, Leonard has no superior. Mounting the frail trapeze as the great balloon left the earth he shouted adios to the crowd and like a rocket was wafted away from the wicket world in a manner that made some hold their breath at what seemed sheer reckless daring. But those who had seen him in the heavens before, appreciated the fact that the aeronaut thoroughly understood his business and yelled with delight when he did and yelled with amazement when he came stumt a thousand feet from earth and while hanging by the ankles aloft, he dove through space 150 feet and beautiful white parachute opened and down he came gracefully, easily, like a feather to the birds, landing in the garden in the rear of J. Antonio's residence, corner of Ponahawai and Jail streets. Three hundred school boys were soon at hand to escort him back to the show lot, and 100 more strung out the balloon which landed a block further on.

Leonard has made a hit in Hilo, and especially with the rising generation. Almost every boy has a paper chute and one of them, thinking to outdo the rest, climbed a tree, spread his parachute made of a Japanese napkin, and jumped—the doctor says he will recover all right. Prof. Leonard and his cloud shooting apparatus was just the kind of an attraction for the celebration on the Fourth of July.

PUGILISM IN THE COUNTRY.

Denver Ed. Smith Creates Diversion On the Road to Hakalan.

A correspondent for the TRIBUNE sends in the following racy account of the doings of the pugilists at Laupahoehoe and Honokaa. Honokaa, May 25. To THE HILO TRIBUNE:—Denver Ed. Smith and Manager T. C. Howell arrived here about 4:30 p. m. from Laupahoehoe, having walked the entire distance. Mr. Smith who is training for his coming fight with Billy Woods is in the pink of condition. Shortly after arriving, Manager Howell quickly informed a few of the boys about town that those who wished to avail themselves of the opportunity to see Denver Ed. Smith, ex-champion of the world, put through his training could do so, as it would perhaps be the last chance they would have to meet Mr. Smith. Just before dark a big crowd had congregated at the training quarters. Howell introduced Smith, mentioning the fact that Denver Ed. had been chosen by the sporting fraternity of Colorado to represent them at the coronation of His Majesty King Edward VII. Denver Ed. then gave a sketch of his life saying that he had fought 132 battles and had lost only two, one of which was stolen from him in Hilo. Denver Ed. then challenged any one in the crowd to box a few rounds. "The Pride of Honokaa," a hometown champion, was even. Denver Ed. then branched out in a new line, rendering in a touching manner that inimitable song, "Is the man at the top of the well that does the work." The musical stant aroused the late historic spirit of Mr. Howell the irrepressible manager. He mounted the platform, made another speech and sang as it never been heard before the pathetic ballad, "All that glitters is not gold." It was the hit of the evening.
