DEATH OF C. E. RICHARDSON.
One of Hawaii's Best Known Residents Passes Away.
Last Saturday morning at his mountain home at 22 miles, Charles E. Richardson one of Hilo's oldest and best respected citizens died at 7:30 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Richardson had been in declining health for three or four years and during the past few months had been invalided to an extent that kept him close to his home in the care of his family. Only a short time ago he went to his mountain home, a place where he found rest and comfort most easily. For many weeks he had been expecting the inevitable and when the summons came he obeyed the call without a murmur.
Saturday afternoon a special train conveyed the remains to Hilo. At the depot many of the friends of the deceased and the family met to accompany the party on their sad home coming.
Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock p. m., the funeral services were held at the Hail church. Rev. C. W. Hill delivered a simple but touching discourse, taking as his theme the noble life that had just ended, rich in the fruitage of love of fellow men and fear of God. Rev. J. A. Cruzan assisted. The church was filled to overflowing by a throng each one of whom was present as a mourner for the departed. A quartet sang, "It is well with my Soul." The floral offerings were a magnificent proof of the place the deceased held and still holds in the affections of his neighbors. The casket was loaded down with the choicest bloom and most delicate verdure of garden and forest.
The direction of the funeral was in the hands of Geo. H. Williams, master of ceremonies under C. C. Kennedy and A. E. Sutton, resident executors chosen by the deceased. The honorary pall bearers were F. S. Lyman, L. Severance, Henry Deacon, J. D. Marlin, Chas. Furneaux and C. A. Stobie. The pall bearers were N. C. Willfong, Wm. Nailima, Kau Kai, Frank LeBlond, E. N. Holmes and W. H. Shipman. The procession to the cemetery was one of the largest ever witnessed in Hilo.
Charles Edward Richardson was born in Rochester County, Vermont, in March 1828. He lived there until 1849, the year of the gold excitement in California. In the fall of 1849 he sailed in the ship Argonaut, Captain Nott via the Horn and arrived at the gold hunters mecca the following spring. For a time he engaged in mining on Feather River but did not meet with glowing success. His health not being robust he left the gold diggings for a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, landing here in January 1851. He remained here a little more than a year and went back to California again. He had formed in that year an attachment for the Hawaiian Islands which impelled him to return here again and make this his permanent home. He settled at Honolulu and followed his trade of carpentering. In 1855 he came to Hilo and engaged in the same occupation.
In 1860 the deceased entered into a partnership with W. H. Reed and went into the ranching business. Under this management the famous Kapapala ranch was founded and prosperously conducted. While engaged in these pursuits, the deceased resided in Kau, a place that claimed him for a period of seventeen years. Considerations of health compelled him to move to Hilo in 1877. Here he engaged in sugar planting. In 1883 he went into the lumber and general merchandise business, a line in which he prospered until his retirement from active business a few years ago.
In 1858, deceased was married to Miss Hapai, who with two daughters, Mrs. F. M. Wakefield and Miss Elvira Richardson, survive him.

Washington, June 27.—The President sent the following telegram to King Edward: "His Majesty, Edward VII, London: I ask your majesty to accept my sincere assurances of sympathy and wishes for speedy convalescence.—THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

SUCCESSFUL PARADE.
Formation and March of Hilo's Patriotic Column.
The Fourth of July parade through the streets of Hilo was a spectacular and artistic success. The marching column moved through the streets in order and with precision that reflected fine credit upon the managerial ability of Grand Marshal Richley and his corps of capable aides. The show-ers of the night before had laid the dust in the streets and the morning of the Fourth dawned bright and promising. While the parade line was forming the people in line and on the streets were sprinkled with vagrant showers which threatened to make a rainy day of it.
But promptly at 10 o'clock in a burst of sunshine the signal for the march to begin was given by Burt Loebenstein, bugler for the day. The head of the column moved from the Postoffice corner with a squad of police leading. The representatives of the police force were under command of Captain Lake and the boys made a dignified appearance. The column which marched to Waiakoa river and back was formed as follows:
Grand Marshal, A. Richley
Chief of Staff, R. R. Elgin

The Same Old Story.
J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and re-told by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C., U. S. A. For sale by Hilo Drug Co.
