Township Meeting.

The Democrats of Davenport Township are requested to meet at the Court House in the city of Davenport, on SATURDAY EVENING, the 19th inst., at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the County Convention.

sep7dtd BY ORDER OF THE TOWN. COM.

NATIONAL THEATRE.—To-night we have another splendid bill—The Maniac Lover, and the Eaton Boy, both of which are capital pieces. Mr. Gallanar is doing his best to make the National popular. We shall look for a good house to night.

FRUITS.—The streets of the City are crowded with fruit wagons. Melons as large as kegs, apples, plums, peaches, pears, grapes, oranges &c., are to be had on every square, and when ripe, are refreshing and healthy. Too much meat is eaten at the west. It is too heavy for digestion. Fruit purifies the blood and invigorates the system.

Col. Young's Block, corner of Fifth and Brady Street, has reached its full growth of three stories, and the workmen are completing an elegant brick Cornice on it consisting of 32 arches with pendants.

The first story has three stores, and the second and third story has each nine windows with circular vion caps.

It is a very creditable building.

BRICK YARD.—Mackintosh's gulch west side of Harrison Street, is literally filled with brick yards. These yards are constantly eating into the college bluff, and depositing refuse in the gulch to fill it to grade. In this manner that almost impassable hill will be eaten away, and a fine grade of lots established. To look at these brick yards, one would think that we were making brick for exporting, but the home demand is equal to the supply. Such is the rapidity of our City's growth.

BE IT ENACTED by the City Council of the City of Davenport,

Sec. 1. That the side walk on the South side of 2nd street between Ripley and Perry streets, and the side walk on the North side of said 2nd street, between Main and Perry streets be, and they are hereby established at fourteen feet in width.

JOHN FORREST,
Mayor Pro tem.

E. Pick, Clerk.
Sept. 9, 1857.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH.—When completed, this edifice will be the best of the kind in this city. The brick work will be completed in two weeks. The whole thing is a model of convenience and of grace.—The basement has a large audience room, vestry rooms, coal rooms, and entry room. There is an air of elegance about it, which is the result of plainness of exterior finish. No carbuncles mar the lightness of the columns, or the windows. It will be ready for use about the the time that Brady street is macadamized and side walks laid.

JUDICIAL APPOINTMENT. — A. H. Bennett, Esq., has received the appointment of District Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District, in place of Hon. G. C. R. Mitchell, resigned. We are glad that Mr. Bennett has this appointment, for his legal experience and age will qualify him for the duties of Judge.

We know of no lawyer in the Republican party of this District, whom we should sooner have chosen for the place.

The October Term of the District Court will be holden without fail.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.—Ryan of Philadelphia, is the most celebrated boot and shoe manufacturer in the United States. This is conceded by all. When he says he 'uses French Calf-skin,' his customers can rely upon it that he does. He excells in the quality of material and the thoroughness of his work.

TODD, of this city orders a large portion of his stock of boots and shoes of Ryan.—This is enough to insure Todd's fortune.—Good work will establish for any man a permanent patronage. Todd's work can be relied upon. He says just what he means, and means what he says. Go to Todd's.

A Word to Merchants.

The West is made up of people, who are comparative strangers to each other. They come from all parts of the world. They are constantly coming, and filling up town, village, city, and covering the prairie with the monuments of their industry. They are not born here, brought up to know every man, and every trade, and kind of business in the country, as is the case in the East and older States. Our merchants desire their patronage. They don't know our merchants. But they read the newspapers. For land, for dry goods, for almost everything, they consult the columns of the newspaper. They do not know who keeps the article they need. They look over the columns of a newspaper to see who does keep it. They take down the number of the store. They find it and become a constant patron.

Advertising, then, becomes a necessity at the West. It is a "general intelligence office." If a house is needed, they look under the appropriate head in the advertising columns. So for insurance, groceries, bankers, steamboats, dry goods, hardware, &c. To them the newspaper column is a directory. They consult it daily. Notwithstanding this fact is too plain to be misunderstood, there are a large number of merchants and trading men, who neglect to advertise. They go out to hunt up customers. The public don't know of their existence, except by accident. They do a dull business, complain of small sales and become disgusted with the country. They have not the right business spirit. They do not patronize the advertising columns.

There are others who have their eyes wide open as to the true means of success. B. K. Smith is a notable example. He has spent thousands of dollars advertising. A few years ago he commenced business here, poor, but he kept himself displayed in the papers. Scarcely a day passed in which some new advertisement of his did not appear. The ladies, new comers and strangers read the papers, went straight to Smith's and bought their dry goods. Now Smith is rich, and richly deserving all his success. So of Gould & Steere. They have spread themselves with printers ink.

With such men success is certain. They cannot be kept down. They know that they must be known to be patronized, and they advertise liberally. Others might be mentioned, in all trades who have and do act upon this secret. They see the wonderful power of advertising worthless patent medicines, and they believe that it will be equally successful to advertise articles that are valuable.

Let Western business men consider the subject and employ more "printers ink" if they would be made rich. Look at the displayed advertisement of E & R. H. Tyner in our columns! They also have not observed Smith's success without learning wisdom. They have a convenient place of business, and henceforth are bound to let the public know where they are, what they keep, and when they have new arrivals of goods. What a rush of ladies there was at their store yesterday! Crinoline suffered in the "jam."

Every business house in the city which advertises liberally, confesses to a splendid patronage. Let business men take notice, understand the key of success and go and do likewise.

A Tennessee planter lately visited New Orleans, and stopped at the St. Charles Hotel, and in the course of a week created a prodigious sensation. He was a stout plain-looking old fellow, and on the trip down from Memphis contrived to get drunk, so that from the time that he landed in the city, until he left it, he carried on like a crazy man, paying fifty or a hundred times the value of everything he bought. He gave a colored barber $20 for shaving him, and refused to take any change; paid half a dollar for a glass of liquor, declined the change, and gave the barkeeper $20 additional as a free gift. On the latter being rejected, the planter crumpled up the bill, threw it behind the counter, and walked off in a rage. He had all his pockets stuffed with bank notes of the denomination of hundreds, fifties, and twenties, which he threw away recklessly. If he ran against a person he dashed a handful of bills in his face. Not satisfied with this he afterwards paraded the streets with a linen bag so full of silver that it bent him down to carry it!—Wherever he had a chance, he paid for drinks, &c., with a handful of half dollars.—After a three days tour of this description, he packed up and travelled back to Tennessee, where he belonged. He is said to be quite wealthy. The suckers about town are believed to have reaped a grand harvest out of this poor inebriate's folly.

A COW WITH A WOODEN LEG.—The Nottingham Journal says:

"Last week Mr. Robert Wright, farmer, of Burton, Lazars, near Melton Mowbray, had a cow which broke its leg, and which they attempted to set themselves; but finding they could not succeed, they sent for Mr. Reynolds, veterinary surgeon, of Melton Mowbray, who found it in so bad a state as render a amputation necessary, and he has affixed one of timber in its place, which is likely to answer every purpose. It is fastened around the knee joint by means of leather straps, and the beast can use it."

Letters from India state that the mutineers were already in want of ammunition.

CHINA.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the London Times, writing on the 8th of July, gives the following as the course resolved upon by Lord Elgin. The Calcutta, Channon, Pearl, Inflexible, Hornet, and the two gun boats will proceed thence to the mouth of the river Peiho, on which Pekin is situated, Lord Elgin will then dispatch a letter to the Emperor requiring him to either recognize or repudiate the act of his affairs at Canton. If, as is probable, no notice be taken of the letter, or a disposition be shown to entangle the ambassador in questions of ceremony, Lord Elgin will declare war and Conton will be occupied, and such further proceedings taken as may be necessary to bring the Court of Pekin to reason.

LAND WARRANTS

LOCATED

MISSOURI.

WE are now constantly locating Land Warrants in Missouri, near the line of the South West branch of the Pacific R. R. We have a reliable agent stationed in the district, who has been familiar with that section of the State for many years, and who locates warrants on such lands only as he has personally inspected. Missouri is now the only State in which lands can be entered, or located, with any degree of certainty. The settling of the land, the abundance of water and timber, the mildness of the climate, and the prospects of finding beds of valuable minerals, which underlie the finest farming lands, are attracting great numbers of actual settlers there.

We locate Warrants either on examination, or on information from parties who have personally been upon the lands, and can give a perfect description of them. Persons wishing to purchase Warrants, will find it to their interest to call on us before purchasing elsewhere.
