TO BONNERS FERRY BY JANUARY 1

Such are the Orders to the Contractors on the Spokane & International.

"To Bonners Ferry by January 1" is the order that has gone out along the line from E. J. Roberts, superintendent of construction of the Spokane & International Railway.

It looks like a pretty big undertaking, but E. J. Roberts is a man who accomplished big things, and if he has set his head on accomplishing the work outlined above, it is pretty certain that it will be as he says. And if he has given the contractors orders to hustle, it is a pretty sure thing that they will hustle.

Mr. Roberts was in Bonners Ferry on Tuesday, on business connected with the road. He stated while here that track-laying would commence at the C. P. R. junction on Nov. 1. The first 10 miles of the road—that is, from Yak station on C. P. R. to the international boundary line—will be ready for rails by November 1. Track-laying will continue on so that Bonners Ferry will be reached by January 1, if Mr. Roberts has it figured out right. Reports from the contractors, relative to the advancement of their work, indicates that the grading can be completed in that time. The heaviest work to be done is said to be in the first eight miles east and north of this place. The tunnel work has not advanced with the other work. If the contractors are able to complete the tunnels, there is not much doubt about accomplishing the grading.

That a general hurry-up order has gone out is evident from the fact that Grant Smith & Co.'s contract of $500,000 for five miles of grading west of Bonners Ferry has been materially cut down. The work consisted of a high embankment across the valley. The engineers are said to have cut down the grade two feet, besides the plans have been changed to provide for a long trestle in place of the embankment.

While it is evident that the rails will be laid without any loss of time, the road will not be completed by any means, and those who are figuring on construction work to support business can look ahead yet for a considerable period of good times. There will still remain much to do to bring the road up to the standard required for successful operation.

What Is in a Name?

The people of Sandpoint think there is a good deal in a name, as will be seen from the following from the News: "The change of the name of Sandpoint to one of a more pleasing nature is often agitated and the good reason for a change universally admitted, the only objections urged being that the identity of the place. A prominent citizen suggests the name of Grandpoint as meeting every reason for a change and without the objections usually urged. The News considers the suggestion a very happy solution of the question and will be glad to receive and publish the opinions of other citizens as to the fitness of this name and the suggestion of other suitable ones.

State Tax Levy.

The state tax levy as fixed by the state board of equalization is causing considerable friction. All the five Northern counties, except Kootenai, are resisting the levy on the ground that it is above the constitutional limit. Attorney General Guheen replies that the levy is not above the limit, as the total is made up partly of certain special taxes, authorized by the last legislature and other legislatures. There the matter stands, except that Governor Gooding with his usual promptness has ordered the Attorney General to proceed in court to test the case, as some of the counties have intimated they wanted the matter tested.

It is a peculiar feature that counties like Latah and Nez Perce, which are large beneficiaries of these special taxes, and Shoshone county whose members of the legislature voted for these special taxes, are the counties that make the roar. The Governor is doing right to take the case into court. If the special taxes are legal, let them be paid. If not, cut them out, and let future legislatures have a little more care in what they vote.

Spokane Fair next Week.

The Spokane Inter-State Fair opens next Monday and closes on the following Sunday. It promises to be the best annual attraction Spokane has given, and if the weather is favorable there will undoubtedly be a very large attendance. It will afford an occasion for a grand reunion of people from all over the Inland Empire. A great many from this locality are talking of taking advantage of the reduced rates and the opportunity to see the fair and meet their friends from other parts at the same time. There will be both day and evening attractions.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that I will not be responsible for any debts of any nature whatever contracted by my wife, Kate Markham.

A. W. MARKHAM.

Dated at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, October 7, 1905.

—Cottage avenue has a half mile of sidewalk, yet there are gaps where the property owners refuse to construct walks. One man is no better than another, and the town trustees should see that walks are constructed, as the ordinance provides. If the property owners refuse, the ordinance says the trustees may have the walks constructed and the expense charged up to the property. With the rainy season now on, one has to walk around through the mud to travel the street.

Piling Contract.

A. J. Kent has been awarded a contract for 1500 piling to be used in the construction of the Spokane & International Railway. The timbers run from 30 to 60 feet in length. It will require 350 for the bridge and the trestle approach. The balance will be constructed across a part of the valley, commencing at a point about two miles west of Bonners Ferry, being a part of Grant Smith & Co.'s contract. The plans originally called for an embankment, but in order to rush work a trestle will be constructed at present, with a view to filling in with earth at some future time.

Court Postponed.

Judge Morgan has again postponed the opening of the fall term of the district court, and now places the date at October 16. The reason for the last change is that the mother of Judge Morgan's late wife is now quite feeble at her old family home in Illinois, and the judge wishes to pay her a visit before convening court, feeling that this may be his last chance to visit her. —Northern Idaho News.

North Side.

Mrs. Ada M. Carpenter came in from Moravia Saturday, returning Sunday afternoon.

P. W. Batway transacted business in Sand Point this week. Mr. Batway has purchased the relinquishment to Mr. Forese's homestead and expects to move his family to the place soon.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fry, born Saturday morning, died Saturday forenoon and was buried Sunday.

Ira Crawford's News Stand.

Ira Crawford has added a News department to his business at his stand near the Hotel Casey. J. F. Cook, Jr., has turned over his news agency to Mr. Crawford, so that he now has the agency for the Spokesman-Review and all the magazines formerly carried by Mr. Cook. In addition thereto Mr. Crawford will add other Dailies, both eastern and western.

Will Improve the Hotel Casey.

J. W. McKnight, the new proprietor of the Hotel Casey, returned from Kalispell Thursday, where he had been to look after his extensive business interests at that place.

Mr. McKnight is well pleased with Bonners Ferry and his investments here, and intends to enlarge his business.

To a HERALD reporter Mr. McKnight stated that he intended to make extensive improvements in the hotel. He will make it a modern house and one of the best in Northern Idaho, and first-class in every respect. The dining room service will be especially improved. He is negotiating with parties to conduct that department, and promises the public such service as a town the size of Bonners Ferry is entitled to. The hotel will be managed by M. Comstock, an experienced and popular hotel man. Mr. McKnight's other business interests here and at Kalispell, will prevent his giving the hotel his entire attention.

The HERALD is pleased to chronicle the fact that a man of Mr. McKnight's progressiveness and financial standing has located in Bonners Ferry and wishes his enterprises great success.

—We can furnish you with anything in the line of paints at prices that will astonish you. Remember that we handle Masury's paints, which are the best ready mixed paints in the world, and we sell them at the same prices that you pay for poorer paints. Get our prices before you buy elsewhere; we can save you money—Jones & Bishop.

Certificates for Pupils.

County Sup't. R. C. Egbers, has a supply of attendance certificates, to be issued every month to all pupils in the county who are neither absent nor tardy. After three of these monthly certificates have been earned by any pupil, a larger term certificate will be issued, and at the close of the school for the school year in any district, a large annual certificate with gilt seal, will be issued to those pupils who have been neither absent nor tardy during the year.

The monthly certificates will be sent to teachers at once.

—We can fit your feet. We have an extensive line to choose from. You cannot beat our prices any where. Besides our shoes are world-beaters for wear, and a complete line to choose from. Call in at Hollinger's, the big shoe sellers.

James Casey Locates at Sandpoint.

James Casey, who recently sold his property in Bonners Ferry, has decided to locate in Sandpoint. Of this successful hotel man, the Pend d'Oreille Review says: "James Casey, one of the best known hotel men in the northwest and for several years proprietor of the Hotel Casey at Bonners Ferry, which he recently sold, this week purchased of the real estate firm of Ridgway, Partner & Co. the O. C. Travis property at the corner of Cedar and Fourth streets, and announces his intention of erecting a 30-room hotel, probably of brick, to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. The lots carrying the property are two in number, with 142 feet facing on Cedar street and 100 feet on Fourth street. The Travis property was purchased by Ridgway, Partner & Co. a short time ago from Mr. Travis at $1500, and the sale was made to Mr. Casey at $2000.

"Mr. Casey left Wednesday afternoon for Spokane and will bring his family back with him. They will at once take up their residence in the Travis place, move the house to the back end of the lot and the construction of the new hotel will be commenced as soon as the plans can be drawn and the material placed on the ground."

Costs of the Brady Case.

Edwin McPee, the Rathdrum attorney, has received a check from the insurance company for $2000 as attorney for Rev. Father T. J. Purcell in the Brady will case. In accordance with the decree of the supreme court Rev. Father Purcell will be paid his costs of litigation as guardian of the Brady children. The insurance amounts to $6000 and $2000 of the amount was spent in litigation. The court costs and several attorneys' fees come out of the $2000.—Pend d'Oreille Review.
