

Meeting of The City Dads.

The second session of the new city council was held Monday night and considerable business was transacted.

The improvement of the public park was taken up and discussed.

The street commissioner was ordered to see that the side walks of the town be kept in repair and if the property owners fail to do it the work will be done by the city and charged to their property. It is a disgrace to allow some of the walks to be as they are. Sometime some one will have an accident on account of the bad condition of the walks and the city will have a big suit on hand. Property owners should have enough pride in their town to keep the walks in repair but in case they will not the city should. This action will meet with the approval of all, we are sure.

Dr. Rains and the committee on health were ordered to see that some of the filthy places be cleaned up at once as a starter.

Contractor Johnson was given a portion of the street in which to pile the building material to be used in the Savings and Trust building.

The Lyric theatre was ordered to line the machine room with asbestos and provide more exits.

An ordinance regulating the speed of autos was ordered drawn and will be passed.

Fenn Batty asked permission to remodel his house on his lot in the east end of town and will be allowed to if it is possible to find some way to get around the ordinance regarding the fire limit. The house is off in one corner of the lot and not dangerous to other buildings.

There is every indication that we have an active council who will do things, just what Grangeville needs.

We understand a Seattle mercantile firm has rented one of the new brick store rooms which is being built this spring.

Mrs. G. W. Moore and children of California are her for a visit at the Allen home, Mrs. Moore being a sister of Mrs. Allen.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a cooked food and apron sale Saturday, May 22, at the post office building. 50-2

Dr. Campbell, assisted by Dr. Stockton, performed an operation on E. B. Meek last week, raising certain portions of the skull, which on account of an injury once received was bearing heavily on the brain.

Ferdinand Man Pays For Whipping Boy

Albert McGuire was the complaining witness in the case of State of Idaho vs P. A. McGuire, charged with assault with deadly weapon. Both parties are from the neighborhood of Winona, the prosecuting witness being a son of the defendant. According to the story of the son the old man had come to his place early in April and started a row over the leasing of some Indian land and ended it by threatening to kill his offspring. The young man, who is just a year or two past his majority, told some pretty fierce things of the defendant. The defendant, however, denied point blank most of the accusations. The boy introduced several witnesses who corroborated his testimony and the old gentleman had but one witness. The court discharged the defendant. Atty. Scales appeared for the defendant and Atty. Gilmore prosecuted.

There is going to be some trouble for Chris. Waldmann, a Cottonwood saloon keeper. Atty. Gilmore is after him for selling booze to some of the Indians who played in the Stites ball team here. The complaint charges him with selling liquor to Jesse James and B. Corbet. Waldmann was brought over and taken before the probate judge yesterday and plead not guilty. He was placed under a $200 bond which he furnished and will come up for trial Thursday of next week. There are some fine points of law apt to come up in this case and the outcome will be watched with interest.

Charles Lewis of Ferdinand was brought before the probate judge the first of the week and charged with striking the son of C. M. Fagan with a board in cruel manner. He plead guilty and paid a fine and costs of $35.

Clothesline Reel.
A West Virginia man has devised a reel, herewith shown, on which the clothesline can be gathered quickly and neatly, and she who presides over the family wash will no longer have to loop the rope over thumb and elbow. The reel is in the form of a huge spool or iron framework, with a handle in the center by which it may be held and another handle at one end by which it may be turned. The line is fastened to a V shaped bend in the hub and rolled over the reel with neatness and dispatch. If the line is wet the open framework gives it a better chance to dry than when it is folded in the old way.

Episcopal Wit.
"Our Bishop Burgess," said a Garden City man, "is one of the few American clergymen who, being graduates of the famous University of Oxford, are entitled to wear the Oxford hood."

"At a certain service another bishop, also an Oxford man, nodded toward the officiating clergyman and whispered excitedly to Bishop Burgess:

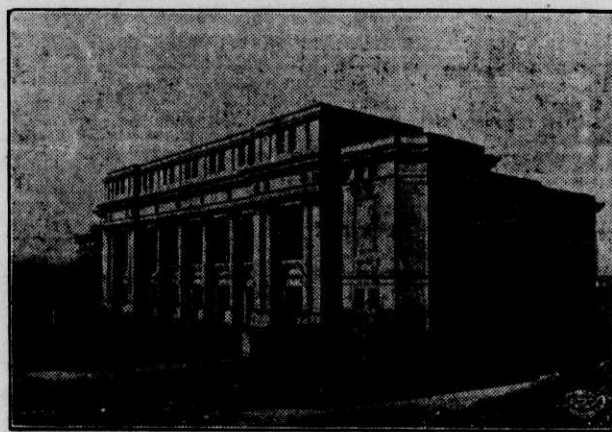

"Why, look! He has got an Oxford hood on."
"So he has," said Bishop Burgess.
"But he is not entitled to it. He has no Oxford degree," exclaimed the first bishop. "Why, the man is wearing a lie on his back."

"Hush," said Bishop Burgess. "Don't call it a lie. Call it a false hood."—Cleveland Leader.

About Ivory Handled Knives.
To restore the color to ivory handled knives after they have become yellow rub them with fine emery or sandpaper. This will restore their whiteness and will remove the stains.

THE AUDITORIUM AT A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

Probably the most striking structure on the grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition is the Auditorium. It is builded of reinforced concrete, steel and brick and is a part of the rich legacy which is to be handed down to the State University when the Fair is over.

The Auditorium stands upon an eminence overlooking the main entrance to the Exposition Grounds. It is now in use as a lecture room by the University Law School and for all assemblies of students. It has a seating capacity of close to 3000, which can be greatly increased.

THE FINE ARTS PALACE, A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

Into the Palace of Fine Arts there has gone as fine a collection of works of art as has ever been shown at a world's fair. It is made of loan collections from Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany and Eastern states of America. Also there are valuable specimens of the notable works of their ancient artists.

So valuable is the collection that insurance in the sum of $1,200,000 has been placed upon it with Lloyds.

The building is absolutely fireproof. It is of reinforced concrete brick and, at the end of the Exposition, it will revert to the University of Washington, by which it will be used as a School of Chemistry.
