

KOOSKIA

(From Mountaineer.)

It is no longer safe to use the telephone for the transaction of business or any private conversation. The rubbernecks have the service badly crippled and it's a wonder that business houses do not cut out their phones entirely.

As no monthly report cards were issued in the Kooskia school, or reports of attendance, etc., published, was a hard matter to gain any knowledge regarding the progress made during the last term of school. This is the first time that such things have been lost sight of in this school.

Dr. Wollenberg has purchased a drug store in Seattle to which he will devote his time and attention for a while. Mrs. W. will join him next week.

Willie Corbett and bride arrived on last evening's train from the east and proceeded to the Corbett home south of town where they will reside for the present.

The ball game last Saturday at Kamiah between our team and the Kamiah Indians, resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 13 to 7. Not a bad game at all.

A young man named Helmann, working with the N. P. surveyors, was taken to the company hospital at Missoula yesterday. It appears that he fell from a log on which he was walking and jarred his internal mechanism in such a manner that the railroad physician here advised a trip to the hospital.

General Agent Jordan and one of President Elliott's right-hand men were here this week getting pointers on the movements of railroad surveyors in this locality. It is no sham battle this time between the Hill and Harriman lines and if indications count for anything, the railroad game in the Clearwater country will soon come to a show down. Things are edging in that direction every day.

L. C. Harrington came in this week from a six months' sojourn trapping on the Selway. He brought down five cougar hides, six bobcats and a lot of small furs, but were it not for the bounty on cougar the furs would not have given him much pay for his hard winter's work. He claims that he had eight cougar hides in all, but three of them were taken out by his partner, who claims the bounty, and this matter is yet to be settled.

KEUTERVILLE

Ben Krieger finished sawing last Friday.

F. W. Lawrence of Spokane is here buying shop lumber from the mills.

Next Sunday our ball team will again cross bats with Cottonwood's second team. As this game is to be played on the home grounds the boys are confident of victory.

On account of the rain the dance given here Tuesday evening was rather poorly attended.

Barney Luchtfeld, Henry Breckman and Hans Pederson attended the market day sale at Ferdinand Saturday.

A. D. Williams started his sawmill Monday and the Hussman Lumber Company who are installing heavier machinery, will start next Monday.

Frank Forsman of Cottonwood was up Monday and made arrangements with the Hussman Lumber Company for lumber to be used on his ranch.

Miss Mary Hoene is expected home from Lewiston next Saturday.

Mr. Spencer, of Vollmer, and Mr. Frank Keenan, of Spokane were here Tuesday securing contracts for lumber.

Princess Flour is easy to bake 37f

Critics say that "Black Bag" is Mr. Vance's best story and he has written some very interesting ones. Next week the Free Press will begin its publication. Will you read it on our recommendation?

The contractors are ready to begin the construction of a new brick where our store now stands and we have to get out. Come now and buy goods in our line cheaper than ever before. Bertsch, hardware and harness. 51f

Boys in Trouble

A number of youngsters ranging in age from ten to seventeen were brought up from Stites last Saturday and taken before Judge Jaques. They are charged with robbing a store down there and tearing up things in general. Their hearing has been set for May 26 and it is probable the younger ones will be sent to the state reformatory and those of more mature age will get a more severe punishment.

With three first-class barbers they can take care of all the Saturday business at Hagan's shop. 51-1

Patience.

Time's poultice for all wounds.
The courage to suffer in silence.
The soul's smile at trial and pain.
The serene stimulus that comes from faith.

The optimism of the soul expressed in bearing.

The gentle heroism of the day by day battle of life.

Working, watching, waiting, without weariness or worry.

Daily conquest of an environment by rising superior to it.

The individual wall of defense against which all waves of trouble hurl themselves harmlessly.

Constant new strength to resist the same old troubles.—William George Jordan in New York Tribune.

Tales They Tell.

A colt is being reared by L. H. Greenwald of York county, Pa., on five quarts of milk and several eggs a day.

Edward Thompson, a watchman at Perth Amboy, N. J., says a rat comes to him every day and gets a chew of tobacco.

A Swiss has taken the trouble to count all the steps he took during a year. He found the number to be 9,760,000, which gives 25,740 steps a day.

A horse at Atlantic Highlands, N. J., having been hit by an automobile going sixty miles an hour and a little later by a railroad train, was rescued uninjured, swimming in the Shrewsbury river.

English Etchings.

It is proposed to paint the gun ports of the Victory yellow, their color at Trafalgar, and to re-rig the ship as she was in Nelson's time.

Organ builders of old built to good purpose, as the one in Allhallows church, Barking, England, shows, it having been installed in 1677. It is now undergoing only its second renovation.

The historic Great Queen Street chapel, or, as it is better known, Kingsway hall, in London, has been declared unsafe for further use, which will be a hard blow for the Methodists, but they will at once try to raise $125,000 with which to rebuild.

Mean Insinuation.

"Here is a book of love poems," said the leading lady. "I have kept them under my pillow for seven moons."

"How thoughtful!" laughed the low comedian.

"Thoughtful?"

"Yes. You know they say all poetry improves with age."—Los Angeles Times.

VELIE-- Vehicles of Quality

Style, Finish, Workmanship and Durability Unequaled. A good Vehicle is

A Comfort
A Convenience
A Business Asset

YOU have met a stranger driving a skinny, bony horse hitched to a rickety buggy. You formed a mental picture of his home surroundings. In your mind you can see his tumble-down buildings, weedy fence corners and barren doorway. It seems clear to you that this man is poor—and still you may be mistaken. Millionaires sometimes live in hovels. But you know how little respect is shown such people.

Another thing; it is hard to correct a bad impression, even if wrong. People are judged by their "turnouts" quite as much as by their clothes.

"VELIE" VEHICLES

are built for the man who takes pride in what he has and wants to be judged right when away from home. They are the thoroughbreds of the vehicle world. They have style about them that attracts and satisfies. The springs are "velvety" and the seat comfortable. There is room enough to be cool in summer and for plenty of robes and wraps in winter.

VELIE VEHICLES have remarkable strength and general staunchness—they will stand rough usage, but pride in their quality will not let you abuse them.
