BETTER SIRE FOR BANTAMS

Culpeper County (Virginia) Farmer Raises Purebreds From Chickens to Dairy Cattle.

From bantam chickens to Holstein cattle is the range of live stock on the farm of Sam Sullivan & Sons, who recently enrolled in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" movement that is being directed by the United States Department of Agriculture. This farm, which is located in Culpeper county, Virginia, raises Holstein cattle, Duroc Jersey swine, Rhode Island White chickens, White Holland turkeys, white guinea fowls, Cochon bantams, and Muscovy ducks.

Purebred horses also are kept on this farm, but no stallion is maintained. In accordance with the requirements of the better-sires movement, which is aimed to improve the average quality of farm live stock, all of the stock listed is bred to purebred sires.

Long Lapse of Memory.
One of the most famous examples of official oversight occurred in connection with Drury Lane theater, where for nearly two centuries soldiers stood on guard outside during each performance. Many thought the guard was there in recognition of Drury Lane as the theater royal, but the real fact was that it was sent there originally by George II, to prevent a threatened riot. The order not being countermanded, the guard was continued until 1894.—London Times.

Cool Summer Footwear For Boys, Girls and Children

Fodder Hung in Trees.
In Cashmere a novel method of putting fodder away for winter use is in vogue. The chief industry of the people consists in raising fine wool and in making this into fabrics which have carried the name of the country all over the world. As in winter snow lies some five or six yards deep, supplies of hay are hung among the branches of trees, where they are easily reached by the flocks of sheep.

Horse's Action Instinctive.
The reason that a horse lays back his ears when angered harks back to the days of the wild horse, when fights between wild stallions were everyday affairs. When engaged in a fight the horse's natural instinct was to protect his most sensitive organ, his ears, from the cruel teeth of his opponent. With this end in view he would lay them well back along his neck, out of harm's way.
