

Cat, in Church Organ, Scared Out When Player Turns on Fortissimo

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE) DANVILLE, Pa., Oct.—A. E. Mackie, of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, was delivering a mighty good sermon. He was working well toward the climax and his voice thundered forth. The subject was "The Least in the Kingdom."

Just then a big cat sneaked into church, hid in the pipe organ and a minute later out a powerful y-e-o-o-w which drowned out the minister. A couple of minutes later, just as the person was getting warmed up again, the cat again began howling. Then Rev. Mackie announced: "Either that cat must go or I shall dismiss the congregation."

The threat had no effect on the cat, according to those present. The organist had better luck when she sounded the deepest bass note of the organ. It was fortissimo all right. The organist put all the wind at her command in that note. With a frightened howl the cat scampered out of the organ and jumped through the nearest window.

Great American Drought Is Boon to English Fake Flask Makers

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE) LONDON, Oct.—Sheffield workers are rejoicing in American prohibition, for it brings them prosperity in hard times.

The "Pussyfoot" department of the Sheffield firms is working overtime to satisfy the insistent demand for electro-plate and silver opera glasses, clear cases and similar articles for the United States.

Orders are pouring in by the thousand, and one firm alone has orders for fifteen thousand opera glasses on hand.

This does not signify a great stage revival in America, but merely ly further evasion of prohibition regulations. The innocent-looking opera glasses are "fakes." If one eyepiece is screwed off, a neat little flask, capable of holding a considerable amount of liquor, is revealed. Hence the urgent export orders.

Prohibition has no more enthusiastic supporters than these fortunate employees, who are working to capacity while many of their fellows are unemployed.

They drink "Pussyfoot's" health daily and long for the day when other countries, at a decent rate of exchange, do dry also.

HERE ARE SUITS FOR SPORTS, DRESS AND BUSINESS WEAR

These are three suits, all different, yet all aiming to clothe mildly properly for some fall or winter occasion. The knickerbockers with a warm sweater coat and wool scarf form the sport suit. In the center is a taupe duvetyn trimmed with black astrakhan, which is suitable for street and business wear, while at the right is a gray duvetyn suit for more formal wear. It is a gorgeous affair, machine stitched in gray and banded in soft Russian squirrel.

PRINCE UMBERTO IS POPULAR IN ITALY

ROME, Oct.—Prince Umberto, eldest son of the king of Italy, who has just reached his majority, is the Italian counterpart of the prince of Wales.
Many believe that Prince Umberto is the most handsome of all Europe's heirs-apparent; certainly he is popular with his people.
Very tall and dark, like his Montenegrin mother, and with her large, expressive brown eyes, the prince has a smile which is charming.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

ETIQUETTE

They've sent a book of etiquette To me, and I am very happy. For if I must make social ulis, I'd rather make 'em right and snappy.

When I spill gravy on my tie, All others may be boots, but I Will never tote the boorish banner.

Where'er I pull a social bono, I'll do it in a way de rigger. When I upset my glass, I'll be with ease and grace of figger.

It used to gall me quite a bit To land upon my ear while dale-ing. But now the book will show me how To do it in a way entrancing.

I used to be a social flop, As dumb as a finale-hopper. But now when I make my mistakes, I will know how to make 'em proper.

Boston actress asks $100,000 heart balm from manufacturer. It would have been almost as cheap to have married her.

The champ optimist is the man who goes to a political banquet to get something to eat.

Nowadays the sun never sets on England's troubles.

A gentleman calling on a Brooklyn man observed: "Mr. Jones, your clock is not quite right, is it?"
"Well, you see, sir, nobody don't understand that clock but me. When the hands point to 12, then it strikes 8, and then I know it is twenty minutes of 7."

Banks complain of a scarcity of small change. What's the difference? You can't buy anything with it nowadays.

Kaiser's new wife is to style herself "Queen of Prussia." She probably will earn anything she can get in the way of titles.

We are becoming an absentminded race. A Kansas woman killed a man the other day and hid the body under her bed, and then forget all about it until four or five days later, when she was doing her sweeping.

Personally we can't see why the Turks want to get back into Europe. Almost anybody should be glad to get out.

Headline says "Rubber Bands Operating on East Side." Ah, making it snappy?

Prince Umberto has an excellent military record, having entered the army a year ago as a private, gradually working his way upward to a commission as a sub-lieutenant. Since the age of twelve he has been actively interested in the work of the Italian Boy Scouts and has been largely responsible for the growth of this organization in his homeland.

Italians complain that they do not see enough of their prince, and they wonder the manner in which the prince of Wales moves about among his father's subjects.

WARSAW, Oct.—Warsawans are being offered 50,000 Russian rubles as a special inducement to purchase a $1 box of patent medicine. The maker claims the nominal par value of the 50,000 rubles is around $25,000, but fails to mention the fact that one American dollar will buy 7,000,000 rubles in Russia.

PERU, Oct.—Jean Carl Hoffman, organist, who has studied abroad under the direction of famous European masters, and who recently was secured as supervisor of music at a theater here, will take part in an American Legion minstrel here, playing a piano for three minutes while standing on his head.

He will play also with his hands gloved, wrists handcuffed, arms tied in a bag, eyes blindfolded and piano keys covered.
