MAY ESTABLISH MOTOR SCHOOL HERE AFTER ALL

Army Officers Make New Survey of Springbrook Park and Will Likely Reduce Size of School.

South Bend may obtain a government motor training school after all, although the school may be on a smaller scale than the one first proposed for this city.

Capt. Newbauer and Lieut. R. R. Estill, connected with the cantonment at Valparaiso, spent Wednesday afternoon in South Bend and Mishawaka and viewed the proposed site at Springbrook park for a motor training school.

To Reduce Size. While Springbrook park is adaptable for a training school, it is not adequate to establish one accommodating more than 500 men.

The officers also said that it will be possible to obtain motor trucks for use at Springbrook park through Valparaiso.

Up to the visit of the two officers here Wednesday afternoon, it was generally believed that the government had abandoned its plans to establish a motor training school in South Bend.

Will Report Favorable. The committee in charge of the work here discontinued any operations in connection with the establishment of the school following the receipt of a telegram from Congressman H. A. Barnhart...
