PLEA FOR UNITED WAR WORK DRIVE

Dr. Parker Says Movement Passes Experimental Stage in U. S.

In connection with the United War Work campaign, the preliminary work for which is now being pushed ahead, Dr. B. Earle Parker has furnished the following article:

"The cause for which we plead today represents a distinctly American idea. It is an attempt to carry the best influences at home to the men in the army and navy and to back up the noble women who have left home to back up the men in the varied ways open to women. This movement has passed the experimental stage and justified itself by putting in the field the most sober and moral army that ever battled for God and country. Imitation is the sincerest flattery. Our hard pressed allies have gone further than imitation. They have asked us to help them to do for their men what we have done for our own."

"The representatives of these countries have in four years of bitter experience learned to estimate things that have to do with the army at their right value. By a natural process of growth seven distinct agencies for this work came into the field last year and conducted as many campaigns for funds. Inasmuch as they center on a common objective President Wilson asked them to combine their budgets and raise the amount necessary, $170,500,000, in one drive. This will save an enormous amount of labor and time and emphasize the essential unity of these endeavors. This in a word is the reason for this drive. We at home are asked to work together for the men away from home who are working together for us and ours."

Gradually Respond to Challenge. "We gladly respond to this challenge and with generous devotion put it over. We did a fine thing for ourselves as well as for our country when we bought Liberty bonds and Thrift stamps and now we are going to do a right and fine thing by coming across to protect the boys who have gone across for us. Money cast upon these waters will return after many days in the form of a satisfied conscience that hath root in a duty well done."

"By following the boys with good books and trained librarians, erecting huts where they may receive sound instruction and hear noble addresses on the religious life, by affording them wholesome amusement and properly conducted recreation, and by the personal contact with gifted and high-minded men, we are making it harder for them to go wrong. Satan fell from heaven and Judas failed through a companion of Christ. This is the tragedy of human life and the inevitable accompaniment of free will. Some of our boys will go wrong despite these saving influences. But on the whole, thanks to these agencies and the native qualities of American manhood, the American army is the finest body of men on earth."

"If we do our duty now, no American soldier now or in the perilous days to follow the end of the war, can fail of the highest manhood because the best in our modern life was not at hand."

LEON LAPORTE BADLY WOUNDED

Young Belgian Soldier Who Visited Mishawaka is Now in French Hospital.

Leon Laporte, the young Belgian soldier who spent several weeks visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frans Laporte, 535 W. Sixth st. during March, 1918, was severely wounded in action and is now in a hospital in France. His message was received by his parents Friday afternoon. While in Mishawaka Laporte assisted in a Red Cross war fund drive which was then in progress.

He has been fighting with the Belgian army since the outbreak of the war. After four years of fighting he was taken ill with typhoid fever. After recovering from this attack he was given permission to come to America on furlough. He has a brother in the Belgian army who is in the thickest of the fighting according to a letter received from this young man by his parents Friday.

Frans Laporte, the father, came to the United States just before the war was declared. Mrs. Laporte, remained in Belgium for two years but succeeded in fleeing from that country and came to Mishawaka to join her husband. Leon Laporte is 24 years old.

Last week, Julius Bennett received a letter from him which he had written from the front on Sept. 9. He stated that it was his greatest desire to see King Albert walk through the streets of Brussels again. He enclosed a photograph of himself.

Kenyon Mix last evening received a telegram from G. M. Williams, assistant to the president of the Dayton-Wright Airplane company, who was summoned home from Mishawaka yesterday afternoon on account of a death of a relative. Mr. Williams flew back to Dayton accompanied by Howard Rhinehart, and according to the telegram made the journey from here to the Ohio city, a distance of 175 miles, in one hour and 27 minutes with a side wind all the way. There were no stops. Mr. Williams thanked Mr. Mix for the warmth of the reception accorded him during his short stay in the city and regretted that circumstances rendered it necessary for him to leave so hurriedly.

B. L. Whelan, who was accompanied in another plane by L. R. Scafe, is still in the city and will give an exhibition during this forenoon returning to Dayton in the afternoon. The flyers came to Mishawaka in two De Havilland battle planes the bodies and planes of which are made by the National Veneer Products Co., of this city.

The government through the gas division is making a special appeal for everyone to help save nut shells and pits which are extensively used in the making of carbon for gas masks. A. C. Haslanger is chairman of the enterprise, having been appointed by the Red Cross society.

AIRPLANE MAKES QUICK PASSAGE

Between Mishawaka and Dayton—Flyer Will Go Up This Afternoon.

Mr. Haslanger so far has sent to headquarters no less than eight well filled barrels, a photograph of which was taken on the day of shipment and which accompanies this article. These were collected through the enterprise of the chairman who appealed through the newspapers for help towards making the campaign one of which Mishawaka might well feel proud.

A million pounds of these shells and pits are required daily and as this requirement is not being met, it has been found necessary to make a further appeal. Owing to the shortage, the government has been forced to use wood charcoal to mix with shell charcoal. The former being heavier than shells it packs down and renders breathing more difficult.

Mr. Haslanger in this campaign is going to enlist the services of the boys of the city, and suggests they make up parties and go nitting to the woods in order that Uncle Sam may get what he needs so badly. Collection stations will be started at every school as soon as the ban is lifted and also at the township schools. Stations will also be established at the Woolen Co., Dodge Co., Rubber Co., and at Went's drug store. Every Saturday the boys when organized will gather the collections from these places and help in the shipment of them.

All kinds of shells including cocoonut, bitter hickory or pig nuts, walnut shells without the husks, prune, plum and cherry pits are what is wanted. It is considered best to extract the meat from the shells, it having a market value.
