

DAY BOOK STARTS STRIKERS' FUND
MANY KILLED IN POWDER BLAST—WOULD NAMELESS CHILD LAW BENEFIT CHICAGO?

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOL. 5, NO. 55 Chicago, Wednesday, December 1, 1915

398

NEWSPAPER AUTOS TO OBEY SPEED LAWS

Judge Sabath Orders Police to Arrest All Drivers Who Disregard Street Rules—Promises Strong Corrective Measures.

Judge Sabath in the speeders' court has declared war on reckless and speeding newspaper auto drivers. The hair-brained youngster at the wheel of a heavy truck will get at it hereafter.

Two weeks ago the judge saw a newspaper delivery auto smashing its way through the loop on 5th av. The next day and the day after he called up all of the motorcycle cops in his court.

"Now I want you to arrest every reckless newspaper driver you can get," he said. "It matters not for what paper he works. If you see him breaking the law in his effort to get papers somewhere in a hurry, take him in. I'll do the rest."

Newspaper drivers and the speeders' court have been strangers for many a year. Within a week after the judge instructed the cops, two drivers of the Daily News and Herald were arrested.

The News driver was found not guilty; the driver for the Herald was put on probation until next year with threat of a heavy fine if he is caught speeding again.

Sabath thought that if the speed-