

REVIVE BEER BILL TO IMPEDE ACTION ON TREATY OF PEACE

"DRYS" AND "WETS" STAGE RUM PUS IN SENATE, EACH REFUSING TO BUDGE FROM ORIGINAL STANDS.

Washington, Oct. 1.—After radical "drys" had forced Republican leaders to pledge that there would be no adjournment of the present session of congress until the anti-beer bill is disposed of, the senate yesterday reached an unanimous consent agreement to vote Oct. 14 on the German, Austrian and Hungarian peace treaties.

The backers of the German treaty were related at dispatches from Berlin that the reichstag had ratified the peace treaty with the United States.

But in the senate here peace and beer collided head-on in yesterday's proceedings and threatened to block each other indefinitely. For a time it seemed probable that the "drys" would obstruct the whole legislative program, but party feuds during the afternoon brought them to terms.

Shortly after the senate convened yesterday Senator Lodge, Republican leader, proposed a unanimous consent agreement to vote on Oct. 14 on the treaties. Senator Sterling of South Dakota, "dry" leader, promptly objected. He gave notice that he would oppose any agreement that did not include a provision for voting on the much disputed beer bill.

"Wet" senators, with equal promptness, clearly demonstrated that they would consent to no agreement that did not provide for a vote on the beer bill. With the situation thus deadlocked Senator Lodge withdrew his proposal temporarily.

At the close of the session he offered it again. Senator Sterling made a brief statement to the effect that he had been in conference with Republican leaders and had received an iron clad assurance that no adjournment would be attempted until the beer bill was finally disposed of. Senator Reed, Missouri, Democrat, who opposes the beer bill, gave notice that he was not a party to any such understanding.

The unanimous consent agreement contains several provisions. One of them provides that whenever debate on the treaties tags, the tax revision bill may be taken up at any time, but no attempt was made to fix a time for voting on the tax bill. Another proviso is to the effect that the old agreement to vote on Oct. 10 on the Borah bill for free Panama canal tolls for American coastwise shipping shall not be abrogated.

Yesterday's motion forecasts the possibility of a Democratic filibuster against the treaties and virtually assures ratifications before the international conference on the limitation of armaments begins on Nov. 11.

M'COUPIN-GREENE COUNTIES IN RACE FOR SMALL'S TRIAL

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—Failure of counsel for Gov. Small to agree with the state's attorney of Sangamon county as to which county should be chosen for a change of venue is expected to force the trial of the governor in either Greene or Macon county.

Another effort will be made Tuesday to reach an agreement between the lawyers, but it is not expected to be successful. The question of which county the trial will take place in will then depend upon which of the circuit judges in the Sangamon county district disposes of the motion.

Judge Jones of Cahoonville does so it is expected to be assigned to Macon county, from which Judge P. W. Burton of the Sangamon county circuit court comes. If Judge Burton passes on the motion he is expected to send it to Jones' court, in Greene county. Morgan county (Jacksonville) is also in the circuit, but both Governor Small and Mortimer are opposed to trial there.

If the shade of the immortal Eugene Field wanders back to earth occasionally it undoubtedly would have paid a visit to the Presbyterian church at last night and laughed heartily at some of Gene's old jokes that were cleverly presented by Purson Vonckx, Bill Andrews, Prof. Sam Mosby and Otto Parinbals, and it would have looked a trifle serious when Miss Fay Kelly related the tragic story of the terrible scrap between the gingham doll and the called out. And the shade surely would have shed a sympathetic tear when Miss Laura Caten read the rhythmic lines that tell how an angel called on Little Boy Blue when he slept and bade him leave his drum and tin soldier and toy dog and other playthings and go with him to another world.

The Presbyterians made a fine success of their Eugene Field commemorative program last night. It proved a strong attraction and a big crowd turned out to hear the half-dozen speakers dilate on the picturesque career of the famous journalist, humorist and beloved children's poet. Each one of the program displayed creditable talent, showing familiarity with their subject and were able to pay deserved tribute to the memory of the renowned literary giant.

Miss Caten declared that Mr. Field was the nation's favorite child's prose and poetical story writer because he lived, at least in spirit, with the children and possessed even in his manhood years, an intimate knowledge of their dispositions and feelings and truly loved them. His imagination was remarkable and enabled him to become a master in the art of composing expressive sentences in the language of children. He wrote poems and stories for them and not about them. She averred he wrote many ballads that have been set to music by American composers and are esteemed highly by all classes of people who hear them.

Miss Emily Palmer accompanied by Miss Helen Hoff, sang charmingly two pretty songs and then responded to an insistent encore. She unfolded harmonies that delighted her auditors.

The closing feature was the serving of refreshments which were provided by Matt Bach and Geo. Crawford. The coffee was of the famous Crawford brew and as is always the case was of the most excellent quality.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Yeatzer of Prospect avenue today issued invitations for the marriage of their only daughter, Margaret, and Robert Glover Robertson, of Lynchburg, Va., which will be solemnized on next Saturday evening, Oct. 15, at 8:20 o'clock at the Yeatzer home just at the edge of Highland place. Two hundred guests have been invited to the nuptial, which will be one of the most prominent events held in Ottawa society this year.

Miss Yeatzer has chosen her cousin, Miss Sarah Taylor, for her maid of honor. She will be attended by four bridesmaids, a sister of the groom, Miss Frances Robertson, of Lynchburg, and three intimate friends and former school mates, Miss Susanne Woodward of Horizon, Wis., a former Ottawa girl, Miss Hope Neidig, who attended school in Washington, D. C., with Miss Yeatzer, and Miss Elizabeth Vincent, who is attending school at Madison, Wis.

John Church of Cincinnati will serve as best man for Mr. Robertson and Lightton Yeatzer, a brother of the bride, and Alfred Taylor, her cousin, will be the ushers.

Numerous pre-nuptial events have been planned for Miss Yeatzer for the coming two weeks. In addition to the events which have already taken place.

On Monday Mrs. Yeatzer and Miss Yeatzer will entertain with a tea at their home. On Tuesday Miss Ina Snow will entertain with a bridge party at her home on Ottawa avenue. Mrs. Lester H. Strawn has issued invitations for a bridge party which she will hold for Miss Yeatzer on Thursday at her home, and on Saturday Mrs. John Manley Jordan will entertain for the bride to be.

Beginning Right
"The habit of saving money stiffens the will and brightens the energies. If you would be sure you are beginning right, begin to save."
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The above was Roosevelt's advice to young men. Coming from a man who won notable successes in many lines, it is a thought well worth tucking away in the corner of your mind. Have you begun right, and are you keeping on?
