CHICAGO CAR BARN BANDITS TO BE HUNG THIS MORNING

Neidermeyer Has So Far Recovered That He Will Be Able to Walk to His Doom—Governor Yates Refused to Interfere Habeas Corpus Writ Denied.

Chicago, April 21.—Peter Neidermeyer, Harvey Van Dine and Gustav Marx, the youthful car barn bandits began their last full day on earth this morning, apparently indifferent to the fact that they are to die on the gallows tomorrow.

Neidermeyer has so far recovered from his self-inflicted wounds and the effects of the phosphorous he swallowed that he was permitted to eat poached eggs today at noon.

Marx and Van Dine at every opportunity ask how Neidermeyer is getting along and both express the hope that he will live to accompany them to the scaffold.

Neidermeyer made the announcement at noon that Neidermeyer would walk to the gallows on Friday.

Governor Yates, following the recommendation of the state board of pardons, declined to stay the execution of Van Dine.

Neidermeyer some time ago made a statement that he and two companions had killed Barrett and that Sammons and Lynch were innocent.

The prisoner is in a much better condition than I had expected to find him. He will be able to walk to the gallows on Friday, but if he is unable to do so he will be carried, even if a stretcher has to be provided for that purpose.
