Plant Changes Hands.—The Sieg Iron company has taken over the stock of the Peter Lamp Iron company, 213 West Third street, the stock to be moved to the plant of the purchasing company on Fifth, between Rock Island and Iowa streets and a new building will be erected on that site to house the increased stock. Both of the concerns are pioneer Davenport enterprises, the Sieg Iron company having been founded in 1869 and the Peter Lamp Iron company several years previous to that time. Two and a half years ago the Sieg Iron and Sickness and Preston companies were consolidated. The proprietors of the Peter Lamp company during the last few years have been J. Lage and E. Davenport at Head.—Three hundred reptiles from cities in the United States were received by Mayor Alfred C. Mueller and Secretary Norwood of the Commercial club in response to queries as to how the street and alley cleaning problems were solved. Judging from the 266 communications the city of Davenport is far ahead of the average American city in the manner of handling its street and alley cleaning. In many cities the sprinkling of the streets is charged to the property owners on the thoroughfares. Davenport is ahead of most cities in its alley cleaning. Few municipalities in America, according to the reptiles received, have an annual cleanup of alleys. On the whole the information thus obtained is highly gratifying and shows that Davenport is one of the cleanest cities in America.

EX-KING MANUEL SHOWS FORESIGHT; YEARNS FOR THRONE AND FIANCEE'S RICH PA WOULD PAY WELL TO MAKE HER A QUEEN

London, June 9.—The unusual foresight of ex-King Manuel of Portugal is exemplified in his betrothal to Princess Augustine Victoria, the eldest daughter of Prince William of Hohenzollern. Ever since Portugal became a republic the ex-king has been out of a job. He would very much like to get back on the job again. But he realizes that to bring about this happy consummation he must have a good deal of money. Now it develops that his fiancee's father, who is one of the wealthiest men in Europe, is willing to dig far down into his jeans to make his daughter a queen.

According to the Portuguese monarchists, whose headquarters are in this city, Prince William has declared his intention of dedicating his fortune to the return of Manuel to his kingdom and making his daughter a queen. He belongs to the elder branch of the Hohenzollerns, and the rights of his family in the German empire, especially in Prussia, were superior to those of the reigning line. These rights were surrendered to Prussia in 1850, but ever since that time the family has longed to get near a throne again. The best chance seems to be via Portugal.

The bride-elect, her father's eldest child and only daughter, has been practically at the head of his household for the last year or two, and it is expected that she and Manuel will maintain an establishment in Berlin as well as having an apartment in Sigmaringen castle fitted up for them. Sigmaringen castle is the home of Prince William and is one of the most romantic and inaccessible places in all Germany. Manuel and his bride will style themselves King and Queen of Portugal and be in active communication with the monarchists. It is likely, too, that they will spend considerable time in England, plotting with the monarchists the overthrow of the Portuguese republic.

No man is Stronger Than his Stomach

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about which every man or woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 51 one-cent stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing.

LET the greatest athletes have dyspepsia and his strength will soon fail. One's stamina—forcefulness and strength of mind or muscle depend upon the blood, and the blood in turn, requires a healthy stomach, for the stomach is the laboratory where the food is digested and such elements are taken up—or assimilated—which make blood. In consequence all the organs of the body, such as heart, lungs, liver and kidneys, as well as the nervous system, feel the bad effect if the stomach is deranged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to digest food properly, starts the liver into new activity, removing the poisons from the blood, and the various organs get rich, red blood, instead of being ily nourished. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over 40 years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form, or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce, Medical Hotel, Buffalo, and a trial box will be mailed you.
