

The Cairo Bulletin.

BY JOHN H. OBERLY & CO.

CAIRO, ILLINOIS, MAY 9, 1871.

ONLY DAILY PAPER IN EGYPT.

HOTELS.

CRAWFORD HOUSE
Corner Sixth and Walnut Streets,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.
Proprietors, W. H. GARDNER & CO.

COMMERCIAL HOTEL.
Commercial Ave., Opposite Post Office
CAIRO, ILLINOIS.
Proprietor, JOSEPH BAYLIS.

Wm. H. Myers, Jno. H. Cannon
JNO. H. CANNON & CO.
Wholesale Dealers in
STR. W & SILK MILLINERY GOODS.
507 N. 4th St., cor. St. Charles,
Over U. S. Express Office, ST. LOUIS.

ATTORNEYS.
WHEELER & WHEELER,
ATTORNEYS & COUNSELLORS AT LAW.
Office Rooms 7 & 8 Winter's Block.

GREEN & GILBERT,
ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELLORS AT LAW.
Office on Ohio Street, Room 7 and over City National Bank.

WOOD BROTHERS
Proprietors of W. & S. CO.
FLOUR
General Commission Merchant
No. 133, Ohio Levee,
CAIRO, ILL.

AGENTS WANTED.
A RARE CHANCE FOR YOUNG MEN
To travel South and West. Can make big money.
Care of W. & S. CO., 133, Ohio Levee, St. Louis.
CITY MARSHAL'S NOTICE.
All owners of Dogs are hereby notified that from and after the 15th of May, 1871, I will all unlicensed dogs found roaming loose inside the corporate limits of the city of Cairo, I. I will have them shot and their owners liable for the cost of the same.
ANDREW GAIN,
City Marshal.
Cairo, April 29, 1871.

F. S. MURRAY,
GAS & STEAM FITTER
Has Removed from the Ferry House to the BRICK BUILDING ON SEVENTH ST.
between Commercial and Washington avenues, Opposite Winter's Block.
He has just increased his stock, and has now a hand full of Gasfitters, Plumbers, Painters, etc. He has reduced his prices to the lowest (living) rates, and invites the patronage of the public.
STOVES, TINWARE, ETC.
A. HALLEY,
DEALER IN STOVES
and all kinds of Ware, Cloths, Wringers, Tubs, Washboards, Coal Bods, Fire Shovels, Air Grates, Manufactured of
Tin, Zinc, Copper and Sheet Iron
No. 166 Washington Ave
CAIRO, ILL.

JAMES KYNASTON
BUTCHER
AND DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRESH MEATS
Cor. 19th and Poplar Sts.,
Cairo, Illinois.

DOBBINS' HAIR VEGETABLE
A color and dressing that will not burn the hair or injure the head.
It does not produce a color mechanically, as the poisonous preparations do.
It gradually restores the hair to its original color and lustre, by supplying new life and vigor.
It causes a luxuriant growth of soft, fine hair.
The best and safest article ever offered.
Clean and Pure. No sediment.
Sold everywhere.
ASK FOR DOBBINS'.

R. SMYTH & CO.
WHOLESALE GROCERS
OHIO LEVEE,
CAIRO, ILLINOIS.
Also keep constantly on hand a most complete stock of LIQUORS,
Scotch and Irish Whiskies,
GIN,
Port, Madeira, Sherry, Catabaw
WINES.
We sell exclusively for Cash, to which fact we invite the attention of close bargain buyers.
Special attention given to filling orders.

M. E. SWANER
Dealer in
MILLINERY
Ladies' Finishing Goods,
Commercial Avenue
Cairo, Illinois.

WOOD AND COAL.
F. M. WARD
is prepared to deliver the best Fire Wood & Stone Coal
in any part of the city, in any quantity desired, on short notice.
Coal Delivered at $4.50 Per Ton.
OFFICE—Over Express, Cor. of C. & N. Street, two doors below the corner of Commercial Avenue.

THE CELEBRATED CRAIG MICROSCOPE is an optical wonder, reveals the thousands of hidden wonders of Nature; is of permanent use and practical value, combining instruction with amusement, and never losing its interest. It magnifies
TEN THOUSAND TIMES
a power equal to other microscopes of many times its cost. Reveals countless little worlds, all around us, teeming with life, which to the naked eye must forever remain a sealed book—no seas in vinegar, animals in water, chains of atoms, sugar and starch, milk, albumen, cells and nuclei of insects, hundreds of eyes in a single eye of a fly, dust of a butterfly's wing to be perfectly formed feathers, the milk teak of Trichina spiralis or pork worm, which was first discovered in America with this microscope.
It is of infinite value to professional men; to teachers and to students; but nowhere is it of greater value than in the family, within the reach of every member. It will delight yourself, your children and your friends during the long winter evenings. It will show you adulterations and unwholesomeness of various kinds of food, as sugar, tea, bread, meat, etc.
It is of inestimable value to the Farmer in examining insects which prey upon his crops. The power of a 300 microscope, and so simple in its construction that any child can use it understandingly and with appreciation.
A beautiful present, elegant, instructive, amusing, and cheap. Over 500,000 have been sold. During the past six years its worth has been testified to by thousands of scientific men, farmers, school teachers, students, physicians, heads of families, and others.
PRICE $5.00—Sent by Mail, Post Paid
Every instrument is neatly boxed, and handsomely labeled with full directions for use. Thousands have been sent by mail.
Address, W. J. LINES & CO.,
Chicago.

FREE FREE!
The Microscope is a monthly journal of information for the people—the joy-stories of nature explained—interesting information on the wonders of creation—illustrated by colored plates at 50 cents per year. This journal will be sent free for one year to any purchaser of a Craig Microscope, at the regular price. It is a most valuable and interesting work.
For a sample copy, send ten cents to the publishers, W. J. Lines & Co., 110 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.
Agents and Dealers, this Microscope can be purchased in all the principal cities of the United States.

The Bulletin. TUESDAY.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

MARSAZ COUNTY.
J. M. Stone & Co. have established a barrel factory in Metropolis.
A Farmers Club has been organized in this county.
The Metropolis Times reports the fruit prospects poor in that section, owing to the deprivation of the orchards.
The Presbyterian church in Metropolis has been repaired and the foundations of both the Baptist and Christian Churches have been laid.
The Odd Fellows of Metropolis are making many improvements in their cemetery. Walks are being laid out, and trees and shrubbery planted.
The Independent Order of Grand Templars of the above named town, is more prosperous than at any time since its organization.

PERRY COUNTY.
A German school has been opened in Pinckneyville.
M. Ferdinand Jenner, one of the oldest residents of Pinckneyville is recently deceased.
The bridges on the Chester and Tamaroa railroad, injured by the freshets, have all been repaired. It is thought the road will be completed to Pinckneyville by the 1st of June.
The contract for building the new jail of Perry county will be let on the 10th of May. The building is to embrace the jail and the jailer's residence and is to be finished by the 15th of October next.

FASHION NOTES.

The most admired shades of brown used in combination are cafe au lait and cafe au lait force, coffee and milk and strong coffee and milk.
The maine standing collar, with the front corners turned down, is the latest style, and very becoming to slender gentlemen with long necks.
A disposition to lengthen the skirts of walking dresses is shown by our foreign modistes resident in New York, but it is steadily opposed by our native fashion artists.
The Adams seamless aprons, a low turned-down collar, with a wide space left between the points to show the scarf tie, is a late novelty, designed for gentlemen with large necks.
An effective style of trimming black silks and satins when they are worn for full evening, or dinner dress, is to soutache and ruffle them with black Chantilly lace, over platings of Mechlin or illusion.
Pretty little embroidered aprons of Swiss, Larian, and organdie muslin will be worn for full home evening dress this season. They are trimmed with ribbons to match the dress, and are called reception aprons.
Among the important novelties in ladies' hats and bonnets are two just from London—the Lorne bonnet and the Gleaner's cap; and also from Paris—the Jura, Colette, landau, gipsy, Pamela, ferme, or close gipsy, and chapeau reactionnaire.
Among the new dress fabrics brought into the London market, the tamie clothes are attracting favorable attention. They are made from the fibres of the Rhen grass, and resemble silk in fineness, brilliancy and strength. The manufacture of these goods is developing a new agricultural industry in our Southern States.
Some of the names given the new colors in dress fabrics during the last few months by the Parisians are very expressive of their feelings. For instance: gris d'ceil, cafe au lait, brune terre d'evangile, stranger's brown earth; larmes de la France, un pale pearly blue, the color of a tear; espoir de la patrie, a bright green; aveugner des absents, a vivid violet; and rouge de bataille, a deep red, which was first called rouge de France.
Silks are cheaper now than they will be some time hence. The stock of French goods now in the foreign and American markets was manufactured before the Franco-German war. All the silk looms on the Rhone, Loire and Seine-et-Oise have been stopped for months. The Lyons silk industry has been suspended, while Alsace and Lorraine, both silk-producing provinces, have been devastated. With all the recuperative powers of the elastic French nation, it must be months before this branch of industry can be resumed—at least to the extent it was carried on before the war. Now is the time to purchase silks.
RULLOFF, THE MURDERER.
Prof. R. H. Mather, of Amherst college, has communicated to the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, an account of a visit he recently made to the murderer, Edward H. Rulloff, in his cell. From it we quote the following, which will doubtless be interesting, even to those who have already read much concerning this singular man.
The visit was one of idle curiosity, for one of my colleagues in the college had shown me some months since a criticism of Rulloff, written years ago, when he was in the State prison at Auburn, N. Y., upon parts of Prof. Taylor Lewis' edition of one of Plato's dialogues, which had warmly interested me in his scholarship. About 9 o'clock the afternoon and I went down to the prison, and the gentlemanly high sheriff at once consented to grant the interview, if Rulloff was willing. The doomed man, at first refused, as he had some of late to all visitors, but when told that I was a student and teacher of Greek, he at once consented. He approached the heavy, latticed iron door and asked very politely if I could remain long enough to learn something of the beauties of the theory of language. Without replying I turned to the officer and asked if I might be permitted to go into the cell. He said yes, and proceeded to unlock the massive padlocks. It was a long narrow, grate-built room, but high and furnished with plenty of light and pure air. As we entered Rulloff approached with two dilapidated chairs, and with the most winning courtesy, asked us to be seated, and offered to relieve us of my hat. He sat down upon his usual pallet opposite me, and I told him I had seen the criticism referred to above, and that I had desired to learn how he had acquired his knowledge of the old languages. He replied, with a smile, that he had obtained it all by honest work; that he had never been in a college or university, but that from boyhood he had had a most intense interest in the beauty and the strength of the Greek tongue. He explained that he had been laughed at by the public as a superficial scholar, and wanted me to satisfy myself on that, and then bear what he had to say about the formation of language. I replied, that as we had no text-books, I could not examine him, to which he rejoined that many of the classical authors he knew by heart, and would try and reply to my questions as far as he could. He then began. Thinking that something from the Memorabilia might be appropriate to his present needs, I suggested the third chapter, first book, where the anti-theistic theories with reference to God and duty in their purity and exaltation are set forth in a most beautiful and pertinent manner. He then gave me the Greek parts of the same work as well as the Iliad of Homer and some of the plays of Sophocles, he showed great familiarity with. Then, in order to show his thoroughness, he criticised the common rendering of certain passages, and he did it with such accuracy and discrimination and elegance as to show that his critical study of these nearer parts was more remarkable than his powers of memory; in fact I should say that his subtlety of reasoning and analysis was the marked characteristic of his mind. On some of the passages of Homer, in particular, he showed great acuteness of perception, and a most thorough appreciation of the grandeur of the sentiment. On one of the passages of President Polk he opposed most vigorously, and when I supported the common version he quoted from a vast range of classics to confirm his view.
His theory of language I cannot enter upon here, for it is too subtle for the general reader. It is very original, is quite contrary to the established views upon comparative philology, and probably will never be of any practical use. Most persons think him a monomaniac on this, and certainly his enthusiasm is most remarkable. He sat there in his chains, just sentenced by the highest court to die on the gallows, and with his mind upon a subject so thought, about his doom, and apparently pleading for his favorite theory, as though he were wrestling for his life and was determined to win. He is anxious to have philologists examine the manuscript of his work. He urged me to come with several such men, and take time to see whether his theory is true. He asked my pardon for the apparent dogmatism of the statement, but said he felt convinced that this theory of language was a special revelation to him, and that perhaps a hundred years might elapse ere it would be known again, and then added significantly, "And you know that whatever is done must be done quickly."
In person this strange man is about middle height and of robust build, and is apparently verging on fifty years of age, not all of the broken old man he has been represented. He has a singular face, not villainous or grossly sensual, nor is it scholarly. The features are strongly marked, but full of dignified meaning. It is a face you could not forget, and yet would not care to think about. His eyes, which are dark hazel, I had heard was the striking feature, but it did not impress me so, perhaps because it showed struggle and suffering. The bad lines in his face to me were about his chin and forehead, and his neck is very short, and his head and neck in manners he is very urbane and natural and he converses with great facility and elegance. His voice is mellow and pleasant, and occasionally showed tones of tenderness. But for all that I do not believe the man has any tenderness save for language. In looking at him you would never imagine him loving any human being, and you would be sure that his hatred would be implacable. He is certainly an enigma, and offers in himself a powerful argument against the theory that education is alone sufficient to lead to true manhood. Those who would throw out moral and biblical teaching from our system of culture have a difficult task to harmonize their theory with such a character as this. Here is a profound and appreciative student of all that is beautiful and glorious in classical learning, working for years as a philologist, and with a zeal rarely equalled; and yet all the time living a life of crime as dark and terrible as any criminal in our land. He shows that true culture and true manhood can only be developed by the moral sense, and that we must educate the heart as fast as we educate the head, as our knowledge may only increase our sin.

SCANDAL.

A morning paper has the following curious case which came up yesterday afternoon before Justice Ledwith in the market police court. It was an application for the issue of a warrant for the arrest of Jas. H. Blood, alias Dr. J. H. Harvey, of the firm of Woodhull & Claflin. The application was made by Annie Claflin, mother of Mrs. H. Woodhull, Mrs. Claflin alleges in her affidavit that Blood otherwise known as Dr. J. H. Harvey, occupies the same bed with her daughter Victoria, and that said Blood has been in her family for the last six years; that since his entrance into her family he has made every effort to corrupt and has corrupted, not only her daughter Victoria, but her own children, and that Victoria has excited her daughter Victoria and entirely weaned them from God.
Deponent says that during the time she resided in said house she has often heard said Blood insist that his daughter Victoria should make efforts to secure the attention of different married gentlemen, in order that she and said Victoria and Tennessee might combine to make money out of such persons, and the deponent says that she has known such married gentlemen who have been taken in and blackmailed in said house. She has often heard Blood, who is receiver of all the moneys that come into the possession of said firm, Woodhull, Claflin & Co.

A young man in Astoria, L. I., is so enthusiastic over the coming election for Alderman of the Fourth Ward, which office he has himself in an independent candidate, that he pasted two large hand-bills, one printed in German and the other in English, on the sides of an innocent cow having a bell around her neck.
A stranger observing an ordinary roller rule on the table, took it up, and on inquiring the use, was answered, "It is a rule for counting boules." He turned it over and over, up and down repeatedly, and at last, in a paroxysm of baffled curiosity, he inquired, "How, in the name of wonder, do you count boules with this?"
The Chicago papers announce that the grave of Douglas is said to be for sale for taxes. It appears in a communication from the city collector to the council that an assessment of $1,000 for improvements has been made upon the ground where the grave of Douglas is situated. The Little Giant, and that the courts having given judgment, he will be compelled to proceed.

The Chicago papers announce that the grave of Douglas is said to be for sale for taxes. It appears in a communication from the city collector to the council that an assessment of $1,000 for improvements has been made upon the ground where the grave of Douglas is situated. The Little Giant, and that the courts having given judgment, he will be compelled to proceed.

DEMOCRACY.

Platform of the Democratic Party in Kentucky.
FRANKFORT, May 6.—The Democratic party of Kentucky, in Convention assembled, reaffirming the principles announced by the conventions held since the war, do now resolve:
1. That wise statesmanship and true patriotism require universal and unqualified amnesty.
2. That the industries of the country demand the abolition of the present mode of raising the revenue, by which portions of the Republic are oppressed and robbed to enrich monopolies and certain sections, and the speedy adoption of a system by which the burdens of taxation will be equally and justly distributed, and the taxes actually paid may reach the treasury.
3. That the preservation of liberty is possible only through the States; and we protest against every act by which the States are deprived of their just and constitutional powers, and State tribunals are deprived of their proper and necessary jurisdiction; and we are ready to join in all lawful and just measures to reverse the tyrannical acts of the party in power, whereby it is sought to strip the States of all rights, and concentrate all the powers of government in a great centralized despotism.
4. We indorse the address recently issued by the Democratic members of Congress, and unite in condemning all acts by which unconstitutional and despotic powers are conferred upon the President, by which, with the use of the army and navy, the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, the power to declare martial law, call out the militia, and invade the States without the request of their Executives or Legislatures, and other undefined means, he can destroy the freedom of election, the independence of the judiciary and the sovereignty of the States.
5. Kentucky is unalterably opposed to every form of lawlessness, whether committed under the cover of unconstitutional enactments or by organized bands; and we pledge ourselves, as occasion may arise, to use every means to prevent the one, and to have enacted such laws as experience may demonstrate to be necessary to put down and punish the other, and to secure to every person ample protection of life, liberty, and property under the laws enacted by our own Legislature, and administered by our own courts.

PHYSICIANS.

A. WADSWORTH, M. D., Physician, Surgeon and Accouchur, formerly of Anna, Union Co., Illinois, has permanently located in this city. OFFICE—Commercial Avenue, between 5th and 6th Streets West side, march 1st.
C. W. DUNNING, M. D., Res. IDENCE—Corner Ninth and Walnut. OFFICE—Corner Sixth Street and Ohio Levee. OFFICE HOURS—From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 5 p. m.
WILLIAM R. SMITH, M. D. RESIDENCE—No. 13, Thirteenth street, between Washington Avenue and Walnut Street. OFFICE—126 Commercial Avenue, march 1st.
H. WARDNER, M. D., Cairo RESIDENCE—Corner of Nineteenth st. and Washington ave. OFFICE—On Commercial Ave., over the Postoffice. OFFICE HOURS—From 10 a. m. to 12 m., (Sundays excepted) and from 2 to 5 p. m.

A CARD.

Investors having business with the United States Patent Office will find it to their advantage to transact it in the hands of the old established firm of Mason, Fenwick & Lawrence,
Patent Agents, Washington, D. C.
They have done my business to my satisfaction, and I take pleasure in recommending them to Western Inventors.
W. M. HARRIS,
Inventor of Improved Revolving Tubular Water Gate Bars.
Cairo, April 30, 1871.

JOHN HYLAND'S SALOON is supplied with all kinds of
SUPERIOR LIQUORS
Beer, Ale, &c.
ON COMMERCIAL AVENUE
Between Eighth and Ninth Streets,
CAIRO, ILLINOIS.
A thirsty, who loves good liquor, should give his call, and those who want
FRAGRANT CIGAR
Can have their wants supplied at his bar.
HOUSE MOVING.
James Kennedy
PRACTICAL
HOUSE MOVER AND BUILDER is prepared to do all kinds of HOUSE MOVING, HOUSE RAISING
and
Repairing of Every Description
On the most reasonable terms. Orders left at the residence of Mr. Kennedy, on Center street, next door to the new school building, or addressed to the care of P. O. Box 66, or the Bulletin office, will receive prompt attention.

COAL.
CAIRO CITY COAL COMPANY
Are Prepared to Supply Customers with the Best Quality of PITTSBURG
AND Illinois Coal.
Orders left at Holiday, Brock, or the Coal Yard below the St. Charles Hotel, will receive prompt attention.
The "Tug 'Montana'" with "Coal" alongside, leaves at 10 o'clock, and on the 12th, 1871.

PEOPLES' MEAT MARKET
We constantly on hand the best of Beef, Pork, Mutton, Veal, Lamb, Sausages, Pickled Pork, and all kinds of fresh meats, and also a large stock of household goods, and all kinds of provisions. Orders filled promptly, and satisfaction guaranteed.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in case any trouble should arise between the dealers with said firm, and themselves, a great trouble would come upon said firm, and that Broad street would be too hot for it.
She further says that she believes that Blood is endeavoring to ruin her daughter Tennessee, and that as he has threatened her life she does not feel safe from him, and prays that he may be arrested and dealt with according to the law.
The affidavit is supported by others and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Sparr, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Claflin.
Mrs. Woodhull indignantly denies these assertions, and says it is merely an attempt to levy blackmail; that her mother, old and weak minded, has been induced by some means, to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie.

say that no books of any account have been kept by said firm, until very recently, and that in