ACCORDING TO A DECISION of the Chicago board of education, female teachers of grammar schools in that city will hereafter receive equal wages with male principals occupying similar positions.

THE SPEECH OF CARL SCHURZ, at Nashville, has created quite a commotion in the radical party, and the senator is now being denounced along the whole line as a recreant to his political principles.

"I ALWAYS LISTEN to Gov. Oglesby with pleasure," said Gov. Palmer in his speech to the republican state convention the other day, "for when he gets to sweating there is no person in the state equal to him."

THE HON. HORACE GREELEY is known to be a profane man and no subject is more profane than when discoursing on the shortcomings of the present federal administration.

SENATOR SIMON KIRKLAND GIBSON, who died at his home in Gallatin county, lately was born in Genesee (now Wyoming) county, New York, July 17th, 1814.

THE ostensible object of Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly is the establishment of the right of suffrage for women, but in reality it seems to be actuated by but one spirit, that of hatred to the institution of marriage.

stitution of marriage; and an intense desire to destroy it is shown in every page of every issue. The contributors to the Weekly, both male and female, exhaust the English language in their condemnation of wedlock.

OUR MUNN, who was president of the late radical state convention, is an orator of a peculiar kind. Lacking a well-filled store house of ideas, he ekes out the deficiency by a plentiful abundance of words, and with "woven peaces," flying arms and piercing voice assaults the attention of his audiences.

THE PEORIA DEMOCRAT says that the nomination of Gen. Beveridge by the republican state convention for congress from the state at large was a signal victory of Springfield over Peoria on the capital removal question.

A Metropolis lady beat a doctor of that place with a club, just because the doctor denied that he had been guilty of malpractice "in a case of obstetrics."

Fort Masse is said to be haunted by the spirits of the murdered French, at the old Fort put up by them before many white men took the virgin soil of Illinois.

And bent like some great bow unstrung, And quiver'd like a willow wand;

No sod, no sign, no cross nor stone, But at his side a cactus green.

With these specimens—which, in our opinion, include some of the most admirable to be found in the volume—we must conclude for the present, feeling that we have quoted enough to prove that the touches of a genius essentially American are to be detected in the hues of the language in which Mr. Miller embodies his ideals.
