

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have been going with a girl for about a year and a half. She says she loves me very much. She is very good to me. I love her very much. But when we are out on the streets and go to shows she is all the time looking around, like she is looking for someone. I know I am jealous of her. At times she could break her neck to speak to fellows we pass when we get together. Do you think I ought to quit her or tell her about it? Do you think a girl of this kind can be true? (1) She goes with a girl I do not like very well. How can I stop her without making her mad at me? (3) When boy friends come to see her brother she can have a good time, talk and have lots of fun. When her girl friends come she sits where she can see me and she never has much to say. Why is this? (4) How can I find out if this girl is true to me, and if she goes with other fellows?

VAGAR JEATER. (1) Have you asked the girl to marry you? I presume you have merely told her you love her and that is all. If you really love her and want to marry her, ask her if she will be your wife. If she says "Yes," that is proof enough that she loves you. I believe, from what you say, that she does love you, and that she is acting the way she does mostly because you haven't quite come up to the mark with her. Girls do that you know. (2) Don't be bossy. You probably go with boys she doesn't like. Give her the same rights you expect for yourself. (3 and 4) These questions are answered in No. 1.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Would you kindly inform me: (1) How to make salt beads? (2) Will salt beads melt if they get wet? Also are they easily broken? (3) What other kind of beads can one make at home. E. C. (1) Salt Beads—One cup cornstarch, one-half cup table salt, one-half cup water. Let come to boil, boil hard, remove from fire, add any color desired. Stir till cool enough to knead. Knead well, form into beads by rolling small portions in palm of hand. String on wires or hat pins. Lay aside to dry. Turn beads to keep from sticking. Polish in hands after they are dried, with a little olive oil. (2) They might get soft. They are not easily broken. (3) Allspice beads are pretty. Get five cents worth whole allspice. Sort out large spices of even size, soak over night in water, then while soft string alternately with little gold glass beads. You can also make rose beads.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) What do you think of a boy that disappears you and tells your girl friend to tell you he was sick and you find out it is not true? (2) Should I talk to him the next time I meet him? (3) I went out with a fellow once and he wrote me a letter telling me he loved me, and wants to come and take me out again. Should I go out with him again? He is rich, but I do not care for him because he does not dress nicely and I feel cheap to walk on the street with him. (4) What should I tell him the next time I go out with him? BABY.

(1) We nearly all think alike about people who tell lies. A gentleman won't disappoint a girl unless he has an excellent reason, and then he apologizes to the girl and tries to make it up to her in some way. (2) Do not let him think you attach much importance to him; so speak to him politely and let it go at that. (3) Another case of puppy love. He probably loves every other girl just as much after he's been out with her once. Don't go with a silly boy, whether he dresses well or not. (4) I see you intend to go with him whether I advise against it or not. I presume you will also say what you please to him, so, my dear, I'm not going to answer this question.

GRiffin-KelloGg. Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Davenport, Miss Grace Kellogg, daughter of Mrs. Frank Kellogg, 913 Charleston avenue, became the bride of Ferris Griffin son of W. E. Griffin of Washington, Iowa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Blancke before a small company of the immediate families and friends, the ring service being used. Miss Alice McCoy of this city attended the bride as bridesmaid and Verne Link of Moline was the groom's man. Miss Kellogg wore a blue suit with chiffon hat trimmed with pink plumes. She carried a shower bouquet of a bride's roses. Miss McCoy also wore a blue suit and hat to match and she wore a corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas. A breakfast was served to the bridal party at Vander Veer park after the ceremony. Miss Kellogg has resided in Davenport all her life and is well known. Mr. Griffin has made Davenport his home for several years, coming here from Streeter, Ill., where he was in business. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin left for a short wedding trip. The new home will be in Davenport. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Griffin and Mrs. Griffin, Sr., of Washington, Iowa, were out of town guests.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS. Daughters of Veterans met in fortnightly session yesterday afternoon at the Swedish Olive hall in Moline. Five comrades of the G. A. R. were guests of the afternoon. Applications for membership were received from two candidates, and one new member was received into the order. Plans are being made for the celebration of the founding of the local tent, and will be held some time during the latter part of the month. The tent decided to serve refreshments at the last meeting of the month, three of the daughters to serve each time and the comrades will be especially invited to attend.

APRIL FOOL SOCIABLE. The Epworth League of the First Methodist church carried out a very successful April fool sociable yesterday evening at the church. A program somewhat out of the ordinary was given, and consisted of selections by Padewski impersonated by Lynn Ewing, by Madam Schumann-Heink given by Miss Margaret Cook, Caruso by Ray Walker and a sketch by Dutch Heine given by Homer Hinkley, a farce played by Joe Cook and A. L. Bruner. Living pictures to represent the 12 months of the year were given and a burlesque band directed by Ralph Gregory concluded the program.

TO HONOR MRS. ABRAMS. Mrs. A. Mosenfelder and Miss Mosenfelder were hostesses yesterday afternoon to 50 tri-city ladies at a party in honor of Mrs. David Abrams of Boston, Mass. The afternoon diversion was cards, and the time passed

Pure Food Department to War on Flies and Filth

The pure food and household economics department of the Woman's club, met Thursday afternoon at the home of the chairman, Miss Minnie Martin, 1034 Nineteenth street. Six new members were present and a number of other ladies sent requests to be enrolled. The membership fee was fixed at twenty-five cents per year.

The department has a very interested and enthusiastic membership and will doubtless exert much influence over affairs which touch the home. They are very much in earnest in their intention to war upon unclean and unsanitary methods and practices in the handling and distribution of food stuffs. The meat dealer who has been in the habit of allowing meat to stand uncovered from dust and flies, the baker whose bread is sent out unwrapped, and upon whose cakes and pies the flies have been wont to frolic; the milkman who has not yet learned to safeguard the milk from dirt and filth, and the grocer who has not voluntarily taken steps to protect his patrons from dirt and the consequence, disease, will all be asked to mend their ways. The dealers who pay attention to purity of foods and cleanliness in their handling will find themselves already in the good graces of the department. The state pure food exhibit which is traveling over the state under the direction of the state food commissioner, Scott Mathews, is finding an eager welcome in every locality visited and it is almost a certainty that the exhibit with its attendant crew of demonstrators and lecturers will visit Rock Island. The pure food department of Illinois has issued the ten commandments of the pure food law, which are as follows:

- 1. The floors, walls and ceilings of every room, building, or establishment occupied or used for the preparation, manufacture, packing, storage, sale or distribution of food, must at all times be kept in a clean and sanitary condition. 2. All utensils, implements, machinery and equipment used in moving, handling, cutting, chopping, mixing, canning and preparing of food must be thoroughly cleaned daily. 3. All food in the process of manufacture, packing, storage, sale or distribution must be securely protected from flies, dust and dirt. 4. All refuse and dirt, and all waste products subject to decomposition and fermentation must be removed daily.

- 5. The clothing of all operatives, employees and clerks who handle or come in contact with the food, must be clean at all times. 6. Toilet and washrooms shall be supplied with soap and running water and shall be cleaned daily. 7. All employees who handle food or the materials from which it is made shall wash their hands thoroughly in clean water before beginning work and after visiting the toilet. 8. Cuspidors shall be emptied and washed out daily, and when in use shall contain at least five ounces of water or disinfectant solution. 9. Employees shall not spit on the food or raw materials, nor on the utensils, floor or walls. 10. No person who is affected with any contagious or venereal disease is allowed to work in any such establishment, nor is any person allowed to sleep therein. Whosoever violates or fails to observe any of the above provisions is guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both, in the discretion of the court.

MOLINE WOMAN'S CLUB. The April meeting of the Moline Woman's club will be held tomorrow afternoon at the First Congregational church, Moline.

The meeting will be a practical and interesting one. Commissioner Clark G. Anderson has been working on pictures for several months and he will give a talk, illustrated by stereopticon slides, on "Do We Know Moline?" Sidney A. Teller, director of Stanford park, Chicago, and regarded as one of the most successful playground leaders in Chicago, will tell of parks and playgrounds and his talk will also be illustrated.

During the four years Stanford park has been open to the public the total attendance has passed the 3,000,000 mark. More than 1,000,000 shower baths and swims have been taken. This means better health, less delinquency, neighborliness, democracy, brotherhood and good citizenship. The playground workers cooperate for the common good and the playground is a social civic and recreation center to the neighborhood in which it is placed. Play is progress. Miss Norma Wiese of Davenport and four children from the students' music department of the Woman's club—Helen McIntyre, a wee girl of 5 years, Gladys Anderson and Arvid

Things Worth Knowing. Before using a new comb wash it in soapy water and when dry rub with a little olive oil. It will then last twice as long.

When next cooking asparagus add a little rice. The dish will be found most satisfactory.

Let potatoes lie in cold water for a little while before paring, if you wish them to be white. The Table. Cook in boiling salted water fifteen minutes, or so until soft, leaving tips out of water the first ten minutes. Puree of Spinach—Wash and cook over one-half peck of spinach. Cook in an uncovered vessel with a large quantity of boiling salted water, to which is added one-third teaspoonful of soda and one-half teaspoonful of sugar.
