

PLES CURED TO STAY CURED

Dr. C. S. WOLFE, Specialist.

Why bother with this remedy and that which gives only a temporary relief at best?

The fact that conservative business men and women, bankers, professional men, stockmen and farmers are coming to me and being CURED OF PILES ought to cause you who still suffer from rectal disorders to sit up and consider this statement.

True, you can worry along with this salve, that suppository, this and that "home" remedy, but these things do not cure to stay cured.

You have the same old trouble coming back, you have the same intense suffering, possibly worse, and the same old system of salves and suppositories have to be done all over again.

Why not come as other level-headed people do and be cured once and for all.

A treatment of two and your trouble is over completely. You can do more, life seems more joyous to you once you realize the dread of return of PILES is gone.

If you hesitate because of pain, you are attempting to cross a river before you come to it. My wonderful treatment is so easily applied there is no suffering, no soreness afterward.

If you hesitate because of the probable cost, you are standing in your own light. You are failing to make one of the best investments you ever had offered you for such a small amount.

If you hesitate because of the risk, you are permitting a phantom to bar you from the good health which is rightfully yours. YOU NEED NOT RISK A CENT. IF I FAIL TO CURE YOU, YOU NEED NOT PAY ME A SINGLE PENNY.

Made up your mind to come to Topeka today and be cured. CURED to stay cured.

Office hours regular except Wednesday and Thursday. On these days my time is entirely occupied.

NOT MUCH SMOKE

Nevertheless, Baseball Strike May Be Serious Affair.

Big League Stars Liable to Start New Circuits.

Most baseball fans do not seem to be taking the threatened Players' fraternity strike seriously and many of the magnates are regarding the general public that nothing can possibly come of Fultz's threats. But the flame may be bigger than the smoke indicates. The situation may be a great deal more serious than anyone on the outside may realize.

The biggest move Fultz has so far made is to make application to the American Federation of Labor to take his fraternity under its protection, and if this happens it means that any action the players decide to take will be given the support of every branch of labor and that the union man, who is always a fan, will boycott clubs and leagues that do not make peace.

Other Ends in View. But it is entirely probable that Fultz wants to get into the ranks of organized labor for an entirely different purpose than to merely boycott the magnates. In all probability he is looking to the time when it may be possible, or necessary, to organize a players' league in order to bring the magnates to their senses, and he knows that if he does this with the backing of every labor union in the country he will be in a position to fight the old club owners to the last ditch. He knows, and the magnates themselves know, that if the players' fraternity becomes affiliated with other labor organizations and opposition leagues are set up, there will be little division of the crowds. Even the peanut and the pop sellers know where they will have to go to sell their wares.

Already there is underground talk of the players of the big leagues organizing an independent league, and many of the stars have enough money to put it on its feet without ever missing it. The organization of such a league would be much easier now than it would have been a few years ago, because almost all of the big cities have idle Federal league parks that can be procured at very reasonable figures.

Minors in Plan, Too. And, if the big league players go into the league making business, the minor leagues will undoubtedly follow in their footsteps. They will have to do so because it is entirely their fight and the big leaguers are helping them out when they themselves have nothing at all at stake. Furthermore, it would be necessary for the minors to organize leagues so that the circuits of the big cities might have a field to draw talent from.

If this kind of war comes the whole baseball world will be thrown into chaos and the game will probably be knocked lopsided on every corner. Many small cities like Topeka, Wichita, Sioux City and Lincoln will find themselves with two baseball organizations when they cannot possibly support them.

But the magnates and the powers that be in organized baseball are not likely to let matters go that far. They will tuck their tails and run to take the pill Dr. Fultz hands them, no matter how big or bitter it may be. The magnates know Fultz. They know he will give them a fight they will remember if he is forced to it, and this is the only thing that indicates the situation may not be as serious as it seems.

Tris Pays a Visit to Hal. Cincinnati, O., Jan. 20.—The chief batsman of the National league has been entertaining the chief batsman of the American league here and so modest are both of these celebrities that it was not until the latter departed that his presence was generally known. The Speaker, the leading slugger of the American league paid a visit to Hal Chase of the Cincinnati team, spending five days with him.

STEEL TO REPLACE WOOD SHAFTS IN GOLF CLUBS

Wheaton, Ill., Jan. 20.—The dearth of suitable hickory shafts for golf clubs has brought up the question of steel shafts among golfers in the United States. It is said that the steel clubs undoubtedly will give greater distance with less effort than those with wooden shafts. Lately a steel shaft made on the principle of the sifter has found favor and gives greater balance, at the same time proving a rest to the wrists.

IMPROVE NET MATCHES

Tennis Association to Give Special Attention to Doubles This Season.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 20.—Competition in doubles in tennis is to be encouraged the coming season, according to Ralph Holterhoff of Cincinnati, a member of the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

The executive committee will recommend to the national meeting in New York, Feb. 9, that an open tournament for the national championship be held in the fall along the same lines as the singles championship. Mr. Holterhoff said, "while the committee went on record as opposed to the present doubles system, it does not want the doubles abandoned."

The committee also will recommend a rule that the champions of the previous season must play thru the tournament. The present rule requiring at least one member of a team playing in sectional doubles to be a resident of that section, probably will be abolished.

A HOME FOR SLAVES

Johnson Would Give Ball Players Charity Instead of Just Dues.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—A home for aged and disabled baseball players, supported jointly by the teams of the American and National leagues as the movement, that is being inaugurated by President Ban Johnson.

The American league dictator today discussed the plan and stated that he would take it up immediately with the clubs in his league, to see if a scheme, whereby each club would set aside a certain sum each season, to be used for the support of the institution, could be worked out.

The old home idea is the outcome of the yearly recurring discussion as to what to do with the immense sums that are piling up as a result of each world's series. Johnson is determined to cut down the amount that goes to the players and commission and even the amount that is turned into the major league chests. The latter is an assessment on the net earnings and goes to pay salaries and expenses of league employees.

A. track team, established a new record at the Northwest university indoor track meet Friday night. Loomis did the fifty-yard dash on a dirt track in 52.5 seconds, equalling his own record on a wooden track made at St. Louis March 26, 1916.

AFTER A REPEATER

Wilbert Robinson Wants to Win Another Pennant.

He's Not Satisfied With What Dodgers Did Last Season.

BY JACK VELOCK.

New York, Jan. 20.—Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson is casting longing eyes toward another National league championship.

Ever since the season of 1916 came to a close and the world's series resulted so disastrously for the Robins Uncle Wilbert has been dreaming and planning.

Baseball scribes and baseball magnates have hinted from time to time that the Robins were lucky to grab the 1915 flag. And when it is remembered that the Phillies and Braves, not to mention the Giants, were doing some tall ball playing as the race neared a close, the victory of the Robins does appear to have been helped along by timely "breaks."

The break in the winning streak of the Giants was one of these. Robby Not Satisfied. Nevertheless, the Robins copped, and all credit for their victory should be given them. Yet Uncle Wilbert is not satisfied. He wants to prove to the baseball public at large that he can pull the same stunt again. Thus he is figuring on new stunts for the coming season, and the new plan will consist largely of some shifts in his battle array.

You may cuff, Mr. Fan, when Uncle Wilbert announces that he may play Fred Merkle at shortstop this year. But wait!

Uncle Wilbert has a very capable first sacker. He need not worry about the initial corner as long as Jake's underpinning does not go back on him, as it did for a time last season. He also has Merkle, if Jake hits the skids he can pin Merkle to the first corner and get by. But that isn't what worries Robinson.

Must Have Shortstop. He admits that the Dodgers must have the shortstop position strongly fortified if they hope to be in the running for Governor's sash at the banner this year. Last season Ivan Olson did the big end of the shortstop. But Ivan was wobbly. He did not cover the ground he was lightly necessary to a big league shortstop. He was erratic, and often in the tightest of pinches.

To find a short fielder who can handle the position satisfactorily is the task Robinson has assigned to himself. It is some task, particularly when we remember that there are so few shortstops available for the managers who need them.

Robby has the youngest Fabrique, who is said to have the makings of a major league star. In the International league Fabrique was a bear. In the National league he may prove to need considerable seasoning. So Uncle Wilbert has decided to try Merkle at short, and he believes he can make a star out of the erstwhile Giant.

Give Merkle Chance. Merkle has often expressed the desire to play short. He has always believed that if given the proper chance he could make good at short, and the Charley Mathewson had the same opinion. Matty says Merkle can play a mighty sweet game of ball at second. Then, why not at short? At least, Robby says he is going to find out.

FULTZ GRANDSTANDING.

That Is What Coast League Magnate Thinks of Strike Threats.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 20.—Dave Fultz is making a grandstand play with the players' fraternity, according to John Powers, president of the Los Angeles club, who arrived from Chicago. He adds that the major magnates are prepared to fight the fraternity to a finish.

Powers states that he has completed all arrangements to get his pick of the "turbunks" of the Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates this morning.

Want to Fool Cubans Now.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 20.—Before leaving for the east, Harry Pollak, manager of Freddie Welsh, assured Nate Lewis, manager of Charlie White, that White could have a 25-round bout with Welsh if Havana promoters would offer a suitable purse.

WILLIE JACKSON IS NOW UP AMONG 'EM

Willie Jackson.

Willie Jackson, Philadelphia's speedy young lightweight, hopped into fistic fame when he knocked out Johnny Dundee in the first round of their fight in Philadelphia recently. It was the first time in something like 150 battles that Dundee has ever been handed the k. o. Jackson has been regarded as a fast and clever boxer, but unable to hit. His latest performance will correct the impression. He is not yet twenty and looks good for a big career.

Sport Wheezes

—BY CLUG—

Probably Jimmy Jackson or old Bill Rapps will come back to Topeka and organize an independent team if the Players' Fraternity decides to launch a few leagues.

A rumor is going the rounds of Washburn that Dr. Kennedy may not wait until next fall to elect a new football captain, but that he may call an election before the June vacation days.

If the game between Nebraska and the University of Michigan ends in a way that pleases both schools next fall it will probably mean the establishment of permanent relations between the two institutions, which later on will probably lead to negotiation for the establishment of a new conference.

In certain circles at Ann Arbor it is understood there is a demand that the Wolverines get back into a conference. And there are a few Nebraskaans who would like to see Dr. Stewart withdraw from the Missouri Valley conference. If the two schools could get together, they would have little trouble forming a new organization and could probably get Notre Dame to join them.

Those who are seeking to compel Kansas polo halls to close at 9 o'clock at night should go whole hog or none. They ought to insist that theaters, movie houses and restaurants close at the same hour and that the street cars stop running at the curfew tolling. In fact, it might be more in keeping with the fanaticism of the "hog" thing if they would word the law in such a manner that it would require everybody to get between the sheets promptly at 9 o'clock.

There is no doubt that Hutchinson is "hog" tight in the matter of getting Topeka's place in the Western league. This week's prominent Salt City hotel man announced that he would gladly give the club $50 to help bring Savage there.

Topekans believe that all this Hutchinson hot air is the result of a blow off at Topeka after which Savage realizes that it will not be practical to go to the Capital club, who arrived from Chicago. He adds that the major magnates are prepared to fight the fraternity to a finish.

Like Germany and Austria, Dave Fultz and his Players' Fraternity will probably have to fight it out to the bitter end. And there is no denying that Ban Johnson is a typical John Bull.

Of course the ball players can force the magnates to their terms if they all stick together. But most ball players are ex-farmer lads, and farmers have never been known to stick together very long on any one thing.

Since defeating Cowley, Fred Fulton's chest has expanded several inches. He is now able to get enough wind into his lungs to enable him to say: "You bet your life I can lick Jess Willard!"

The basketball game between Washburn and Bethany, scheduled to have been played here tonight has been postponed to a later date. The Ichabods will fill in by going to Atchison to play Midland college tonight.

SHOW CANNED GOODS

Glenwood Mother-Daughter Club Will Exhibit Product at K. S. A. C.

Manhattan, Kan., Jan. 20.—One of the features of farm and home week at the agricultural college, February 5 to 10, will be the exhibit of canned goods of the Glenwood Mother-Daughter Canning club. This club, consisting of twenty-nine mother-daughter teams from the Glenwood community in Leavenworth county and conducted under the auspices of the Leavenworth county farm bureau and the agricultural college, is only two years old but it has canned more products and a greater variety than any other club in the United States. More than 11,000 quarts of fruits, vegetables and meats were canned by this club in 1916, and one of its teams canned 253 different varieties and combinations.

"This club has won great distinction," said E. C. Johnson, director of the extension service of the agricultural college, "not only by reason of the great quantity and variety of products canned and the general excellence of its work, but on account of its influence in promoting neighborliness and building up the community in which the club is located, both from the economic and social standpoint and the inspiration it has furnished to other communities to do likewise."

The president of the club, Mrs. J. M. Timmons of Bonner Springs, will give an address on the history of the club and its work Thursday afternoon, February 8, followed by a canning demonstration by two of the mother-daughter teams from the club. A club exhibit consisting of several thousand jars of canned products will be on exhibit.
