POLITICAL POINTS.

Greenwood Gossip.

EUREKA, Kans. Sept. 28.—Our honorable court was called upon to vacate his room and give way to the Democratic convention, which met on Saturday, Sept. 25, and nominated the following county ticket: Hon. Mr. Jennings, of Jamesville township, for Judge of the probate court; Miss Annie Hoffman for county superintendent; Hon. Judge Fancher for commissioner of the third district; Mr. Howell for clerk of the district court; and Hon. C. W. Shan for county attorney.

The whistling of the Eureka foundry will be heard in the land in a few days. This is one of the most complete and largest foundries of the west, and all experienced hands. Mr. Patterson, the owner, says he has more orders in than he can fill for some months, and had to refuse a great many more on account of not being ready for operation.

About twenty-three persons will start east from Wilson county under the direction of Mr. Shuttle. He will take them to Kansas City and from there send them over the grandest road in the west, the Chicago & Alton. We understand that Mr. Shuttle has worked hard for the above road.

The Republican and Democratic campaigns have opened in full blast in this county, the Republicans under Ira Nye, the Democrats under Peoples.

Court adjourned until Thursday night.

We sent two convicts to the penitentiary on Saturday, both for grand larceny.

The Labor Party.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The united labor party convention did not adjourn till after 4 this morning, inexperience of delegates and numerous speeches prevented dispatch in completing the work on hand. Besides the nominations mentioned in the dispatches last night, county commissioners, court clerks, congressmen and members of the legislature were nominated for the first congressional district; Daniel E. Gleason, a prominent member of the brick layers' union, for the second; Benj. Goodhue, knight of Labor and state lecturer, for Third; Samuel Hawkins, foreman in West Side machine works, for the Fourth; Captain W. P. Black, senior counsel for the anarchists, was also placed in nomination for the Fourth district, but the opposition was so vigorous that in spite of the strong support of George Schilling and others of socialist tendencies, he was defeated.

Connecticut Democrats.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 28.—The Democratic state convention met at 11 o'clock this morning. Hon. A. E. Burr, of Hartford, was made temporary chairman. He delivered a short address.

Griswold for comptroller.

A Forlorn Hope.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The written motion for a new trial in behalf of the doomed anarchists and the several affidavits in support of it were taken to the state's attorney today. The motion cites the following to sustain the motion: That the verum is contrary to the law and evidence; that there is no evidence in the record supporting or justifying the verdict; that the court erred in giving the several instructions asked and given on behalf of the people; in refusing to give the several instructions asked on behalf of the defendants; in admitting irrelevant testimony on behalf of the people; in excluding certain testimony on behalf of defendants; that the jury was not an impartial one; that there is newly discovered evidence touching the issues involved in the case; that the closing argument of the state's attorney was improper in its statement of substantive matters, noting evidence in its appeals to the prejudice and passiveness of the jury, and in its abusive-ness towards defendants.

The motion closes: "The court erred in overruling the motion of defendants Spies, Schwab, Fielden and Neebe for a separate trial. There were eight affidavits in support of the motion. John Sorrel made affidavit shortly after the trial, and before the jury was discharged, that he had heard Juror Handell say in reference to the anarchists that they ought to be hung."

The defendants themselves set forth jointly that since their trial certain evidence, such as the affidavit of Dulles, and reports of opinions expressed by the jurors, has come to their knowledge and they will be better prepared for a second defense.

Following the episode of the news of the Haymarket tragedy reached Deluss. The defendant, John Phillip Deluss, a saloon keeper at Indiana street, whose name was printed in the papers at the time he first made it public, and swears that on the morning of May 5th of this year, an unknown man wearing a moustache and dressed in dark clothes, came to his place and setting a small satchel on the table asked for a drink. Taking his whisky the customer said he came from New York and was on his way to Chicago. Speaking briefly about the pending labor troubles the stranger closed with the remark that the saloon keeper would shortly hear of trouble in Chicago. Pointing to his satchel he continued: "I have got something in here that will work, you will hear of it, turning at the door as he departed the unknown emphasized: You will hear of it soon. Shortly the deponent appeals to a certain Oscar Sheath as witness to his strange conversation, and this individual follows in an affidavit to the truth of the statement. Jacob L. Beeler, of Indianapolis, testifies that he heard Sheath tell, on last Saturday, of the incident with Deluss' strange customer back in May.

Thos. J. Morgan, a reported socialist, declares that he heard Juror Dent say: It did not make any difference whether it is like him or not, he and the whole crew ought to be hanged. Morgan swears that Denker made this statement on Woodlawn on the fifth of May in a dispute concerning a certain portrait of Spies in a daily newspaper, of its resemblance to the original.

Thos. S. Morgan, son of the foregoing deponent, upheld the truth of his father's affidavit.

The counsel for the defense promise an affidavit at an early date, impeaching Juror Call.

States Attorney Grinnel, in speaking of the motion, said the impeachment of the jurors will not avail, and that the Dulles affidavit, which is the main point of the new evidence, is little more than bunkum.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.

The Disease in the Chicago Stock Yards Believed to Have Existence there for Two Years Past.

CHICAGO, Ills., Sept. 28.—The opinion among veterinarians and distillers becomes stronger daily that the disease now affecting some of the quarantined cattle has been prevailing to a greater or less degree for at least two years. Distillers say that cattleman attributed the diseased condition of the lungs to the hot stow on which cattle are fed. Dr. Salmon said it was doubtful whether the disease could be prevented from spreading, even if all the cattle in quarantine were killed, as evidence so far obtained, tended to show that the number of animals examined by state veterinarians had caught the disease before being taken to the cattle sheds. One reason that it had not been discovered sooner was that the veterinarian is not paid for ferreting out the disease and is merely allowed per diem for doing his work when the contagion has broke out.

Members of the commission and the state veterinarian were telegraphed for last night to go to Pekin, where they have been summoned to appear as witnesses in a civil suit brought against the state, and today's proposed meeting to settle the question of disposing of quarantined cattle is indefinitely postponed.

The board of live stock commissioners returned today and visited the place where the cattle are quarantined. The board are now waiting for action by the state authorities. A report has been forwarded to Springfield and Washington, and any other action that is taken will come from the authorities. Prof. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, believes that all the animals have been quarantined and that the supposed plague can be controlled within the present limits.

Prof. Salmon said it would cost $50,000 or $60,000 to indemnify the owners of the afflicted cattle for the slaughter of them. He did not know what further action would be taken by the board, but every effort would be made to rid the city and state of the disease. Prof. Salmon will remain here for a few days and then go to Ottawa, Canada, to inspect the system adopted to prevent the spread of pleuro-pneumonia there.

READING, Pa., Sept. 28.—Pleuro-pneumonia is raging with unprecedented violence among cattle. In Limerick township, Montgomery county, as well as some neighboring districts, many have died. Dr. Gilbert reported to the state board of health eleven cases in Limerick alone, and farmers find it only remedy is kill and leave the carcass to rot. A movement is on foot among the farmers to hold a convention to petition the legislature to take more effective measures to stamp out the disease, and with western states ask aid from the general government.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—Commissioner Coleman of the bureau of agriculture received a letter from Dr. Salmon, dated Chicago, September 25, in which he says in reference to the outbreak of pleuro-pneumonia at that city: "Since telegraphing you I have had the watch strengthened at the infected stables to prevent animals from being removed. There are twenty-nine men now employed, making $50 a day. This is necessary in order to give the state board time to decide what disposition could be made of the cattle. I regard the quarantine now as perfectly safe. It is very important to have an early inspection of some districts in this vicinity."

Colorado's Quarantine.

DENVER, Sept. 28.—Owing to the fact that pleuro-pneumonia is existing in certain portions of Illinois, Gov. Eaton today issued a quarantine proclamation forbidding the importation of cattle from that state into Colorado.

The Fishing Question.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The members of the sub-committee of the committee on foreign relations of the United States senate gathered at the Tremont house at noon today to confer on the preliminary of the investigation into the fishing question in accord with the resolution passed at the last session. Senator George F. Edmunds, presided. The other members of the committee are Senators John T. Morgan, of Alabama, W. P. Fry of Maine, W. M. Everts of New York, and Eli S. Quinsbury of Delaware. Senator Edmunds said: "We shall consider the fishery question in general, but we have not yet decided as to the order of procedure. Whether our hearings shall be public or private is a matter for further consideration. There is nothing more that I can give on this subject at present."

Official Misfeasance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Capt. Wm. T. Mahedy, chief of the Saratoga police force, was arraigned at Jefferson Market police court this morning, and remanded until afternoon on a charge of attempting to extort $1,000 from the late Larrison, silk importer. Mahedy issued a warrant for Larrison's young son Albert for forgery and it is said agreed to have the case dropped for consideration. The boy was paroled in custody of his father.

They All Want More.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—It is thought that a general strike will occur of all feeders and pressmen employed in printing offices in this city. A number of shops are out on a strike already. In several places non-union men have been hired. The men demand an increase of $2 a week each.

CABINET COUNSEL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—The first meeting of the cabinet since the president's return was held at the White House this afternoon. There were present Secretary Lamar, Postmaster General Elias, Acting Attorney General Jenks. The other members of the cabinet are out of the city, but it is expected that all except Secretary Manning will be here in time to attend the meeting next week. Today's session lasted nearly three hours and so far as can be learned was devoted entirely to the consideration of routine questions pending before the departments represented.

CONCERNING OKLAHOMA.

The interior department informed by a report of Capt. Price, of the Fifth cavalry, camped on Chilocco creek, I. T., received through the war department, that part of Oklahoma between the Beaver and Stillwater country is free from intruding white men and cattle; that the "boomer" have generally gone to work on railways, now building on the state line and through the Indian Territory, and that their recognized leaders including Capt. Couch, have assured Capt. Price that no further attempt will be made to occupy Oklahoma in opposition to the present policy of the government, and that they will await and respect the decision of congress.

One of the new rules will have the effect of removing the custody of applications from the appointing officers. All candidates for appointments will be required to file their applications with local examining boards. The question of rules as submitted by the commission will, it is stated, receive the approval of the president.

FROM FURBER IN PARTS.

Lieutenant Commander H. E. Nichols, commanding the United States cutter Pintu, in a report to the secretary of the navy, dated Sitka, Sept. 10, says the Pintu returned the day before from a trip to Yakuta after the Behringian exploring expedition. The party was found at Yakuta and all its members were well, they were able to ascend Mt. Steils only 1,200 feet, and the most experienced of the party consider it impossible to reach the top.

Commander Nichols says a special grand jury has been sitting during the past week. Attempts were made to procure indictments against the ring leaders of the Chinese trouble at Juneau, but no evidence could be obtained and no indictments were found.

The captives and mates of the remaining English schooners were tried for the illegal taking of seal in Behring. They were found guilty, and five were sentenced to short imprisonment. All four of the vessels have been libeled. Commander Nichols' libel against them will be taken from all these judgments.

OVER THE OCEAN.

France.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—A riot took place today during the unveiling and dedicating of the statue of Armand Barbes, Red Republican colleague of Blanqui at Couronne in the department of And. The committee having the ceremonies in charge were nearly all Moderates. The revolutionists became provoked at the predominance in case of such a conspirator as Barbes, whom they regarded as one of their creed, and attempted to control the demonstration themselves. In this they were resisted by the committee, assisted by the police. The revolutionists gathered reinforcements and made an open fight for control of the statue. With red flags flying they assaulted the enclosure, breaking down the barricades, tramping over women and children, driving the Moderates and their police allies away from the place.

Prussia.

LEIPSIG, Sept. 28.—Four hundred socialists today made a demonstration by marching through the streets with the expelled socialist leader, Schumann, at their head, waving red flags and denouncing the government. The police attacked the procession and attempted to capture the red flags. The socialists beat the officers back after a stubborn fight in which many on both sides were wounded. The police got re-inforced and returned. This time they succeeded in dispersing the socialists, capturing seven, Schumann included.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—It is semi-officially announced that no international complications over the Bulgarian question are imminent, the cabinets controlling the question decidedly favor preserving peace. Kaulbars, that political prisoners in Bulgaria be released, the state of siege raised and all parties permitted to vote freely, for the great assembly to elect a successor to Prince Alexander, in return for the czar's protection. It is understood the ministry will eventually tell Gen. Kaulbars they regret they are unable to comply with Russia's demands, because compliance would involve violation of the Bulgarian constitution.

Storms in Texas.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—Advices from the southwestern coast of Texas, particularly in the region of the mouth of the Rio Grande, and from some interior points, give accounts of a great rain storm and much destruction of property during the past week. From the 21st to the 23d a tremendous rain storm and hurricane swept over the vicinity of Brownsville, Tex., including Matamoros. Twenty-six inches of rain fell up to the night of the 23d, and the wind is said to have reached a velocity of nearly one hundred miles per hour. Over two hundred houses in Brownsville were blown down and a large number damaged, rendering homeless some 300 families. At Matamoros over 200 houses were leveled and many injured. The entire rear part of the city, embracing over thirty blocks, was flooded to the depth of from 3 to 8 feet, and people living there were rescued only with the greatest difficulty. All telegraph lines were blown down, and the Rio Grande, the Matamoros & Monterrey railroads were washed out and traffic has not yet been restored. All the surrounding country was inundated, many houses were blown down and crops destroyed.

There is great suffering in both Matamoros and Brownsville. In the latter place fully 150 families are destitute, and in the former 400 families are homeless and in want. Relief measures have been adopted and a large amount of food and money has been raised and is being distributed.

At Point Isabel, the quarantine station was swept away and other damages done. A four masted steamer was wrecked 50 miles south of the mouth of the Rio Grande, and is said to be a total loss. Her name is unknown, but she is thought to have been an English vessel. Her captain and crew were saved.

Her captain says it is the general impression at Muskegon that the Smith went down in a severe gale that swept the lake a week ago last Saturday night.

Freight Train Ditched.

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 28.—A freight train on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad jumped the track at Carbon station at 1 o'clock this morning, ditching the engine and twenty cars. Engineer West had his right leg smashed and was hurt internally. Brakeman Morray was badly bruised but fireman escaped with a few scratches. The wreck was caused by a dragging chain catching in a switch.

Down an Embankment.

HINDSBALL, Ills., Sept. 28.—This forenoon the chair car and rear coach of the Rockford & Rock Falls train on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad going east, were thrown from the track by a broken rail and turned upside down at the foot of a ten foot embankment, causing a delay of three hours. CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—For several days the railroad switchmen here have been taking steps toward an increase of wages.
