Congregational Convention.
DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 5.—The 77th annual meeting of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions began in this city this afternoon. By the time of meeting nearly a thousand visitors had arrived, and each succeeding train has brought large additions. At 3 p. m. a large audience assembled in the Grand opera house, where the services are being held. The program is with an array of distinguished men prominent in the ministry and laity of the Congregational church. New England, and particularly Boston, was especially well represented by the leading officials and members of the presidential committee.

At the opening of the stage at the venerable Mark Hopkins, president of the board who, though past 80 years of age, has traveled 1,500 miles to preside at this meeting. After the evening exercises Dr. Hopkins announced the several committees.

The report of the presidential committee showed that eight missionaries and twenty-seven assistants are now on their way to foreign fields.
The district secretary reported a gain in receipts in all the states except one over the preceding year. The year's receipts exceed the expenditures about $45,000. There have been thirty-seven missionary appointments in the year.
The foreign secretary's report showed that but four missionaries out of four hundred have died during the past year, while four veterans had retired. The report closed with the following summary:

No. of stations	85
Whole number of laborers sent from this country	8,000
Whole number of laborers connected with the commission	434
Cost of publications	9,283
Schools	22,855
Following this came the annual report of the treasurer, as follows:
Cost of missions	$620,640
Cost of agencies	9,530
Cost of publications	9,283
Cost of administration	22,855
Total expenditures	682,285
Total receipts from all sources for the year	639,997

At the conclusion of the convention adjourned until evening.
The evening session was devoted to the annual sermon by Rev. J. L. Withrow, of Boston. His sermon was largely devoted to the doctrinal points in missionary work now under discussion, and was aimed at the doctrine of future probation. It was regarded as especially strengthening the position of the presidential committee, though without directly committing itself to the negative of the position taken by the Andover and advanced thinkers of the church.

The Y. N. M. I. Association.
NEWTON, Kan., Oct. 5.—Colonel Alex. Hogeland, general division agent of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association, who has just organized a branch society in this city, has at the request of officers of local divisions issued a call for a national convention at Minneapolis, Minn., on the 22nd of October, to continue in session three days. Invitations are extended to the judges of city courts, city missionaries and members of the Woman's Relief corp. For further information address P. M. Ferguson, president, Kansas City, or Col. Alex. Hogeland, Lincoln, Neb.

The Vailed Prophet.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—The Vailed Prophet, accompanied by his retinue of faithful attendants and preceded by a brilliant pageant, emerged at 7:30 o'clock this evening from the subterranean cavern at the corner of Twelfth and Chestnut streets on his eighth annual parade, and after traversing the principal streets of the city proceeded to the Merchants' Exchange where a grand and gorgeous pageant of twenty-one floats upon which were illustrated the most interesting and important events of America's history. The prophet was greeted with enthusiastic and continuous applause by the immense crowd of citizens and visitors who thronged all the streets and filled every foot of space that could be made available.

The Cattle Plague.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Three things have stood in the way of disposing of the distillery cattle supposed to be affected by the pleuro: First, the owners of the herd opposed the commission. Second, the state had not money enough to pay for the sound cattle that are under quarantine. Third, the packing interests demanding protection from the sales of slaughtered herds, but the persons who were most anxious for a quarantine have had enough of it and the scare which has gone abroad is the actual sale of the meat would have been, and so it has come about that this proposition has been formally made by the state commissioner that all the cattle under the quarantine be divided into three classes:
First, The sick and condemned cattle, which shall be totally destroyed at their owners' loss.
Second, Those which are not actually diseased and yet not fit for market, which shall be disposed of at the expense of the state.
Third, Those which pass muster as being perfectly sound and healthy, after full examinations before and after slaughter by the veterinarians, which shall then be turned over to the owner to be disposed of by him without any expense to the state except that of the slaughter.

It is thought that this proposition will be acceptable to all concerned, as the best method out of the existing condition of affairs. State Veterinarian Caswell goes to New Mexico on other matters; Dr. Salmon is going to Canada for a few days, and until the above proposition is generally accepted, so the slaughter can begin, everything will remain as it is, under strict quarantine.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 5.—Governor Hunter has issued a proclamation, quarantining against the cattle of Illinois and other states where pleuro-pneumonia exists.

The President's Wife.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 5.—Mrs. Cleveland, accompanied by her mother and her cousin, Miss Emma Folsom, of Philadelphia, passed through here this afternoon from Buffalo en route for Washington. At the depot they were met by over a thousand persons, the majority being women who were anxious to see the president's wife, and many of whom shook hands with her.

Receiver Appointed.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 5.—In the United States circuit court this morning the application for dismissal of the Robinson Reading railroad foreclosure was denied, and the argument proceeded. The court appointed Austin Corbin as the third Reading receiver.

MATCHLESS KANSAS.

Despite the Dry Weather of September Fall Seeding is Done.

The Acreage Sown Being Large and the Present Condition of Crops Good.

Plenty of Corn and Proverder to Carry Stock Through the Winter and to Spare.

The State Soldiers' Reunion at Emporia Drawing Immense Crowds to that City.

Many Thousands Already Present and Thousands More to Arrive—Everything Ready.

Weather Report.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6, 1 a. m.—Indications for Missouri: Fair weather, southerly winds, slightly warmer in the eastern portion, nearly stationary temperature in the western portion.
For Kansas: Fair weather, southerly winds, becoming variable, nearly stationary temperature.

Kansas Crops.
EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 5.—The Kansas Farmer is well pleased with a full report of the weather in Kansas during September and of the present conditions of the crops. The report is made up of short letters from correspondents, representing nearly every county. The general condition of the crops was good, with wheat and corn in the best of health, and wheat seeding was delayed on that account, still there is a large acreage shown and most of it is now up and growing well.
Corn is short, not more than 60 per cent of a full crop, perhaps, yet there is a good deal of as good corn as was ever raised anywhere, and there is some old corn on hand.
An unusually large quantity of fed has been saved and there is plenty to carry the farmers with all their stock through winter.
Stock is healthy and in good condition.
Apples, about half a crop.
All in all the state is in very good condition; the people have plenty notwithstanding the season was exceedingly dry and warm.

State Soldiers Reunion.
EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 5.—At least 10,000 people have already arrived in the city and it is estimated that this number will be quadrupled tomorrow. This state reunion of old soldiers will undoubtedly be more largely attended than any reunion ever before held in Kansas. Many prominent citizens of the state and of other states will be present. The city is elaborately and gallantly decorated. Friday will be the last day.

JUDGE LYNCH'S LEVEES.
WALLACE, the Murderer, Hanged at Steelville, Mo., and John Farrar, Colored, in Texas.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—Wallace, the murderer of the Logan family of five persons, a father, mother and three children, was taken from the jail at Steelville last night by a mob and hanged on a gallows erected for the purpose. The guilty man had been taken to Steelville from Cuba, Mo., where the horrible crime had been committed, for safe keeping, for fear that he would be summarily dealt with by the enraged citizens of Cuba. Friday morning, October 4, a mob gained entrance to the jail, seized Wallace and dragged him from the cell and strung him up. He was cut down after being allowed to hang for a while, in order that a confession might be forced from him. He refused to own up to the crime. Before the crowd could hang him up again the sheriff gained possession of him and hurried him back to the jail. The crowd was dispersed and the law was allowed to take its course.
Last night, however, a second and more successful attempt was made to mete out justice to the murderer. A masked mob of about one hundred men quietly gathered around the jail at midnight and demanded entrance of the jailer. This was refused and the mob gathered around the doors. A delegation of their members was sent to bring out the prisoner, while others were detailed to guard the roads leading to the scene. Wallace was awakened from sleep and dragged out by the mob. He responded by strongly protesting his innocence, still adhering to the story that it was the negro Vaughn who was guilty. This angered the mob more than ever, and with a shout they produced a rope, the end of which they placed around the murderer's neck. The other end was thrown over the limb of a tree standing near the jail. The prisoner still protested his innocence and appealed for mercy, but without avail. Strong hands grasped the rope and Wallace's body was swinging in the air. Another chance was not given him to confess, and a few minutes later he was a dead man. The mob then dispersed and the jail officers cut down and took possession of the body. There is no clue to the leader or participants of the lynching.

ALBANY, Tex., Oct. 5.—News has reached here from Throckmorton of the lynching of Tom Farrar, colored, who admitted having perpetrated the most brutal crime ever committed in Throckmorton county. Sunday morning an armed mob, well mounted, appeared at the jail. Battering down the door, they overpowered the guard, put a rope around the negro's neck, and tying the other end to the horn of a saddle, raised a wild horse off on a mile from the jail and hung him to a tree. He made a confession saying that he had ravished Miss Lizzie Urney and then killed her. After the murder he mounted a horse and was about to leave the Urney premises when he was met by Henry Ervey, the colored father. Ervey did not suspect that his daughter had been killed and Farrar said just as Urney had passed that he (Farrar) threw his arms catching the unfortunate man about his neck and dragged him with the lariet from the back of the house, where he cut his throat.

The Kansas & Rio Grande proposition was defeated forty-five for and 192 against. Newton & Northwestern, forty-one for and 198 against. There is great rejoicing here over the success of the Fort Worth.

Special Dispatch to the Daily Eagle.
NORWICH, Kan., Oct. 5.—The Chicago, Kansas & Western completed laying track to this place yesterday, and the citizens are jubilant in consequence. This makes the second road for Norwich within the last two months. Property has advanced at least 25 per cent since yesterday. The boom is on in earnest. This will be the terminus of the C. K. & W. until spring.

Jail Delivery.
Special Dispatch to the Daily Eagle.
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5.—Two prisoners escaped from our jail last night at nine o'clock. The jailer was waiting on a sick prisoner in an adjoining cell and failed to lock the door in the adjoining cell, and the two prisoners fastened him in the cell with the sick prisoner and escaped. One was in for larceny and the other was from Comanche county, for killing a boy in a patch some weeks ago. His name was Reymier.

The Knights in Council.
RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 5.—General Worthy Foreman Griffith called the second session of the Knights of Labor convention to order this morning in the absence of Powderly, who was detained by business. It is learned that the committee on credentials was not ready to report, and the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock. Before the delegates left, Powderly, who had, in the meantime, arrived, strongly urged them to avoid the use of strong drink while in Richmond. As an individual, he said, he had no right to dictate as to what they should do, but they were not here as individuals, but as the representatives of the organization. The eyes of the world were upon them, and they would be judged by their conduct.

The convention went into secret session again this afternoon at 2 o'clock.
The report of the committee on credentials was then read. It was very long and hours to read it. It was doubtful whether consideration of the report could be completed and action on it taken on this afternoon.

Tomorrow will be taken up in discussion of the question of the admission or rejection of eight or ten delegates whose names were referred to the convention by the committee on credentials. They come from several states and consist of members of delegations from assemblies claiming larger representation than strict rules of order allow. When this question is decided the convention will be ready to listen to Powderly's address, showing the progress of the order during the year, and settle down to business waiting its attention.

Mangus, the Border Terror.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—A special from El Paso, Texas, says: News has been received here which confirms what has been feared for several weeks—that the hostile Apache chief, Mangus, has been captured. Mangus did not end the Apache war. Lieutenant Britton Davis, recently of the United States army, but now manager of Cerroville's ranch in the state of Chihuahua, says that eight hostile Apaches raided his ranch during his absence, and drove away twenty mules. He started in the pursuit, and after following the thieves for several days he came up with them only sixty miles from his city, in the state of Chihuahua. He was amazed to find that they were Apaches, ten in number.
A sharp battle ensued, but none of the lieutenant's party were severely hurt. Lieutenant Davis says that old Mangus was the leader of the thieves. Mangus has been for twenty years the terror of the border. He is regarded as a far abler tactician than Geronimo. He is Indian and his name is half brother. Lieutenant Davis says he has pursued Mangus and his band to within twenty-five miles of El Paso, where he abandoned the trail. Davis thinks the hostiles are by this time in New Mexico, and that they intend to make a raid through New Mexico, Arizona, and thence into Sonora.

The Anarchist Case.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Mr. Solomon, one of the attorneys for the defense in the anarchist trial, occupied nearly the entire day in his argument upon motion for a new trial. He contended that the only offense for which the prisoners could be properly tried was for conspiracy. He said that under the law they had a perfect right to say what they thought, and that they could not be held for murder, even though murder was committed in consequence of their speeches. He also raised the point that it was improper for jurors to take notes during the trial.

Solomon was followed by his associate counsel, Messrs Seiler & Foster. Mr. Seiler devoted himself chiefly to criticism and denunciation of an instruction which Judge Gary, unasked by either side, had handed to the jury, and the instruction was that if anyone advised and encouraged a murder, and was present, and if murder were done in pursuance thereof, then those who gave such advice and encouragement were guilty of murder.
Mr. Foster's opening was of rare eloquence. He dwelt upon the impossibility of securing a fair and impartial trial by a jury who acknowledged themselves to be prejudiced. He said there was in such a case no need of having a state attorney or of hiring men from the outside to assist him. Too much praise for his management of the case had been given to Mr. Grinnell; the case would just as well and just as successfully have tried itself.

Mr. Foster will resume tomorrow.

WILDEST EXCITEMENT

Produced in the New Jersey Republican Convention at the Mention of the Name of the Plumed Knight as the Next Republican Nominee for President.

The Announcement Greeted with Tumultuous Applause—Election Returns from Connecticut Indicate Republican Gains and a Clean Sweep of the State.

Speaker Carlisle Renominated for Congress from his District—A Field Day at Hutchinson.

POLITICAL POINTS.
A Field Day at Hutchinson.

HECHINGER, Kan., Oct. 5.—Yesterday was a gala day for Hutchinson, and last night a grand hurra-hurra was held among our politicians and the people generally, caused by some distinguished men of the state being here. On Sunday night last Governor Martin, Lieutenant Governor Riddle and Col. Chouard arrived here and were the guests of our mayor, L. A. Biggar during their stay here. Yesterday they visited the state reformatory new building and our water works and other places of interest in and about the city. In the afternoon Col. Chouard spoke to a large assembly, and in the evening our opera house was densely packed by the people who came to hear Gov. Martin, Lieutenant Governor Riddle and Tim McCarty, who each made stirring speeches.

The Coyote Club of Larnard furnished some excellent singing, especially adapted for the occasion, which was applauded at such lengths as to bring them out for a repetition.
Governor Martin spoke at some length concerning the reformatory law—the scheme was worked up and made a success during his administration; now he had made it a special study and how great a benefit would be its result when fully attained, as he desired to see them, it would tend to reform and make better citizens of the youthful criminals and those who were not vicious and desperate.

The governor hopes to be retained in power so that he can carry out and see his methods and desires in regard to this institution perfected as he wishes them to be. In regard to prohibition and the enforcement of it the governor takes a decided stand and firmly believes that on this matter the people have as firmly decided that there shall be no compromise, nor backing down, but that the law must be enforced fully to the letter.

New Jersey Republicans.
TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 5.—The Republican state convention met in Taylor's opera house at noon today. Chairman Hobart of the state committee called the convention to order. Ex-Senator Alexander G. Catt of Camden, was elected temporary chairman, and he presided over the convention and declared the plumed knight of Maine to be the Republican nominee for president. The announcement at the convention was met with enthusiasm. Delegates first applauded, then cheered, finally half of them rose to their feet, waved their hats and hurrahed for several minutes. The closing of the convention was a decided success and the nomination made unanimous.

The platform favors compulsory education and favors capital taxation, and opposes removal of restrictive legislation on the manufacture of liquor. It condemns the removal of crippled union soldiers from public office and also the attitude of President Cleveland on the pension question. It declares in behalf of the submission to the people at a special election of the question of controlling the liquor trade.

Equal Suffrages.
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 5.—The equal suffrage convention closed this evening with addresses by Susan B. Anthony and others. The convention has been largely attended and great interest manifested. The Baptist church tonight was packed to its utmost with an intelligent audience.
Conventions will be held at the following, among other places: Abilene, October 6 and 7; Lincoln, October 8 and 9; Salina, October 11; Florence, October 12 and 13; Hutchinson, October 13 and 14; Wichita, October 15 and 16; Anthony, October 21 and 22; Ft. Scott, 23 and 24; Winfield, Kansas City and other places to be announced hereafter.

Miss Anthony and Mrs. Colby, of Nebraska, leave today for Abilene, over the Union Pacific.

Connecticut Election.
