

LOCAL HERALDINGS.

Harvest is almost over.
Green corn is in the market.
Everybody seems to be preparing for the flush time that is near at hand.
D. C. Clark has cut, with a header 450 acres of grain this season. Verily Dave is a ruster.
Several complain of severe colds which is an unusual thing this time of the year.
We would add that our town would assume more metropolitan airs if some of the obnoxious hog pens were removed from so near the public streets.
Last week we failed to mention the departure for her home in Junction City, of Mrs. A. L. McLeod, mother of Mrs. G. A. Spaulding.
Our delegates to the Senatorial Convention came back this morning well satisfied with their part in the work of the convention, and so are we.
G. A. Spaulding has purchased Dr. Mallett's fine buggy team. We would like very much to ride behind those splendid roadsters some day, George.
Last Thursday, during the unusual rise in the Solonion, caused by the recent rains, a large break was caused by the flood in the Logan Mill dam.
Considerable grain has been stacked this week, most all the small grain that could be cut is now in the shock. There are still a few pieces of oats and spring grain to cut.
Mrs. Mary L. Poling, daughter-in-law and Mrs. Mary M. McCown, of Ripley, W. Va., daughter of N. Poling of this place, are visiting in the city, and will remain until cold weather.
Harvest if about over and the sweet voice of the threshing machine is beginning to float away on the pure Kansas breezes, stacking is going on at a rapid rate, and everybody seems to be as busy as bees.
Eunice Bailey, 8 year old daughter of Al Bailey of this place while visiting her uncle's family in Norton, fell from a horse and broke her leg one day last week. Her father went out to see her Monday and has not yet returned.
George Veeh and family, of Mound township, left yesterday morning for Minneapolis Minn. to take in the National Encampment and visit friends in other parts of the state. Mr. Veeh delayed this trip to the last day on account of the press of his farm work.
George W. Young left Phillipsburg Monday evening for the great G. A. R. Encampment at Minneapolis, Minn., and while gone will visit Chicago and other small cities and have a good time generally. We hope that George may get back all right and that he will still be Young when he returns.
Miss Jennie Leffingwell, of Ft. Collins, Colorado, is stopping in town a few days visiting the families of C. H. Leffingwell and A. C. McClung who are cousins of hers. She goes to Williamsburg, Ohio, where she will spend the balance of the summer visiting friends.
W. W. Hanson, of Mound township, sheep inspector of this county, called at these headquarters Tuesday to renew his faith in the HERALD, and also subscribe for the American Farmer. Mr. H. is one of the old time citizens, whose good opinions are highly prized by us, coming as they do from one who is justly entitled to be termed a leading citizen.
J. W. Bowman, who bought county Clerk Lowe's farm in Mound township, was in town yesterday and took occasion to call in and subscribe for the HERALD. Mr. Bowman is an old soldier, having served in the 75th Indiana infantry during the "late unpleasantness," was a good soldier and, unless we are deceived, will make a good citizen.
A. K. Riley, of Harlan, Iowa, a leading real estate man of Shelby county, Iowa, has been stopping a few days as the guest of Mr. Morse, Cashier of the Phillips County Bank, and through whom we learn he has made several investments in Phillips county farms, he being delighted with our magnificent crops and fine country. We hope his investments may prove all that he could wish.
Last Saturday, in company with J. B. Woods, we visited our sister town of Marvin, and found the merchants all jubilant over the splendid crop prospects. Marvin has four general stores, two drug stores, one restaurant, one hardware store, one blacksmith shop, one hotel and two livery stables. This is a nice little town and is inhabited by as intelligent and law abiding citizens as can be found in Northwest Kansas.
G. A. Spaulding is as yet the only person who has publicly announced himself a candidate for Clerk of the District Court. We think this is as it should be, as in the history of the older counties in the state it is customary when a Clerk of the Court meets all the requirements, as Mr. Spaulding does, to retain him for a number of years, as the office is one that requires a great deal of practical experience. Mr. Spaulding's official record is good and his books are an honor to him, and to Phillips county.
The Senatorial Convention for the 38th District, held at Oberlin last Tuesday, nominated H. S. Granger, of this county, on the nineteenth ballot, his principal competitor being Hon. John R. Hamilton, of Norton county, either of whom had been chosen would have done credit to the district, but as Mr. Granger was the candidate supported by the HERALD before the convention, we, of course, are well pleased with the final result, and feel sure that the district will never have cause regret the choice of Mr. Granger as their Standard Bearer.

Subscribe for the HERALD and be happy.
G. W. Stinson and S. W. McElroy in Kirwin today, attending a contest.
Sheriff Woods delivered to Recorder Smith last Saturday, twenty-seven Sheriff deeds for record.
Don't break your neck in that weed patch. They will be mowed down some day.
Don't forget to prepare your exhibits for the county fair to be held October 8, 9, and 10.
It is reported that the Republican river was higher last Thursday than has been known for a number of years.
James Woods, Frank Strain and J. W. Lowe attended the Oberlin Convention Tuesday as a part of the Phillips County delegation.
C. Hickenlooper is laying at home sick, supposed to be from the effects of the recent injuries received by falling out of a wagon.
DeLand & Co. cannot afford to let the quality of their Soda and Saleratus run down. Their strength and purity can always be relied upon.
MARRIED—July 21, 1884, at Phillipsburg Kansas, by H. C. Spaulding Probate Judge, Mr. A. H. Zibbe to Miss Ella Swift both of Smith county Kansas.
Mrs. C. Hickenlooper has purchased of Mrs. B. E. Nash her stock of millinery, and will continue to wait on those who wish to purchase a new hat, or anything else in the millinery line of the latest styles.
We are in receipt of Vol. 1 No. 1 of the Mitchell County Farmer, published at Beloit, Mitchell County. It is a neat all home print paper and is devoted to the interest of agriculture in North-West Kansas. We wish it success.

Professor Lewis, Frank Strain, J. W. Lowe, James Woods and others arrived home from the Oberlin Convention this morning feeling very jubilant over the nomination of H. S. Granger for State Senator.
At the mass convention of the Green back National Anti-Monopoly Labor party, at this place last Saturday, just three lone Anties were present. "How hath the mighty fallen."
Dr. Jackson's Penetrating Liniment. Keep this valuable remedy on hand in case of accident. It gives prompt relief and is a certain cure for Rheumatism, severe burns, cuts, bruises or scalds, for horses or cattle it has no equal. 25c., 50cts. and $1.00 per bottle.
D. T. Palmer, who advertises the book, "Twenty Years in Congress," by James G. Blaine, wishes to say that he cannot canvas for it, but will receive orders for the book at Kirwin. Any one who fails to get this book will miss a rare treat, as it is a magnificent work. Address, D. T. Palmer, Kirwin, Kan.
There will be a Sabbath School picnic at Long Island Saturday August 16th, 1884, to which all the Sabbath Schools in the surrounding country are invited. The school bringing the largest delegation will be presented with a banner by the Long Island school. Each school is invited to take part in the exercises. Good speakers and excellent programme.
The August number of Demorest's Illustrated Monthly is unusually interesting. Among the many articles that call for favorable notice are "On Four in Hand in the Tyrol," "Costume Portraits in the Paris Salon," "At the Whitty Jet works," "Opportunities for Women," by Jenny June, and "Ernst Moritz Arndt, Poet and Patriot." Ella Wheeler, Eleanor Kirk, and others contribute excellent stories, and the illustrated article on the popular "Crazy Quilt" will prove useful to ladies. "The World's Progress," and the various departments are of interest and utility, and the illustrations excellent. The beautiful picture "A Feather in her Cap" is exceedingly attractive.
This week we have the pleasure of announcing the name of G. A. Spaulding for re-election to the office of Clerk of the District Court. Mr. Spaulding has already filled the office which he now seeks for two terms. When we say he has filled the office of District Clerk, we do so with a desire to be understood, as meaning all that the language would imply.
The office is one of much greater importance than the emoluments would indicate and when an officer is found who so faithfully and efficiently fills an office of so great importance as that it is a good policy to let well enough alone and try as few experiments as possible. The records of the office are a model of excellence as every attorney or other person who has had business there will know and in the four years that Mr. S. has held the office, we have yet to hear the first complaint as to any part of his administration. He ought to be re-nominated by acclamation.
It is a fact well worthy of serious consideration that D. A. Huling is hard at work with sledge hammer blows upon high prices. Down they tumble, one by one, but they have got to come. There must be room made for a heavy fall stock, and one of Huling's hobbies is to close out all unseasonable goods or some about to become unseasonable, at some price, any price, give them away, anything to get them off and fill up with a bright new stock. Now as there are a great many unseasonable goods that can be used for the latter part of this season and laid away for next, it pays, and it pays big, to take advantage of such chances. Summer coats at half price, light prints at less than cost, and slippers and light shoes off a third, sometimes a half, and a hundred other articles that must be cleared out. It pays to sell them off and get clear of them. It pays you to buy them for the rest of this, and for next season. Staple goods not exactly at bottom prices for the bottom is gone, but away below that. Remember D. A. Huling's is the place to invest if you want tip top special bargains.

BORN—To Mrs. and Mr. J. E. Pretz, of Marvin, a son.
The new carpet for the use of the Masonic, Odd-Fellows and G. A. R. Halls have arrived and will add much to the comfort, convenience and looks of the hall.
Land is changing hands more rapid than ever before, and Register of Deeds, Smith, is having all he can do to keep up with the records.
Webb McCall of Gaylord, is a candidate for Representative in his district. We know of no worthier man for the position than Webb McCall.
Irwin McDowell and B. L. Kirk have sold their farm one mile west of Phillipsburg to A. K. Riley of Harlan Iowa. J. F. Morse did the business.
It now only requires the work of the county convention of September 13th to complete the list of officers to be voted for by the Republicans at the polls this fall, and if what is to be done is as well done as what has been done our ticket will be invincible.
Last Saturday Judge Pratt met with quite a serious accident. While standing upon a box making some repairs to his granary, he fell seriously spraining one of his knees and otherwise injuring himself, so that he has been confined to his house. It was at first thought that his knee was dislocated, but did not prove to be so. We believe he is doing as well as could be expected.
Mr. Lew Ginger gave one of his performances at the court house last Monday night, and fully demonstrated that he is an artist of much merit and ought to have had a much better house. To see any one of his battle charts and have them explained and illustrated is worth more than twice the cost of admission. As a comedian he is a success. We understand that he designs returning some time in the near future, when he will give several performances under the auspices of the G. A. R., of which he is a member. We predict a full house for him if he does.

Stacking of Hay and Grain.
My attention was called a few days ago to the careless manner in which many farmers do their stacking. This is a subject that farmers could study more closely to advantage. Nothing tells more upon the profits of a hay crop than careless stacking. Every farmer should be able to stack his own grain whether it be wheat, rye, oats, barley or flax. The object in learning is not so much to build a nice looking stack as one that will shed the rain well and keep the hay sound. If the two can be combined so much the better. But if either must be neglected, let it be the looks. The main point in wheat stacking is to keep the middle full, and then have the inside bundles packed sufficiently tight to keep out the driving rains. The middle should be kept high so that when the stack settles (and they will settle a good deal) that the inside will still remain the highest, and the outside bundles readily shed water. To begin with you want a good foundation. Rails and posts are the best for this purpose, and the foundation should be built up at least one foot from the ground to keep it from drawing moisture, and it should be sufficiently strong to sustain any weight that you wish to put upon it. A good bulge should be put out five or six feet from the ground and then drawn gradually in. Wheat can be stacked when damp without damage, and when in this condition is easier worked. It will dry out in the stack without injury to the grain.
Oats on the other hand must be thoroughly cured and dry. When stacked wet, even after being well cured, they will mould and rot. I would advise the putting of oats under shelter when it can be done. I prefer giving my oats the barn, and stacking the hay, especially when the oats are designed to be fed without threshing, and feeding them in sheaf I find most profitable. Of the grass clover requires the most care in stacking. Unless unusual pains are taken clover should be topped off with something else. It is very difficult to stack clover and top off the stack completely, and have it kept for any considerable length of time, without some other topping. I have found red top to make an admirable covering. With timothy, oats and other grasses the principal point is to keep all sides tramped alike, so that in setting the stack will stand up straight. The most prolific cause of hay spoiling in the stack is the setting, leaving one side flatter than than the other, allowing the water to soak in instead of running off. The stack should be drawn in as regularly as possible from all sides so that the top will be in the center and slope down evenly on all sides. Where this is well done and the stack has been well tramped, there is little danger of hay spoiling.—Stock Record.

Strayed.
From my home, 3 miles west and 1 mile south of Phillipsburg, last Thursday, a red and white spotted cow. Any person giving information leading to its recovery will be rewarded.

GOOD Morning Gentle Reader.
Did you know that FRED. E. WINSHIP had started in business?
Did you know he is anxious to work up a good trade?
Did you know that in order to do so he expects to down them on prices?

Did you know he has the noblest store and the best selected stock in the west.
Did you know that eleven years experience in a new country gives him decided advantages.
Did you know that your trade will be a great object to him, and that he expects to make his goods and prices an object to you.
It is good judgment in you to place your dollars where they will do you the most good, and after a careful inspection of my stock and prices, if you do not think that I merit your patronage, I do not want it. All I have to say is this: give me a trial. I pay no rents. My expenses all told are a mere trifle. My goods are bought for cash and I flatter myself that I can sell cheaper than any merchant who does a credit business.
My stock is fresh, attractive and complete in everything belonging to general merchandise, and I shall always pay the highest market price for produce.
You will find me doing business in the old Fied Dutton store (which has been lately refitted) where I hope to receive a liberal share of your patronage, and if your neighbor asks you for the news, please tell him about this little article you have seen in the paper, and oblige
Your Friend,
FRED. E. WINSHIP.
