

MUST GO TO WORK

The Rockefeller of Mexico Will Rent California Ranch And Try to Earn a Living for His Family.

WAS ROBBED ON ALL SIDES The Terrazas Family Has Borne Brunt of Revolution.

Recently Paid $590,000 as a Ransom for a Son.

El Paso, Feb. 6.—His immense income tied up by three years of revolutions, Alberto Terrazas, of the family whose name in Mexico is a synonym for great wealth, has been compelled to seek means to live on. This information, as astounding in Mexico and along the Rio Grande border as similar news affecting a Rockefeller or a Vanderbilt would be in the United States, became known here today with his departure for Pasadena, Cal. He was accompanied by his family, but not the usual retinue of servants.

Near Pasadena Terrazas expects to buy or lease a small farm, where he can make a modest living. He is one of those who see no prospect of peace in his native land and until tranquility is restored he demands that the vast Terrazas family fortune, estimated at $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 in American gold, will be tied up. Even in the event of peace it may be lost, for the rebels have declared it confiscated.

"I do not mind going to work; it may be a good thing," he said to friends before his departure, and smiled at his own remarks for his prodigality with money has been a story, chapters of which have been written on two continents—in London and Paris, in Mexico, California, Texas, New York, and in Chihuahua, the family seat, from which the estate has always been administered.

Terrazas has worked as rich men have, and he was the governor of the state of Chihuahua, but he did not work for a living. For bread and butter, he is to labor for bread and butter, and he will do much of the breeding of horses and cattle on his own ranches, and his friends say he will be able to hold his own in wresting an income from the soil.

The Terrazas fortune was founded by Don Luis Terrazas, now an octogenarian refugee in this city, in land grants from President Juarez, and President Porfirio Diaz. These holdings, immense as they were, have been augmented constantly until now, as train schedules are in Mexico, it would take a passenger train to make the usual stops, three days to travel the boundaries of this domain. It stretches from Juarez 375 miles south to Jimenez and west to Casas Grandes. Mines, factories and fertile farms.

All this was the property of the senior Terrazas and his three sons—Juan, now in California; Luis, now held at Chihuahua as a hostage by the rebels, and Alberto—until the rebels declared the whole estate confiscated. Beginning with the revolt of Francisco Madero, more than three years ago, the soldiers of Northern Mexico on either side of that and the succeeding revolutions, have practically lived on the Terrazas fortune. The immense sum were contributed by the family to favorite causes, or were extorted by the enemy.

Fald Big Ransom. A recent instance was the million dollar ransom demanded for the release of Luis Jr. He was incarcerated in the military palace at Chihuahua but declined to contribute until he was taken out, beaten with the flat of a sword and a horse blanket found his neck and gently threatened. In this predicament he contributed all the money he could command, $50,000 in American gold, and was then permitted to join his family at the home of his father. He is still there as a hostage.

The additional ransom now demanded is $250,000 but the Generalissimo Villa prefers to hold him as a hostage to deter other members of the family from financing the rebel cause. He has been harassed the rebel rear on his march to Torreon.

In the early days of armed disorder in Mexico those of the Terrazas family who came to the United States traveled in almost regal style, with their own private governesses and dependents came in their train and whole floors of hotels here in Los Angeles and other cities were reserved for the party. This time, however, they have been living very moderately, some much more than others. They are on this side of the border is not known, but intimates say it is comparatively little.

He, like his sons, always had an anchor to windward in the way of investments in the United States. In the past he has even eaten them almost to the bone. Alberto, it is said, would not accept aid from his father, but he has taken refuge rather to fight his own battle with his own hands. When he and his wife and their children fled, he had a servant, but one servant in the party, an old nurse who has spent her whole life in the family.

SCHMIDT IS GUILTY Former Priest Convicted of Murdering His Sweetheart. New York, Feb. 6.—Hans Schmidt, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing Anna Amuller, is seemingly content with the verdict and declines to permit his counsel to appeal.

Next Wednesday Schmidt will be sentenced to die in the electric chair. The verdict against Schmidt was rendered a little more than two hours after the jury has retired. Schmidt is said to be the former priest, who had sat through the last trial days as if in a daze and always blankly staring at the court room wall when his bent figure suddenly straightened, a light came into his eyes and he smiled.

CELEBRATE AT HAYS.

Lincoln's Birthday to Be Great Event Out There. Hays, Kan., Feb. 6.—Next Thursday, February 12, the people of Lincoln county and old Fort Hays will celebrate Lincoln's birthday with appropriate services. In the evening Hon. Charles Curtis, the former United States senator, will deliver an address at the Methodist church on Lincoln's life.

The Republican county central committee meet there this Saturday to arrange a reception for him during his stay in the town and to have the county people come in and attend the celebration. It is expected the committee will arrange to have a fair party ticket in the field for county offices in that Democratic stronghold.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

(Continued from Page One.) On any old ticket, it would take mighty strong argument to convince us that we should vote for someone else even though he is one of the rank and file conservatives in the whole flock of stand-patters. There's a mighty clean man, from any angle you care to measure him."

On the event a straightforward Republican platform should be written in Kansas this year and submitted to the candidates before the primaries, many political leaders declared that Scott would probably become a candidate for the governorship. But the candidacy of Scott, according to the men who are in the confidence of the governor, would be based entirely on the principles advocated by his party in this state. At the recent meeting of the Kansas Day club, Scott made clear that he "could not accept a platform that would require him to endorse the party's refusal to endorse the initiative and referendum and recall of the judiciary and judicial decisions.

Murphy May Be Chairman. Ed Murphy of Leavenworth, came to Topeka last night to urge Democratic leaders about the future—more especially about the election of a new state chairman. Murphy is slated for the position of state chairman and candidate for the state chairmanship to succeed W. H. L. Pepperill of Concordia, recently appointed interim revenue collector for the district. The resignation of Pepperill is expected to resign at this time and Murphy does not know whether he cares to wait six months for the chairmanship job. Even in the event of peace it may be lost, for the rebels have declared it confiscated.

"I do not mind going to work; it may be a good thing," he said to friends before his departure, and smiled at his own remarks for his prodigality with money has been a story, chapters of which have been written on two continents—in London and Paris, in Mexico, California, Texas, New York, and in Chihuahua, the family seat, from which the estate has always been administered.

Terrazas has worked as rich men have, and he was the governor of the state of Chihuahua, but he did not work for a living. For bread and butter, he is to labor for bread and butter, and he will do much of the breeding of horses and cattle on his own ranches, and his friends say he will be able to hold his own in wresting an income from the soil.

The Terrazas fortune was founded by Don Luis Terrazas, now an octogenarian refugee in this city, in land grants from President Juarez, and President Porfirio Diaz. These holdings, immense as they were, have been augmented constantly until now, as train schedules are in Mexico, it would take a passenger train to make the usual stops, three days to travel the boundaries of this domain. It stretches from Juarez 375 miles south to Jimenez and west to Casas Grandes. Mines, factories and fertile farms.

All this was the property of the senior Terrazas and his three sons—Juan, now in California; Luis, now held at Chihuahua as a hostage by the rebels, and Alberto—until the rebels declared the whole estate confiscated. Beginning with the revolt of Francisco Madero, more than three years ago, the soldiers of Northern Mexico on either side of that and the succeeding revolutions, have practically lived on the Terrazas fortune. The immense sum were contributed by the family to favorite causes, or were extorted by the enemy.

Fald Big Ransom. A recent instance was the million dollar ransom demanded for the release of Luis Jr. He was incarcerated in the military palace at Chihuahua but declined to contribute until he was taken out, beaten with the flat of a sword and a horse blanket found his neck and gently threatened. In this predicament he contributed all the money he could command, $50,000 in American gold, and was then permitted to join his family at the home of his father. He is still there as a hostage.

The additional ransom now demanded is $250,000 but the Generalissimo Villa prefers to hold him as a hostage to deter other members of the family from financing the rebel cause. He has been harassed the rebel rear on his march to Torreon.

In the early days of armed disorder in Mexico those of the Terrazas family who came to the United States traveled in almost regal style, with their own private governesses and dependents came in their train and whole floors of hotels here in Los Angeles and other cities were reserved for the party. This time, however, they have been living very moderately, some much more than others. They are on this side of the border is not known, but intimates say it is comparatively little.

He, like his sons, always had an anchor to windward in the way of investments in the United States. In the past he has even eaten them almost to the bone. Alberto, it is said, would not accept aid from his father, but he has taken refuge rather to fight his own battle with his own hands. When he and his wife and their children fled, he had a servant, but one servant in the party, an old nurse who has spent her whole life in the family.

SCHMIDT IS GUILTY Former Priest Convicted of Murdering His Sweetheart. New York, Feb. 6.—Hans Schmidt, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing Anna Amuller, is seemingly content with the verdict and declines to permit his counsel to appeal.

Next Wednesday Schmidt will be sentenced to die in the electric chair. The verdict against Schmidt was rendered a little more than two hours after the jury has retired. Schmidt is said to be the former priest, who had sat through the last trial days as if in a daze and always blankly staring at the court room wall when his bent figure suddenly straightened, a light came into his eyes and he smiled.

He prepared for the verdict. Since his arrest, Begler has been refused to be shaved to have his hair cut. He has worn a silk handkerchief in lieu of a collar and his appearance after his return to the bar to hear the verdict before a clean silk handkerchief about his neck. This is the first time since the opening of the trial Schmidt had combed his hair which has grown so long that it completely covered his neck and ears but it was parted and smoothed back neatly. Schmidt ate a hearty supper after his return to the bar and afterwards he went to bed and fell into a sound sleep. It was when he was awakened by the court clerk's knock that the announcement that he wanted no appeal.

HELLO, MR. ZERO!

(Continued from Page One.) This means that the temperature at Topeka by morning will be from 5 to 10 degrees below zero. It is hardly probable that the record for February 6 will be broken. The coldest weather experienced at this date was seven below in 1905.

The storm was caused by an area of low pressure which Thursday extended over west Canada and the northern states, moving down to the Pacific coast. Santa Fe Reports. The Santa Fe reports that there has been little trouble caused in Kansas by the storm. At 7 o'clock this morning the snow did not extend as far as the extreme southern portion of the state. A mist was falling in the south. Elsewhere was the snow about 2 inches deep according to the railway reports.

THE WEATHER RECORD

(Continued from Page One.) Following are observations of the United States weather bureau for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning: High. Low. Snow. Rain or sleet.

Table with columns: Station, High, Low, Snow, Rain or sleet. Lists weather data for various cities including Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Boston, Buffalo, etc.

See the handsome new neckwear Chaffee-Norton Co. are showing—Adv. TODAY'S MARKET REPORTS. Chicago, Feb. 6.—WHEAT—Wheat prices are up today in a general push to buy because of possible crop damage from the cold wave. Mercury 32 below zero was reported in parts of Nebraska. Sellers, however, are not making any quotations had made a moderate bulge. Snow falls over much of the winter crop region and the advance opening figures were 4 1/2c to 4 3/4c higher, and additional gains followed.

Chicago Grain Market. (The change of prices for grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade as reported by Thos. J. Myra, Broker, Columbian Bldg.)

Chicago Live Stock Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Kansas City Live Stock Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Are Cheapest by the Box

How you smack your lips over the delicious tang of a golden "Sunkist" orange! Breakfast would be a blank without it.

"Sunkist" lemons are the finest selected oranges grown. Seedless, tree-ripened, thin-skinned, fibrous. Picked, wrapped in tissue paper, and packed by gloved hands. Cheapest of all fruits.

"Sunkist" Lemons on Fish and Meats

"Sunkist" lemons are the finest fruit selected from the best lemon groves of California. Mostly seedless. Juicier—more economical—than other lemons.

"Sunkist" Orange Spoon

Guaranteed Rogers A-1 Standard Silver plate. Rich, heavy. Exclusive "Sunkist" pattern. 27 different premiums. For this orange spoon send 12 trademarks or "Sunkist" orange or lemon wrappers and six 2-cent stamps.

Reduced prices at your dealer's "SUNKIST" Oranges by the box or half-box. Address all orders for premium silverware and all correspondence to CALIFORNIA FRUIT GROWERS EXCHANGE, 139 N. Clark St., Chicago.

STOCK SHIPPERS

To Insure Yourself Best Results Consign to CLAY, ROBINSON & CO. Live Stock Commission Merchants, Stock Yards, Kan. City.

Also Have Our Own Offices at Chicago, St. Paul, E. St. Louis, and Fort Worth.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—WHEAT—Wheat prices are up today in a general push to buy because of possible crop damage from the cold wave. Mercury 32 below zero was reported in parts of Nebraska. Sellers, however, are not making any quotations had made a moderate bulge. Snow falls over much of the winter crop region and the advance opening figures were 4 1/2c to 4 3/4c higher, and additional gains followed.

Chicago Grain Market. (The change of prices for grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade as reported by Thos. J. Myra, Broker, Columbian Bldg.)

Chicago Live Stock Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Kansas City Live Stock Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Chicago Produce Market. (The following sales were made this morning at the Stock Yards, Kansas City, Mo. by the telephone direct to the State Journal by Clay, Robinson & Co., live stock commission merchants, with offices at all markets.)

Advertisement for Sunkist oranges and lemons, featuring an illustration of a box and promotional text about quality and pricing.

Advertisement for Stock Shippers Clay, Robinson & Co., located at the Stock Yards in Kansas City.

Advertisement for WM. GREEN & SON, featuring 'Big Cheese' and 'Tomorrow' products.

Advertisement for Topeka Grain Market, listing various grain and produce prices.

Advertisement for Topeka Hide Market, listing prices for various types of hides.

Advertisement for Topeka Buttery, Eggs and Poultry, listing prices for various food items.