COTTOLENE
CONTAINS NO HOG FAT
USE 1/3 LESS

Here is what Marion Harland said in 1906 about Cottolene

"Many years ago, I discontinued the use of lard in my kitchen and substituted for it, as an experiment, Cottolene, then comparatively a new product. Since my first trial of it I can truly say that it has given complete satisfaction. I honestly believe it to be the very best thing of its kind ever offered to the American housekeeper."

MARION HARLAND.

Cottolene makes biscuits that are tender when they are cold—that is a sure test of a good shortening. Try it yourself. Make the biscuits like this:

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS
2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons Cottolene, 3/4 cup milk. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together; rub in Cottolene; mix lightly and quickly; mixture should not be dry; roll out on board, cut into small biscuits, bake ten to fifteen minutes in hot oven. To make biscuits richer, mix with cream. Whole wheat, graham or rye biscuit may be made in the same way.—Edith L. Cliff.

AT THE THEATERS.

When the curtain rises on "Little Women" at the Grand Saturday the audience will see reflected both in stage furnishings and stage costuming the fashions of the early sixties. The furniture is really old. The pictures are hung with the red cord and tassels of the war period and they are the identical pictures used at that time. The heavy cornices over the windows, the looped-back curtains, the table covers, lamp, afghans, all the accessories are just as they were in vogue at that time when Jo wrote her stories, when Meg dreamed of the lover who subsequently became her husband, when little Beth trotted about the house, making everybody happy and earning her family pet name of "Little Tranquility," when Amy pattered about her clay and her sketch book, dreaming of an artist's career; when Laurie played pranks and teased the four girls, and when Mrs. March, the Mother of the dear old story, trained her girls into the beautiful talented women they all became, keeping them in the shelter of the old home and teaching them lessons that lasted them through life in the art of being useful, happy and busy.

"The Divorce Question" which comes to the Grand on next Wednesday night under the direction of Wingfield and Riddings has created more discussion than any play produced in recent years; it has served to enlighten the public on a subject that previously had not received the consideration due such a weighty problem. The theme is treated with startling frankness and the characters are clean cut, cameo like in their distinctiveness. "The Divorce

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD.
Get a small package of Hamburg Freest Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.
It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Adv.

AT THE NOVELTY.

Well supplied with funny situations, exceptionally well stocked with the cold chills of mother-in-law rule and most promisingly well adapted to the demand for light girly-ly exhibitions, the tabloid performance, "Who's Your Friend?" at the Novelty the last of this week is in keeping with the usual good musical comedy stuff. The fact that Manager Maxwell is forced to close the doors of the theater during the first performance is indicative of the manner in which the patrons are crowding the popular play house on the Eighth-Quincy corner.

"Who's Your Friend?" deals with a mother-in-law-necked husband of the well known type. He has a jealous but powerful pretty w.e. He also has a picture of a Turkish harem girl. The picture comes to life and he is confronted with a problem of dealing with the scantily clothed girl to the satisfaction of his wife's mother, who is a staunch member of the purity league. The comedy settles around the harem girl and the tactics of "Cobby Stewart" as a hall boy and Billy Wyse as the butler.

Plenty of clever work is staged by Robby Stewart and Billy Wyse, also by the character songs of Eric Carle. The harem girl, Gertrude Earle, is endowed with a dainty figure, pretty hair and a natural lisp. Archie Foulk, the son-in-law

This Will Remove Hairs From Face
(Toilet Talks.)
Many beauty experts have discarded the electric needle and are now using a plain delatone paste to remove hairy growths because this method is almost instantaneous and is entirely devoid of pain. The paste is made by mixing some powdered delatone with water and this is applied to the hairy surface for about 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed. This banishes every trace of hair and leaves the skin soft and spotless. Be sure to get the delatone in an original package.—Adv.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

There is a good bill at the Orpheum theater for the closing days of the week. There is not a suggestion of sameness about the acts; they are widely different. "A Night in Minstrelsy," staged by three colonial maids and two clever black face comedians, is a whole minstrel show in itself. The singing, dancing, and joke making of this quintette are done in approved fashion.

There is real fun in a dog town. Murphy's dogs are attired in clothes which if not in the latest style are at least grotesque. They put on a "busy street scene" in downtown and please especially the members of the younger generation.

Lyndell and Fox, "the Quaker maid and the man," as they style themselves, do a rapid-fire talking, singing and dancing act that brings forth applause. Miss Beulah Bear sings and dances. Ragtime is her specialty and she makes good.

Question" ran for 125 performances in Chicago and the tour of the present organization bids fair to exceed in popularity its phenomenal success in the latter city.

Harry Lauder will make his appearance at the Grand on February 14 while en route on his trip around the world. Lauder's present visit to this country marks his sixth annual tour in America under the direction of William Morris. Lauder will sail from San Francisco, Cal., on March 11 and will be gone several months for a tour through Australia. He has a number of new songs in his repertoire as "It's Nice to Get Up in the Mornin'" but Nicer to Lie in Bed," "Ta Ta, My Bonnie Maggie Darlin'" and "The Lodger," with which he has made a tremendous success in London last season. In his supporting company will be Miss Ona Garrick, the celebrated English dramatic actress in a series of impersonations. Irene Berseny, the Hungarian gipsy cymbalist; Alfred Latell and Elias Vokes in "A Dog of Fantasy," the English contralto, Miss Ethel Bourne, direct from Queen's and Albert halls; London; Erno Rappe, the Hungarian court pianist, and Jack Ark, the Australian athlete in a unique diabolio exhibition.

"Who's Your Friend?" the tabloid show at the Novelty the balance of the week, will please all classes of theatergoers. It's built on the type of higher ideals.

"East Lynne" is meeting with success at the Majestic this week. The Norths are giving it a good production.

INDOOR WORK REDUCES STRENGTH
because confining duties, lack of fresh air and sunshine gradually weaken even a strong constitution, and the enfeebled system readily accepts sickness and disease.

Scott's Emulsion checks such decline. Its pure cod liver oil is nature's grandest medicinal food while its hypophosphites act as a building tonic. It refreshes the body, puts vigor in the blood, strengthens the lungs, upbuilds the nerves and invigorates the whole system.

If you work indoors, Scott's Emulsion often saves you from weakness, restores you to your normal strength, and often cures tuberculosis—it builds up and builds up your strength.
