Big Celebration

Good Crowd Was Kept Busy All Day Taking In Program on the Funk pony, with Mr. Cady second on the Farmer pony.

A number of people then went to the race track west of town, where a few horse races were pulled off. The first race was a purse race for three year olds. Carson Wright's colt, Glen Akins won with Gadberry up, though it was the first race the horse ever entered. The second race, a matched race, was won by Frank Gadberry's horse from the Davis sorrel horse. The third event was a race for saddle horses, and was also won by Gadberry.

The free-dance at the Craig hall during the evening, the speaking at the Opera House by Joe Madison, the electric theatres, and the vaudeville and band concert filled out the later part of the day. The band played all day and drew many compliments from those who had never heard the boys. One of the prettiest attractions of the day was the drill in the evening by the uniformed ranks of the I. O. O. F., in charge of Capt. Lane. Their uniforms were beautiful, and the drill almost perfect, showing the hard work they had put in, in getting the various maneuvers down to such a fine point. It was an excellent advertisement for the order and drew the admiration of the entire crowd.

Great credit is due the members of the committees, and especially the chairmen, who made it the best celebration ever held in Liberal. There was something doing all the time and the Marshalls Funk, Wright, Gasaway and Dean kept the crowd moving and in good order all the time. There wasn't an intoxicated man on the streets all day, nor was there a single fight or accident to mar the celebration. It was a huge success and we know the people who came here for the celebration appreciated the absence of the petty grafters. The shows, games and other amusements were free as advertised, and we believe they were all appreciated by the crowd.

Especially credit is due to I. S. Reynolds who secured the subscriptions for the celebration and devoted practically all of his time for the past two weeks to making the celebration a success.

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.
