New York Authorities Confined the Effort Within Doors.

New York, Jan. 30.—"Tag day" set for today to raise funds for the destitute orphans of Calabria and Sicily was necessarily handicapped as a result of a misunderstanding of those in charge of the work in constraining the attitude of Police Commissioner Bingham, with regard to a permit. Mr. Bingham now says that no permit was issued, while Mayor McClellan put a further obstacle in the way of the workers by saying that no school children could participate in the tagging without permission of the school board.

Less than a week later they were all dead, and an analysis of one of the stomachs disclosed the presence of strychnine.

STEAMER'S GRAND FIGHT

"City of Marquette" Has a Powerful Battle for Existence.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Probably the most thrilling incident of the wide-spread storm in this section was the battle of the steamer City of Marquette against raging Lake Michigan as it fought its way in a sinking condition along the Illinois shore from Chicago to Waukegan.

With the firemen standing in water up to their waists and shoveling coal into a feeble boiler, the boat "limped" into Waukegan eleven hours after it left Chicago. Before it reached its dock the water rose over the fires and the City of Marquette was a wooden boat, drawing fourteen feet of water.

The bows, however, are reinforced with steel for breaking the ice, and it has made a trip to the city in a week or two and continue in spite of ice and northeaster.

IT'S MEN WHO GO MAD.

Rev. Anna Shaw Defends Women Against Charge of Being Emotional.

New York, Jan. 30.—The Rev. Anna Shaw, in an address before the Equal Suffrage society, at the home of Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, stoutly defended woman suffrage. She said:

"I have seen men hug and kiss each other in an election aftermath. I have seen them smash another fellow's hat or slap him on the back until his breath was gone, and yet they say women are too emotional to vote. I never saw a woman, no matter how great her excitement, take off her bonnet and wave or crush in the bonnet of some other woman or slap another till she gasped. Women don't know anything about emotion. It is men who go mad."
