

PLAYED WITH DEATH

Dr. G. C. Glynn in the Interest of Science Injects Ten Grains of COCAINE IN HIS LEG.

Lays For Three Hours Dying, and Finally Seeks Aid at a Drugstore—An Experiment Not Apt to Be Repeated.

Saturday night while Ord Christian, Harmon Hobart and Lute Hutton were playing croquet on the drug store, they were startled by Dr. G. C. Glynn staggering in at the door, his hat off, his clothes in disarray and partly off, his eyes rolling and his face twitching excitedly. He barely got inside the store and called for chloroform when he collapsed on the floor. He was carried to a sofa in the rear of the building and Dr. Boulson summoned. The doctor soon arrived and as soon as he learned the facts of the case, gave the patient some diluted alcohol as a stimulant. Dr. Jones soon appeared on the scene and the patient was turned over to him. He administered nitro-glycerine and chloral and the poisoned man began to mend at once. Drs. Chastain and Roudiez were also called in but made no change in the treatment.

Dr. Glynn is the young physician who recently located here and has offices over Northrup's store. He has been in the habit at various times of experimenting on himself to discover the effect or various poisons on the human system. About 6 o'clock Saturday night he injected, he says, ten grains of cocaine into his leg and then lay down with a note book and a watch in his hand to note his sensations at each stage of the poison's progress. For some time he lay thus, while death crept gradually along his limbs toward his body and heart. At what he considered the proper time he took a dose of strychnine to stop the effects of the cocaine, and then waited awhile, but death continued his march. He then took a dose of morphine and yet the active first poison held away and he was soon so weak he could not rise, nor call for help; and the slightest effort sent him off in a faint. Then for the first time he became alarmed, but was unable to rise or summon help. About half past ten o'clock he managed by a great effort to fall down stairs and stagger to Campbell & Christian's drug store. His heart was fluttering wildly and his breathing was short and gasping and his mouth and eyes worked like a man in a fit. He was wild with fear and excitement, but suffered no pain. As he lay on the sofa he talked between gasps about his symptoms and assured the doctors that his experience would make excellent material for a treatise on poisoning.

Later on he was sure he was going to die and said so. He expressed a desire to see his wife and when she came he talked to her. She had called for him at five o'clock and found the office door locked and his non-appearance at supper alarmed her, but she made a strenuous effort and appeared self-controlled at his side. About five o'clock Sunday afternoon it was decided that he was sufficiently recovered to be moved and was taken to his home in the northeast part of town. His condition since then has been improved somewhat, but the nervous shock and the other effects of the poison have left him so weak that he is still in danger. Dr. Jones hopes, however, that with care and perfect rest he may completely recover in a few weeks.

Mrs. Glynn, of McLouth, Kansas, saw an account telegraphed to the K. C. Journal by the REGISTER of the poisoning and took the first train for Iola. She arrived last night and is now at his side.

Council Meeting.

The city fathers gathered together and held their regular council meeting in the council chambers Thursday. Considerable important business was transacted looking to the improvement of the city. The following bills were presented and allowed: O. L. Cowan, for cleaning lamps in tower, $1.00; C. F. Scott, city printing, $27.80; Bartles & Son, hardware, $9.95; Adkins & Miller, putting blast in public well, $1.50; F. E. Smith sidewalk corner, $1.00; A. L. Taylor, lumber, $234.02. Fire chief Brown made his regular monthly report of the department. An ordinance providing for a sidewalk on Douglas avenue, beginning at Jefferson street and running west to the smelter, was read and adopted. The petition of Dr. Merfiman for privilege of enlarging and improving Thomson hotel granted. The proposition of B. R. Smith to put up the names of the streets at ten cents per name was accepted. Mr. Smith will proceed at once to put up the names of streets at all interested points.

H. A. Ewing, city attorney, reported that a plot had once been filed and part of South street dedicated to the city. It is proposed to open up the street through Jones' addition. O. L. Cowan was appointed assistant city clerk.

THE SURPRISE OF ALL.

Mr. James Jones of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe, and her case grew so serious that the physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Chas. B. Spencer & Co. Drug Store.

Talking About Rabbits.

Here is a rabbit story from the Eldorado Republican which aside from its self-evident truthfulness, is of interest to a great many Allen county people for the reason that the hero of it, Mr. M. A. Harper, is the husband of a "formerly of Allen" girl, Miss Florence Whitlow.

M. A. Harper and a companion drove from Potwin Monday. They fetched their guns, expecting to shoot a rabbit or two on the way. When they drove up to Buebe's barn they had 789 big and little jacks, old and young cotton tails, the bunch weighing 2,200 pounds. So Buebe says; and he wouldn't tell a story for one or two hundred rabbits. Charles Patterson was sent for and when he climbed up and looked in the wagon he fainted and they had to send for Dr. Hoyner, of Dayton. But he took the lot at three cents for cottons and five cents for jacks. When Harper came in he put his gun in the barn and it was so hot that it set the station fire, so Buebe says; and he wouldn't tell a story for a barn or two. Harper says that they shot the rabbits from the wagon as they came along, the dogs fetching them to the wagon after they were killed. Harper also says that if he had started earlier they might have gotten a thousand. Buebe says he forgot to say that in shooting the rabbits Monday, the gun of Harper was fouled out about six inches at the muzzle. In adding the 789 rabbits in a few hours the gun got awfully hot and looked like a scrub-oak at the blossom end.

ANOTHER BIG FAIR.

That is What We Are Going to Have at Iola Next Year.

SEPTEMBER 13, 14, 15 AND 16

Are the Dates Fixed and You Want to Keep Them in Your Mind—Officers Elected For the Ensuing Year.

The directors of the Iola Fair Association held their regular annual meeting at the offices of H. L. Henderson this week and elected officers for the ensuing year. The members of the board is as follows: A. L. Taylor, W. J. Evans, C. L. Whitaker, W. A. Cowan, L. Hobart, L. E. Horville, C. H. DeClute, H. A. Ewing, Lute L. Northrup, H. L. Henderson, A. J. Fulton, A. W. Beck, J. A. Robinson. The following officers were re-elected: A. L. Taylor, Pres.; C. H. DeClute, Vice Pres.; H. L. Henderson, Sec.; Lute L. Northrup, Treas.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic and unanimous one as regards the fair of the coming year. Work will be commenced earlier than ever before and pushed with the utmost vigor, insuring a fair of greater proportions and of larger interest than ever before. Iola will be better able to support a good fair and it is proposed to give a fair that will be as much better each year as the town has improved.

Pin the date, September 13-16, in your hat now and never let it out of your head between now and then.

Behold

Our new building is now almost completed, and we have not yet received what we are promised. Within the next three weeks we will be called upon to pay in full for the work and material on the new store, and in order to meet the bills we must insist on the prompt payment of what is due us. Pay us what you owe so that we can pay what we owe, and then we will all be happy. And we will be prepared to welcome old customers and new ones to the finest room and best stock of Hardware to be found in this section of the State. W. L. BARTELS & SON.

OUR FOLKS AND OTHERS.

The Daily Register and Other Iola People and Things Give the Papers

LOTS TO TALK ABOUT.

It Will be a Beauty. Neosho Falls Post: The Old Fellowship of Iola will build a three thousand dollar hall.

Here it is Again. Burlington Republican: The Iola REGISTER says its town holds a straight flush, consisting of gas, water and factories. Bro. Scott is a Presbyterian and ought not to descend to the use of poker terms.

They are Coming to Iola. Pittsburg Tribune: Doc Stillwell, a W & J. Lanyon sine works employe, has gone to Iola to work. John Morrison, a smelter worker, will leave for Iola in a few days to work for the Lanyons.

And he is All Right. Garnett Plaindealer: A. L. Munsell, of Kansas City, was in Garnett, Monday and Tuesday, looking after the telephone proposition. He put in the line at Iola and is now conducting a line between Iola and Ft. Scott.

Iola is Eating White Bread These Days. Linn County Republic: Mrs. Ballington Booth, the great Salvation Army leader, will visit friends in Allen county during the winter, says the Iola REGISTER, and will probably make at least one address at Iola. Iola is always getting the good things, and we are jealous. Now why couldn't Mrs. Booth visit friends in Linn county.

It is Here All Right. Leavenworth Times: The Iola REGISTER takes exception to an article in the Pittsburg Headlight, which speaks disparagingly of the natural gas, and the brick plant in the former place. A column article in the REGISTER says Pittsburg's jealousy is natural, and invites the Headlight staff to visit Iola any old time and see the biggest natural gas field in the world.

Iola Leads in Everything. Neosho Falls Post: I. Rulofson made his test of melting iron with gas at Iola last Friday, and we learn that it proved a perfect success doing the work with neatness and dispatch. As melting iron with gas had never been accomplished before and was supposed to be an impossibility, Mr. Rulofson is to be congratulated on his success. The furnace is entirely new in construction and will no doubt bring the inventor a snug sum of money when patented.

One of Dave Leahy's Jokes. Iowath Times: Dave Leahy says the Republican philosophers at Topeka are talking of putting up a "kid" ticket next year, to avoid all the jealousies of the old crowd. This is the ticket said by him to be suggested: Governor, Charles Scott; Lieutenant Governor, Dan Anthony, Jr.; Secretary of State, Vic Murdock; Superintendent of Public Instruction, William A. White; Auditor, J. E. Junkin; Treasurer, W. Y. Morgan; Attorney general, W. L. Huggins. It puts us at the top.

Neosho Register: If what Charley Scott says is true—and, although we are a bigger man physically than he, we dare not dispute him—some chap over there at Iola has accomplished that which natural gas which has never been done before, i. e., melting iron with natural gas. A foundry, as we understand it, has been recently established over there, and Saturday eight hundred pounds of iron were dumped into a furnace heated by natural gas, and in a little over an hour it was melted and ready to cast into any shape. Foundrymen have never been able to accomplish this feat with natural gas before, so they claim, and this discovery, which is the result of the efforts of the president and superintendent of the Iola foundry, opens up great possibilities for the future of natural gas fields.

SIX MONTHS OLD.

"My little boy had eruptions on his head. When he was about six months old they broke out in a running sore around his ear. I began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a short time his ear was healed and he has never been troubled with eruptions since." Mrs. EMMA CARR, St. Marys, Kansas.

Hood's Pills acts easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cures sick Headache.

A CHEAP FARM.

160 acres—130 in cultivation, 30 in pasture, spring in pasture. Small house and barn. This is situated in the best portion of Allen county, good neighborhood, 5 miles from railroad station. Price, $2,000. $500 cash, balance in payments to suit. BOSTWICK & ACERS.

A Valuable Report.

The University Geological Survey will issue a report on the mineral industry of Kansas, covering every product obtained by any kind of mining, smelting or quarrying operations. The report will be printed by the State and will be for free distribution the same as the other reports of this Survey. Kansas for years has had agricultural and animal interests. It is now proposed to make a somewhat similar report of the mining industries.

In order to make this report complete in every respect the hearty cooperation of all interested citizens of the State is solicited. Every interest and every locality should be properly represented. Statistics regarding the larger products, such as coal, lead, zinc, salt, etc., can readily be obtained. But statistics on stone, clay, sand, mineral paints, and all lesser products can only be obtained by a generous help from the individual citizens. Each county should also take a pride in reporting the production of her own, for to a certain extent it will be injurious to a county to have but a fraction of her output included in the report.

The importance of this last statement will be seen when it is considered that these reports will be sent all over the civilized world. There should therefore be a true and definite statement of what each county has actually produced in 1897. Will not every interested citizen of our whole great state kindly assist me in gathering these statistics by mailing to me during the last week of December or the first two weeks of January a complete report as above indicated.

BUILD AN ARMOY.

There is Money in It For the Builders and a Good Thing For the Town.

One of the things Iola needs badly and would support handsomely is a ground floor assembly room capable of seating 1500 or 2000 people. The Opera House will hold 600 or 700, which is a small fraction of the number that would gather for a political meeting or for any notable public event. What should we have done with the Bryan meeting if it had rained? What are we to do with the Woodmen Log Rolling next summer, with its attendance of thousands? How are we going to handle the increasing crowds in all kinds of public gatherings?

A building such as we speak of could be erected for $1000, or perhaps for $200 less than that. A contract could doubtless be made with Company D., K. N. G., whereby in consideration of having it named The Armoary and having the right of way in the use of it, the $200 which the State allows each militia company for armory expense could be paid in rent. A moderate rental for the other uses to which the Armoary would be put would aggregate a sufficient sum to pay a good return on the investment besides paying all the expenses of running it.

Isn't this a good opportunity for some public spirited citizen to make an investment that will benefit the town and at the same time pay himself a handsome dividend? Or if one person doesn't want to undertake it, why could not a company be formed and stock be sold until the necessary amount was raised? Perhaps the Guards themselves could take the matter in hand and push it through? Anyhow, here is the suggestion, and it is worth studying over.
