The ninth annual session of the seventh district federation of clubs met at Great Bend Wednesday and Thursday of the week just past. A large delegation was in attendance and a very profitable time was spent both intellectually and socially.

The session opened Wednesday morning with the district president, Mrs. Engberg in the chair. With few exceptions the program was carried out as printed. The federation received a most hearty welcome from Mr. Charles Brinkman who represented the Commercial club of Great Bend. Addresses of welcome were also given by Mrs. Southerland and Mrs. Ola Chapman, presidents of the Progress and Atheneum clubs. Each and every delegate was made to feel perfectly at home by these representatives who so charmingly expressed their happiness in extending every hospitality to their guests. Mrs. W. J. Fitzgerald responded in a very pleasing manner, expressing the appreciation of the visiting ladies.

The morning session was all given to preliminaries, appointing committees and two minute club reports from the various clubs represented. This proved one of the most interesting parts of the program, as it creates new zeal and enthusiasm to learn what our sisters all about us are doing in club lines.

Mrs. E. W. Huise of McPherson was chairman of the educational department. Many practical discussions along various educational lines were enjoyed and new determination on the part of club women was expressed to help see to it we have better educated school boards and higher salaries for our teachers.

The election of officers took place Thursday and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Pettijohn of Dodge City; first vice president, Mrs. Hale of La Crosse; second vice president, Miss Maggie Neff, Harper; recording secretary, Mrs. Hopkins, Lyons; treasurer, Mrs. Shay, Sterling.

Among the many strong papers which deserves special mention was the one given by Miss Ellen Squires on Philanthropic work.

The entire program of Wednesday afternoon was a treat. The first number was a very interesting address given by our state president, Mrs. May Belleville Brown. Mrs. J. M. Lewis followed with a very able and instructive talk on art. Mrs. Lewis has charge of that department and had many beautiful pictures on display. Artistic Home Making by Mrs. R. P. Murdock of Wichita was one of the numbers that touched the heart of every woman present. Mrs. Murdock gave many helpful suggestions which showed much thought and study. Among other things Mrs. Murdock made it very plain that women should be the house builders, not men. She said by all means do not let your husbands plan the house for it is the women who know best what will be most convenient. The entire program showed very careful preparation being benefited thereby. being benefitted thereby.

The ladies of Great Bend deserve much credit and praise for the elegant way in which they entertained their guests. Wednesday evening the Great Bend club ladies, their husbands and their guests met for a social hour in the Masonic temple where acquaintances were formed and old friendships renewed. Music was furnished by the orchestra. At 7:30 the entire party, two hundred and fifty in number, were ushered into the banquet hall where a most elegant banquet was served in eight courses. As the reception room was entered a most pleasing sight met the gaze. The entire walls were covered with our Kansas golden rod which nodded in all directions and green and yellow streamers were draped overhead and lights everywhere until one felt transferred into fairy land. The banquet room was a most charming sight, as rare taste was displayed in the decorations which were the combined colors of the clubs—pink, green and white. Fern leaves, carnations, candles, cut glass and shining silver made tables fit for kings and queens. Great Bend's most charming young ladies, all dressed in dainty white gowns, served the eight course dinner.

Mrs. Southerland acted as toastmistress and very enjoyable toasts were given by several citizens, a number of whom were the gentlemen, who seemed to most heartily share in extending hospitalities to the visitors in their midst. The first gentleman speaker remarked something like this: "This morning I wakened before break of day and as I lay in the hay loft of my barn on the new mown hay and gazed upward at the stars and said to my neighbor who was sleeping with me (the beds were all occupied by visitors), I've no idea what I shall say tonight." But by the time he had finished it was evident he had done much thinking during the day for he very graciously toasted "Our Visitors." The visiting ladies who gave very bright, witty toasts were Mrs. May Belleville Brown, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Prentis, Mrs. Murdock and Mrs. J. M. Lewis.

On Thursday evening a most delightful musical was given in the Methodist church, which had been most beautifully and artistically decorated in pink, white and green. At the close of the musical programme a musical Pleasantry was given by eight young ladies representing a house party of the various types of old maids. It was evident the attics had been searched for the costumes, as they dated many years back and answered the purpose to perfection. After much chatting, visiting, mending and deciding that men were altogether in the way, the house party was unceremoniously broken up by the appearance of a harmless little mouse and after mounting the chairs and the table the brave ones carried the fainting ones behind the scenes.

One of the most useful features of the district federation meeting is in the reports from the individual clubs. The ideas put into force by one community are taken up and carried home by other delegates, and through this system of reciprocity the best thought is carried from place to place—adapted to suit individual demands.

The Fortnightly club of Kinsley has taken up the work of furnishing and equipping the Carnegie library which is to be opened in that town.

The Review club of La Crosse has developed a most practical system of cemetery improvement work. The city gives the club the contract for caring for the cemetery, with the finest results.

The Coterie club of Pratt celebrates its tenth birthday next week, and in that time has become the owners of a building in which its meetings are held, and where it also conducts a library.

The Wednesday club of McPherson has done notable work in the study of Swedish history and literature, both ancient and modern, and has acquired quite a valuable collecting of books on these subjects. Membership in this club is under the condition that every member must be of Swedish parentage or allied to that nationality by marriage.

The Women's club of Lyons has done a very beautiful work in sending little Christmas offerings to poor women and children who would not otherwise be remembered. Last year the city gave this club $50 to add to their fund for this purpose.

The Topeka Club Woman.

Mrs. Clement Smith, president of the city federation of clubs, will call a meeting of the board of directors, composed of all the delegates to the federation from the individual clubs, to make plans for the establishment of the east side kindergarten which the federation voted to support at its October meeting, at Unity church Thursday. The kindergarten will be held in the Parkdale school house where the civics committee of the federation started a public reading room and play ground this summer. The board of education gave the committee the use of the building which is not used since the new Brauner school was built. The reading room and play ground proved a remarkable success and the free kindergarten is an outgrowth of this commendable work of the civics committee. Mrs. J. P. Carnahan, chairman of the committee, gave an interesting report of the work at the meeting Thursday. It has grown, said Mrs. Carnahan, far beyond the original hopes of the committee. The reading room has been well supported and well patronized and boys' and girls' clubs as well as the kindergarten have been asked for by the people of the neighborhood. Some of the mothers who are especially anxious to have the kindergarten started have pledged themselves to raise half the money necessary, estimated at about sixty dollars a month, and the federation voted the rest Thursday for a three months' trial of the experiment.

The proposed changes in the constitution of the federation submitted by the committee appointed for that purpose at the meeting Thursday follow:

Article III, section 1. The officers of this federation shall be elected annually on the first Thursday in December by ballot.

Article IV, section 1. The president shall appoint promptly after entering upon her office a corresponding secretary and a nominating committee to be a standing committee. (No change in remainder of section.)

Article VII, section 1. Each club shall pay in advance annual dues to the federation to the amount of one dollar per caplta of its membership and no delegate shall be entitled to vote until the annual dues of the club represented are paid.

BY-LAWS.

1. The annual meeting shall occur on the first Thursday in December. The other meetings shall occur in their order on the first Thursday in February, the first Thursday in April, the first Thursday in June and the first Thursday in October, respectively.

No change in by-law number 2.

3. It shall be the duty of the nominating committee to present to a meeting of the board of directors held in November a list of officers for the ensuing year three names to be presented for each office. The nominating committee shall notify their nominees and in case of refusal supply their places. They shall then present the perfected list to the annual meeting when the election shall take place.

4. Each club shall elect its delegates at least ten days before and report the same with dues and a correct list of its membership at least five days before the annual meeting.

The other by-laws are unchanged in the revision committee's report except in the one pertaining to the order of business at the annual meeting which provides for the report of the nominating committee.

The most important change in the revised constitution, aside from the increase in the per capita tax from twenty-five cents to one dollar annually is in the matter of the nominating committee. Under the present constitution the nominating committee appointed by the president serves only until the chairmen of the standing committees have been appointed. The revision makes the nominating committee a standing committee and its most important function is the furnishing of the nominees for the offices of the federation at the annual meeting in December. Three names are to be furnished for each office and these are first to be submitted to the board of directors, composed of the delegates from all the clubs. The plan promises to give every woman and every club in the federation an opportunity to express her personal choice for the officers at the annual elections.

The First District Federation will meet in Seneca October 26 and 27. Miss Martha Beck, of Holton, the president, has extended a cordial invitation to all the club women of Topeka to attend.

The West Side Forestry club has offered to provide the necessary money to secure two of the state traveling libraries for the use of the Parkdale reading room. Mrs. W. A. Johnston made the offer at the meeting of the federation Thursday. The West Side Forestry club is one of the youngest clubs in the federation but it is also one of the strongest, most practical and helpful. Mrs. Chris Hoffman of Enterprise said at the club conference in Topeka during fair week that the West Side Forestry club had done more good during its short existence than ten Shakespere clubs—a fine tribute fully deserved.

Speaking of the West Side Forestry club, their first annual chrysanthemum show will be held between the 6th and the 11th of November, the place to be announced later. Over 1,000 plants and about 35 varieties of chrysanthemums will be for sale. The proceeds of the sale will go to the Willow park fund.

The first meeting this season of the Atlantean club will be held with the president, Mrs. J. C. McClintock next Monday.

Mrs. O. E. Walker is a new member of the Chaldean club which met last Monday with Mrs. H. M. Philips and meets next week with Mrs. W. P. Bowen. The club is reading As You Like It under the direction of Mrs. Adrian L. Greene. An evening meeting for the husbands of the members is planned for the near future.

The Golden Rule club met Friday with Mrs. William Archer, 201 Fillmore street. It was the first meeting of the season. Mrs. L. E. Thorpe, police matron, talked about her work. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. E. Clark, 322 Fillmore street.

The Ladies' Music club met Wednesday with Mrs. Frank P. MacLennan at Cedarcrest and will meet in two weeks with Mrs. George Parkhurst.

A new Shakespeare club recently organized is known as the Monday Afternoon Shakespeare class and meets fortnightly. Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter directs the class, which includes Mrs. Earl V. Case, Mrs. Arza Clark, Mrs. Charles S. Elliott, Mrs. John Hayes, Mrs. F. A. Koester, Mrs. Edward Dennis, Mrs. Frank Campbell, Miss Florence Wellcome, Miss Winifred Wellcome and Miss Fe Waters. The club will meet next week with Mrs. Edward Dennis.

The West Side Reading club will entertain the husbands of the members at the home of Mrs. Irving Wellman, 817 East Eighth street, Tuesday. The hostesses are Mesdames Wellman, Farnsworth, Crumbine, Snow and Gordon. Dinner at 7 p. m.

The Ninde C. L. S. C. will meet Monday evening, October 9, with Mrs. W. S. Miller, 709 Tyler street. The programme:

Roll call—Quotations from Theocritus.
Italian Cities—Introduction and Chap. 1—Mrs. M. E. Martindale.
Studies in the Poetry of Italy—Miss Katie A. Ellinger.
Music—Mrs. W. O. Ewing.
Map Review of Italy—Class.

The Helianthus Literature club will meet with Mrs. Diesher, 311 West Fifth street, Friday, October 13.

A Straight Story.

Frank B. Coombs was listening to the words which were falling in rapid succession from the mouth of William B. Wackerhagen. An incredulous look overspread Mr. Coombs' face and then it gave way to a smile. An acquaintance watched the expression on Mr. Coombs' face, and when he moved to within hearing distance heard Mr. Wackerhagen say:

"I had a man with me, who saw it."

"Is he like Bill Jones, dead?"

"No, he is Jimmie Huested, and he sat in the boat with me."

Mr. Coombs smiled and nodded to the bystander to gather closer. Then he had Mr. Wackerhagen repeat the story.

"We went out on Lake Champlain looking for bass. A school of perch came up. I dropped my line overboard with a bare hook, and, do you believe it, caught a perch as quick as it struck the water. I repeated the operation several times and caught a fish each time—"

"Without bait?"

"Yes, without bait, nothing but the bare steel hook, and the fish came to the surface, each seeming anxious to be the first one to be caught. We tried to drive the perch away, for we want out for bass, but we could not frighten them. They hung around our boat, and we had to give up trying to catch bass. Yes, Jimmie Huested will tell you the same story."

Mr. Coombs hastened away to get the latest quotations for rye.—Albany Journal.
