

OVER REPLAYS. Presidential Train Crosses New Mexico Territory. And Goes Speeding Across the Arizona Desert. TOWNS ARE SCARCE. And the President is Called Upon For Few Speeches. Made One at El Paso and One at Deming.

Benson, Arizona, May 7.—The president's special reached Benson at 8:35 last night. The station was illuminated and the president spoke a few words to the crowd. The train will stop at Tucson at 1:30. It is due at Phoenix this morning.

Deming, N. M., May 7.—Shortly after leaving El Paso the presidential train crossed the line into New Mexico and ran through the grazing section of the territory. It was a hot and dusty ride. The first stop in the territory was made at Deming where the president was welcomed by Governor Otero and his staff. There was a big crowd and a band at the station and the president was given a warm greeting.

Mr. Berger, president of the New Mexico press association had met the party at El Paso and accompanied the train across the territory. The address of welcome at Deming was largely devoted to New Mexico's claim for statehood. A broad banner above the train read, "New Mexico demands statehood."

The president spoke briefly as follows: "It gives me very great pleasure to meet the people of this territory who have given greeting to the president of the United States. I rejoice at the progress you are making, the prosperity you are enjoying and the expression of contentment I see on your faces and the evidence of progress everywhere discernible. You gave part of your territory to Colorado, which is now one of the states of the Union, you gave of your territory to make the territory of Arizona and you still have more territory, twice over than the united kingdom of Great Britain."

And it is a just and honorable ambition for you to have, I am sure you will share with me, the expression of sympathy which all of us feel for the great loss sustained in the city of Jacksonville by the fire that swept over that city. Thousands of homes, the homes of the nation go out to the suffering and that recalls to me, this being my first stop since leaving the great city of Texas, that it was with a regret that I could not visit Galveston and meet her brave people.

TUESDAY EVENING. TOPEKA, KANSAS, MAY 7, 1901. TUESDAY EVENING. TWO CENTS.

GLICK WAS HERE. Democratic War Horse Paid Respects to Populists. Much Mystery Surrounds the Topeka Conference. RIDDLE WENT HOME. Evidently Discouraged With His Reception by Old Friends. His Scheme is Not Received With Favor. "The Home" Adopted as Heading For Ticket.

The attitude of the People's party central committee toward former Congressman W. J. Babb, of Wichita, is easily guessed at the attitude it takes in its business sessions begun here last night and continued today. Their meeting was a combination of open secrecy that is beautiful to contemplate. It is an executive session, and each and every one of the committeemen refuses to talk of what they are doing behind closed doors or what they expect to do.

Sessions of the committee were held late yesterday afternoon and last night. The time was taken up in discussion of the problems that arise out of last winter's legislation against their party. Nothing, or nothing, is given out for publication. Taylor, Griffen, Taylor, J. M. Lewis of Kinsley, Representative P. C. Dunham of Edwards county, were present. Chairman Taylor related his trip to the committee. He had dropped in also. Some say he held Carl Vrooman's proxy, some say he was "just a visitor" like the other fellows.

The members of the committee say they did not discuss the Babb home. They left their decisions to be made at today's session. They say they will not tell when they do get done. The typical Kansas home, the Babb home for Marion this morning. It is thought he could not do very much with his old associates in the Babb home. At the close of their midnight session the People's party state central committee had agreed upon one thing which finishes the greater riparian problem in the future. They selected the design which shall go upon the ballot for the official party emblem.

A NATION PARTY. One Will Be Organized in Topeka. Followers of Saloon Smasher Behind Movement. ARE NOT SATISFIED. Actions of the Old Parties Are Unsatisfactory. Meeting Will Be Held Tonight to Discuss Situation.

A movement is on foot in Topeka to organize a new political party along reform lines. The cause is being championed by people who have been associated with Mrs. Carrie Nation.

A visit to the University of Kansas. Carriages will be provided for visiting ladies and delegates. In the University chapel. Address, James H. Eckels, president of the Commercial National Bank, Chicago.

Afternoon Session. Address, Morton Albaugh, bank commissioner, Topeka. "Savings Banks and Bank Money Orders." Mr. William Macfarren, of the educational committee, cashier of the State Savings Bank, Topeka.

Whereupon Mrs. White became angry and imparted the information that they didn't want Dr. Harding in the party any way. The Journal reporter attempted this morning to learn something of the plans for the proposed new party. It seems that the work has been outlined in the secret council of some of the party leaders.

There is a marked and widespread restlessness and dissatisfaction with reference to existing conditions as manifested in the increasing lawlessness, in the monopolistic spirit of the law, in the Sabbath desecration and other forms of vice. The people are satisfied that existing parties are unable or unwilling to thoroughly remedy this, even in Kansas or Iowa, through law and order.

KANSAS BANKERS. Annual Session Will Be Held at Lawrence May 28. THEIR WAR PANT. Kansas and Colorado Ready For a Legal Battle. Arkansas River the Prize to Be Fought For. COLORADO'S SIDE. Claim That Wrong Kind of Suit Was Commenced. Attorney General Godard's Basis of Contention.

The fourteenth annual convention of the Kansas State Bankers' association will be held at Lawrence May 28 and 29. Among the prominent speakers will be Alvah Trowbridge and James H. Eckels. The following is the programme: Prayer, Dr. Richard Cordery.

Kansas and Colorado are ready to begin the big legal battle in the United States supreme court, known as the Arkansas river irrigation suit, for carrying on which the last legislature appropriated $25,000. Attorney General Godard and Assistant Attorney General West have prepared a voluminous brief on the motion to file a bill against the state of Colorado. Judge West will leave on Thursday to file the motion in the United States supreme court on Saturday.

Colorado has made extensive preparations to combat the suit also. Attorney General C. C. Post is here at the Hotel Troop today, on his way to Washington. He proposes to file a brief against the plaintiffs' motion at once, if allowed. He has had all the lawyers in Colorado in consultation with him in preparing his answer.

The question of the complainant's right to the relief it seeks in this suit is not determined entirely by the rules of the common law, but by the common law, regulations or laws of the state of Colorado in derogation thereof. The riparian doctrine of the common law respecting the rights and interests of riparian owners have never been abrogated or in any manner modified by the state of Kansas or its legislature.

The riparian proprietor is permitted to use the water in the stream for any purpose of irrigation, and this by that use to divert a portion of it, it is held that such diversion, under all circumstances, is reasonable and lawful, and that the surplus of the water thus used must be returned into its natural channel.

This syndicate is composed of T. E. McGovern, of Delaware, McGovern & Co., of this city; R. O'Rourke, of Fairhaven, Wash.
