HE IS NOT A KICKER.

Rev. Lee Who Sacrificed His Son in the Philippines Takes a Patriotic View of It.

It was related in the telegrams the other day that Corporal Rob Lee, of the Twentieth Kansas, had died on the transport, Tartar, between Hong Kong and Yokohama. Corporal Lee was the son of Rev. J. H. Lee, rector of the Episcopal church in Manhattan. He enlisted in Company I as a private, but by soldierly conduct on the battlefield had earned promotion to the rank of a non-commissioned officer. While on the ship he was stricken down with disease and died. In a letter to friends in Minneapolis, which has found it way into the Messenger, Rev. Lee speaks as follows of his sacrifice and his present sentiments about the war:

"We also take comfort in the fact that Rob did his duty as a soldier, bravely and faithfully, and that he fell in a righteous cause. I do not know what you think about this Philippine war, but I think it was a justifiable war. Its prosecution is a duty laid upon us by Providence for a great and wise, and in the end, a benevolent purpose. I believe it will eventually bring to those islanders great blessings and advance the cause of civilization and christianity in the Orient more rapidly than anything that has occurred during the last half century. To this end we have given our Rob, to us a precious contribution."—Mail and Breeze.

EDITOR WORLD: I have noticed an article in the Kansas City Weekly Journal from a Mr. Payton, secretary of the Protestant Episcopal church, in which he gives his judgment relative to the present chance of christianizing the Philippine group of islands. In starting his report he makes no distinction between officers and enlisted men, therefore you must include Generals Otis, Bates, Lawton, McArthur, Grant, Funston, etc., in the hell holes of Manila and the other towns. Are we to expect upon entering any town or city to find the population of said place devout christians, or vice versa, as an existing rule, we expect to find good and bad. I am also of opinion that at the time of Mr. Payton's residence in the Philippines there was not 45,000 American soldier on the islands. It was stated that Mr. Payton was a soldier during the Spanish-American war, if so, I would like to see the morning report of the company to which he belonged, for I have great doubts as to his being an ideal soldier. May we not be of opinion that he is under pay of one Mr. Atkinson, or one Mr. Aguinado as his Jingo harmonizes with theirs and with the Spanish press during the war. Never since the commencement of the christian era had American patriotism been excelled; you sent your sons and husbands, giving them the parting filial kiss, as they left you, having faith that they would neither dishonor you or their country, in fact they have been lauded by England, France and Germany, as brave soldiers, and no country accusing them and classing with the Ancient Romans and Persians of 14 or 15 centuries back, this is done by one who says that he is an American. During the past few days I have learned that the Rev. Bishop Thoburn of the M. E. church is back from the Philippines and gives a glowing account of the present practicability in Manila, etc. for missionary work. He does not say wait until the soldiers leave, like Mr. Payton has done. Mr. Payton's remarks in saying that nothing good can be done while the soldiers are there, reminds me of an incident that is related of Napoleon's time, viz: There was some French troops in Portugal, encamped close to a city, and on a certain Sunday, which was to be the anniversary of a certain saint a miracle was to be performed, but the priest told the people that the miracle could not be performed while the d-d French were in the city. The miracle not being performed as usual, it caused an uproar in the city, and when the cause of it reached the general, he sent for an artillery officer, and told him to take his battery and place it in front of the said church, and load with grape and canister, and to tell that priest that if he did not perform his miracle in five minutes he would blow him and his church to h—l. Mr. Payton thinks very little of the christianity of America for he says that "The Tagalor are the most moral and religious people he ever saw." Ask your dear boys when they return to you in a few days about this morality and religion, and learn what they will say about them; I judge whose report you will give credit to, the boys that were 142 days and nights on the firing line, or that of one under suspicion.

A Josh on Smith.

M. B. Smith, the Gove City druggist, imagined a short time ago that he was cut out for a cow man instead of a pill-maker, so he tapped his tills and started out among the herdsmen to gather together a shipment of beef cattle for the Kansas City market. At prices he offered he had no trouble in wrapping all his cash up in a short time and was ready for the city at the mouth of the Kaw. Instead of riding in the caboose like cattle men do he took a palace sleeper arriving several hours ahead of his stuff, this time was spent around the stock yards forming acquaintances and having the kind of time most of western Kansas fellows like when in the city. The outcome of the whole affair is that the only enjoyment Mr. Smith got out of his cattle experience is that he had the good time before his cattle were sold as afterwards he was not in that frame of mind. It only cost him $10 a day to be a cattleman for two weeks, and pills, nursing bottles, little early risers, etc., have materially advanced in price at the county seat of Gove.—Hoxie Sentinel.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The largest shipment of cattle from this county in years was that of last Sunday when Col. S. S. Reynolds shipped from Grainfield one train load of cattle, twenty-six cars, 900 head, valued at $40,000. In the days of the old Smoky Hill Pool, when it was fifty miles east to settlement, when Buffalo Park was a flourishing village of 1,000 people, it was not an uncommon thing for one man to ship a train load of cattle. During the shipping season, Buffalo Park would average three train loads daily, but now it is different, the country is fairly well settled and farming has an equal show with stock raising. At this period of our advancement it causes no little excitement to have one man undertake so large a shipment; it means between $40,000 and $50,000 to Mr. Reynolds.—Gove County Leader.
