

BURDEN OF DEMOCRATS

De Armond Says They Must Redeem Republican Rule

ITS IMPERIALISTIC POLICY

Speaks at Annual Celebration of Crescent Club.

ATTACKS PRESENT TAX

Says It Is Duty of Democrats to Overthrow System.

Baltimore, March 4.—Congressman David A. DeArmond of Missouri and Henry George Jr. of New York were the principal speakers at the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the Crescent Democratic club in this city tonight. Letters were read from Ex-President Grover Cleveland, Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, John DeWitt Warner of New York and Henry W. Lamb, president of the American Free Trade society.

Mr. DeArmond's speech was a severe arraignment of the Republican national administration for its "imperialistic policy." He spoke in part as follows:

"These in control of the government have carried it farther in a few years than ever before it was carried in its history, and almost everything that has been regarded as sacred by our forefathers has been disregarded. The burden and duty rests upon the Democratic party to bring it back to sound principles."

"The time was when this continent was supposed to be sufficient, but the time has come when far-distant lands beyond the sea are to be brought under our dominion, contrary to the teachings of all the wise men of our history."

Adverting to the need of tariff reform, Mr. DeArmond said:

"The tariff authority for taxation is the necessity for revenue only. Tariff taxation should be adjusted so as to bring the largest amount of revenue for the government with the least burden on those who bear the burden of taxation. The present system of taxation has built up mighty trusts that weigh legislators and control legislation. It is the mission of the Democratic party to do what can be done to overthrow such a system."

"Tariff reform properly applied should take the tariff off these commodities sold abroad cheaper than they can be bought in America."

Mr. George made a plea for free trade.

TWO MISSIONARIES MASSACRED

Horrible Example of Chinese Revenge Is Displayed.

Victoria, B. C., March 4.—Reports of two massacres of missionaries in China were received by the steamer Empress of India, which arrived from the Orient this afternoon. In Kansu, Fathers Van Marburg and Bouquet were murdered by a band of Chinese including soldiers, who attacked their mission. The first named priest was killed instantly by a sword thrust, but the latter lingered for five days suffering from the terrible wounds. It is stated that the attack was made in revenge for the deposition of the son of Prince Tuan by the empress dowager at the request of the foreign ministers.

The other massacre took place in Kiangsi, Father Julien being attacked while he slept and cruelly murdered. His body was mutilated, both hands being cut off. His two servants were also killed. The vicar has sent a troop to hunt for the murderers.

DIAMOND MARKET CALMER

Reports From Antwerp Give a More Hopeful View of Situation.

Brussels, March 4.—Numerous good construction reports are current here as to the prospects in the diamond trade and the necessity to suspend the impending failure of several firms in the diamond business at Antwerp, Amsterdam and London. They allege that some diamond merchants have been guilty of extensive defalcations and have fled to London and New York.

The crisis is said to be due to the large quantity of goods of sale which can only be disposed of at a loss.

The Messenger De Bruxelles says that the extradition of two men who fled to New York with $90,000 francs' worth of diamonds has been demanded.

A telegram received here tonight from Antwerp says the diamond market is calmer, as a result of the proposals of three diamond merchants to effect an arrangement with their creditors.

The French are said to be secretly supporting the rebels.

TO GOVERN THEMSELVES

Laws of Porto Rico are Revised and Compiled.

OLD SPANISH CODES

Are Done Away With and People Given Voice.

INSULAR RULE OVER ALL

Acts as Safeguard Against Mistakes of Ignorant.

Washington, March 4.—The commission to revise and compile the laws of Porto Rico, appointed by virtue of the act of April 12, 1899, has submitted its report to the attorney general. The commission consisted of Joseph P. Daly, of New York; La. S. Rowe, of Pennsylvania; and Juan Hernandez Lopez, of Porto Rico. The work undertaken was the revision and compilation of practically all the old Spanish laws.

The commission, after an exhaustive study of the Spanish system, proceeded to make the most necessary changes, such as the reorganization of the judicial system and the system of local government, the revision of the laws of marriage and divorce and wills and intestacies, and a number of other important branches of the civil and criminal laws. The most important work of the commission was the revision of the organic act of Porto Rico, commonly known as the Foraker act. The system of local government proposed by the commission includes a county, city and village organization. Under Spanish rule the island was divided into 16 divisions, known as "municipalities," which were subjected to the strictest form of control by the government. The mayors were appointed by the governor general, and the members of the town councils were subject to his will in fact if not in law. Local self-government was unknown. The commission has taken a long step in the direction of local autonomy, but has placed sufficient power in the insular government to guard against the dangers of local incompetence or incompetence. Specially stated, the system leaves to the local authorities the management of local affairs, but prescribes a definite standard of efficiency in the most important services, such as sanitation, drainage, water supply, street cleaning, etc. If the local governments fail to meet these standards the insular government is given power to meet every emergency. The habeas corpus act is another of the important changes proposed by the commission.

The subject of marriage and divorce also is fully treated. The Spanish civil code does not recognize divorce, although a separation proceeding is provided for. This branch of the law has been brought in close harmony with the system prevailing in such states as New York and Massachusetts. In the matter of wills and intestacies, the Spanish civil code leaves but little freedom to the testator. Here again an adoption of the system prevailing in the United States has been made.

At the expiration of the term fixed in congress for the presentation of this report, the government of Porto Rico appointed a code committee to continue the work of the first commission. The membership of the second commission was the same as that of the first, with the exception of the substitution of J. M. Keely, of Maryland, for Joseph P. Daly, of New York. The second commission, of which Dr. L. S. Rowe is chairman, has utilized the work of the first commission in a general revision of the existing codes.

WELL EXECUTED VICTORY

Details of Beer Success is Thrilling in Its Fierceness.

London, March 4.—Telegrams received here from Klerksberg describing the attack upon and capturing by the Boers, February 21, at a point southwest of Klerksberg, of 37 British soldiers who were acting as escort to a supply wagon train show that General Delary lost his plans with consummate care and precise knowledge of the ground.

was most determined.

By sheer recklessness they sought to ride down and overwhelm the British defense. The British guns stopped the charging Boers, but nothing stopped their onslaught, which was delivered with unusual impetus. The convoy of mules was subjected to a heavy fire and, deserted by the native drivers, the mules stampeded, putting many of the defenders temporarily out of action and causing the wildest confusion.

For two hours the British held out. A few minutes of cautious fighting, and all was over. The Boers galloped along the line firing at every man who showed the slightest tendency to resist, until they reached and captured the guns. In the excitement the Northumberland Fusiliers who had been cut off, succeeded in fighting their way out for some distance. When their ammunition became exhausted they charged with bayonets, but were speedily overpowered.

By 7 o'clock in the morning all resistance was at an end. The dead and wounded were scattered all over the field. Broken wagons and panic stricken horses and mules made a scene of indescribable confusion. Not until General Delary came in person was anything like order restored. He stopped the Boers engaged in stripping the British wounded, by the free use of the stambok.

Cars were repeatedly derailed. Wagon loads of stones were piled on the tracks, and free fights between the military guards and the crowd occurred at frequent intervals. In one difficulty a sergeant ran a bayonet into the arm of a striker, a barber, Mrs. Harwood, was standing by her husband at the time, knocked the sergeant to the ground with both feet and discolored the face of Lieutenant R. E. Cole, who was near her.

SPEEDS ON TO NIAGARA

Leaves Brilliant Scene of a Banquet at Ten o'Clock.

Milwaukee, March 4.—Milwaukee was the scene of a brilliant scene for six hours this evening and gave him a reception that was highly enthusiastic and an entertainment that was unique. His special train came at 4 o'clock, and at 10 was away again on the long run to Niagara and New England. The intervening time was all given over to the reception and entertainment of the royal visitor. It began with a drive through the business and residential districts. The thousands of a crowd that numbered 20,000. Then there was a public reception at which Governor Robert L. Foltz and Mayor David S. Rose voiced the official welcomes, and the United Singing societies raised their voices in mighty chorus. There was also a splendid illumination and a thrilling night run of the Milwaukee fire department. Later the thousands of German residents in Milwaukee joined heartily in the welcome of the young prince, to whose house they once owed allegiance, and veterans of the German war were gathered from throughout the state to assist in the reception.

The prince and his suite ran up from Chicago over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad and there was a tremendous crowd at the station awaiting the prince's arrival. The prince was a cheer when he appeared and another louder than the first when he reached his carriage outside the station grounds. Admiral Evans and Mayor Rose entered his carriage and it was flanked by police and guarded by troops of the First Wisconsin cavalry, the drive through the city began. Ambassador von Holleben and Assistant Secretary of State Hill rode in the second carriage. Captain Frederick Babst, chairman of the reception committee, just outside of the station 100 veterans of the German war were drawn up. They had come here from Green Bay, Stevens Point, Port Washington, Appleton, Fond du Lac, Racine and other distant points in the state, and they gave the prince a volley of cheers as he passed them. The business streets were blocked and the police had to be called in to keep a driveway clear.

The prince was given the honor to ride in the first carriage to cross the new Grand Avenue-Wisconsin street bridge, and as this point was reached Battery A, stationed on the lake front, fired a salute of twenty-one guns.

PUBLIC RECEPTION

The reception of the prince as he drove through the streets was wildly enthusiastic, and there was an ovation when he entered the exhibition building for the public reception. As he appeared on the stage, escorted by his staff and the reception committee, the mass chorus of voices sang "Der Deutsche Land." There were 3,000 persons packed in the exhibition building and it was long before they were sufficiently stilled for Chairman Johnson to briefly introduce Mayor Rose. The mayor, informally welcomed the prince.

The mayor gave to former Congressman P. V. Deuster, who spoke in behalf of the German residents and in their tongue.

Governor LaFollette welcomed the prince in Milwaukee in behalf of the state and expressed regret at the shortness of his visit.

Captain Emil Court, who also spoke in German, was the last speaker.

The great chorus sang again and as the prince arose to leave the hall, the crowd broke into cheers. He touched his cap in salute and smiled as he turned to leave the stage.

The five row followed the public reception and making a spectacle that was both novel and exciting. Thirty-two pieces of apparatus, marshaled by Fire Chief Foley, were raced for a mile at 30 feet apart. Darkness had come and the engine lights made the picture all the more inspiring. The prince was then driven through illuminated streets to the hotel Bismarck, where the banquet was served.

The illumination was very pretty. Hundreds of strings of electric lights were strung across Grand avenue and Wisconsin street, hundreds of buildings were outlined in light and high up in the tower of the city hall, printed in incandescent lights were the words: "Welcome to H. R. H., Prince Henry."

Especially pretty was the lighting of the court of honor at Grand avenue. When the snow was driven through the chimneys in the tower of St. James Episcopal church played the national airs of the United States and the German and Lutheran hymns.

There was a great display of busting and under the glare of the lights it looked even more attractive than in the daylight. Crowds thronged the streets during the evening, with the hotel Bismarck the main objective, and the scene was a brilliant one.

Prince Henry of Prussia was the guests at a banquet tonight given at the Hotel Bismarck by the citizens of Milwaukee. The dinner lasted about two hours. The decorations of the banquet hall were very elaborate. The table at which the prince sat was long and the seats with roses and carnations. The banquet was followed by a social evening. There was a program of vaudeville specialties and refreshments.

EMPEROR CHARMED

William Announces His Pleasure Over Henry's Visit.

IS NOT DISPLEASED

Statements of English Press are Wicked Falsehoods.

KEEPS TAB ON BROTHER

And Credits Cities for Their Enthusiastic Welcomes.

Berlin, March 4.—Emperor William, instead of being displeased with the telegram of Miss Alice Roosevelt concerning the launching of the Meteor, as some of the English newspapers aver, because of its familiar tone, was, on the contrary, very much pleased with it.

A member of the cabinet relates that after an audience with Emperor William, February 28, official business having been finished, he was about to leave when the Kaiser remarked:

"I must show you the charming telegram I have just received from Miss Alice Roosevelt."

To other members of his entourage the emperor has also expressed his pleasure over this telegram, and has praised its natural and uncontrived form.

The correspondent here of the Associated Press has been officially informed by Emperor William's satisfaction at the reception accorded to Prince Henry. The informant of the correspondent had seen all Emperor William's marginal notes on the reports of Prince Henry's trip. He said:

"His majesty is in the highest degree pleased with Prince Henry's reception on his arrival in America, and especially with that accorded by President Roosevelt and his family. The emperor has also expressed himself as delighted with the enthusiasm of the welcome to his brother."

Fearing an audience with Prof. Kuno Franke, of Harvard, Emperor William expressed himself as highly satisfied with Prince Henry's reception, and said he looked forward with particular interest to the prince's visit to Cambridge. Emperor William sent Prof. Franke as a compliment to Harvard University.

The German newspaper men are extremely impressed with Prince Henry's bearing toward the newspaper men of the United States, and believe that Emperor William's perception of the influence of the press on national opinion in the United States will effect favorably the nation of the crown to the same press.
