Mrs. E. F. Masters Dead.

Mrs. E. F. Masters died at Pattie A. Clay Infirmary Friday night, after a protracted illness of dropsy. She was brought to the infirmary some three weeks before her death and everything possible was done for her, but to little avail. Her funeral was preached Sunday morning by her pastor, Rev. O. J. Young, and the burial followed in the lot Terry Perkins burying ground, near Baldwin. She was 69 years old and is survived by her husband, with whom she lived nearly 50 years, and seven children, Wm. C. of Louisville, B. F. and Mack of Valley View, and John Masters of Louisville, and Mesdames William C. C. of Lexington, and John Bateman of Cincinnati. Mrs. Masters was a devoted member of the Christian church and a good woman in every way.

Rufus Baldwin Killed By Lightning.

Rufus Baldwin, the 14 year-old son of Mr. Charles Baldwin, of the Baldwin section, was struck by lightning and killed by his father's tobacco patch Friday evening. He was missed about 6 o'clock, but the family thinking he had gone to a neighbor's, did not worry about him until 8 or 9 o'clock, when search was begun. It was 11 o'clock or later when the body was found and some 25 or 30 men and boys had gathered in the lot. There was a slight contusion on the head, but otherwise the body showed no signs of the shock that ended the young life. His parents are almost frantic with grief over the fearful loss that has been dealt them, and great sympathy from all in that section goes out to them. The burial occurred in the Perkins burying ground at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Let's Get Down to Business.

Now that the primary is over, let us get down to business and see if we cannot make up for some of the time we have lost talking politics. Life is too short to devote too much of it to useless speculation as to who will win this race or that, or how John Smith or Sam Jones stands on such and such a proposition. We know men in this good town who have talked politics day in and day out for the past three or four months. They have seemingly forgotten business, forgotten family, forgotten everything but politics; and they were not candidates, either. They just get interested in the game and grow more and more so as the primary approached. It is all over now and it is to be hoped that they will go to work. They have bored many busy men, imparting to them their imaginary political wisdom. Let them give the public a much needed rest and from now on do more work with their hands and less with their tongues. Both the community and the men themselves will profit by the change.

Death of Mr. J. K. Gentry.

At about one o'clock this morning the long life of Mr. Joe Kansas Gentry came to a close. He was 81 years of age and had been feeble from the infirmities of age for several years. Last evening he performed his usual work, such as bringing in coal, feeding horse, etc. Just before he breathed his last his wife noticed his hand breathing and aroused the rest of the family, but before anything could be done he expired. A wife and seven children survive him, four daughters, Mrs. O. P. Jackson, Mrs. Haywood Jones and Miss Sallie Gentry, all of this city, and Mrs. Charles Dudley, of Paris, and three sons, Messrs. Martin and Albert Gentry, of this city, and Joe Gentry, of Canton, Ohio. Mr. Gentry was highly thought of and had always been a good citizen. He was an old Confederate soldier, having served under Gen. John H. Morgan. The funeral will take place at the residence on Hallie-Irvine street tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, followed by burial in Richmond Cemetery.
