PARENTS SHOULD READ ARTICLES BY FOOT BALL COACH.

From time to time, possibly every day or two the Ledger under the caption of "Sports" will publish articles by Prof. G. G. Schnelder head of athletics at the Maysville High School whose first task will be to give the correct impression of the game of football to the parents of those students who might object to the roughness of the game.

In his first article in Wednesday's paper Prof. Schnelder will outline his first steps toward the training of the youths before they undertake a hard grind on the field, as well as showing the parents the advantages of football training if such training is properly arranged.

This task of creating a foot ball spirit and coaching a bunch of "green material" who have hardly laid eyes on a pig-skin during their lives is some job and the co-operation of the parents as well as the students is required.
