

RUINED HIS HOME CHARGES SLAYER OF MAN IN CHURCH

Prominent Glendale Merchant Slain By Former Resident of That Section While at Prayer Meeting Wednesday Night.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Sept. 21.—Walk into Christ church at Glendale, this county, while prayer meeting was in progress last night, S. M. Bond, formerly of Glendale, approached D. F. Rider, prominent Glendale merchant, and remarked: "You broke up my home." He then fired the contents of a pistol into Rider's body. Rider fell forward dead.

Ill feeling is said to have existed between the two men for several months as the result of alleged undue friendliness between Rider and Mrs. Bond. Last May Bond filed suit in the Hardin circuit court against Rider for $25,000, charging alienation of his wife's affections. The case was set for the October term.

At the same time he brought action for divorce, but the suit is still pending.

Bond has been living near Lexington for several months, his wife and children making their home near here.

Bond is quoted as saying he came to Elizabethtown Wednesday afternoon and then went to Glendale arriving there a few minutes before the shooting. Going into the church, he says, he saw Rider and became suddenly angry. He then left the church and went to his former home, but returned in a few minutes, walked up to where Rider was sitting and fired.

Bond then made no attempt to leave the church, remaining until the arrival of the sheriff who arrested him.

Mr. C. P. Vawter, who has been visiting in this city and county for the past several days, will leave Friday morning for his home near Mt. Sterling.

DEAN COOPER HAS GOOD WORD FOR CARDINAL BAND

Dean of State College of Agriculture Says Music at State Fair Was More Than Satisfactory.

The following letter has just been received from Dean Thomas Cooper, of the State College of Agriculture and the Agricultural Experiment Station:

"My dear Mr. Russell: I have your letter of the 19th and am very glad to know that the band boys reached home safely Sunday afternoon. I hope they are not worn out with their experiences of last week. I was very much pleased with the Boys' Band. They were well liked and appealed to the audience. The music was more than satisfactory. Yours very truly, THOMAS COOPER."

PROSPECTS FOR LEXINGTON.

Lexington has been the scene of many brilliant race meetings but if the quaint old southern city is blessed with good Kentucky sunshine from October 2 to 14, a meeting will be staged which will eclipse all previous ones, for the progressive management is offering more money than ever before, and is making this, the fiftieth annual meeting, the greatest in the history of the association.

Approximately $90,000 will be raced for and the program will include the $7,000 Futurity for two-year-old trotters, the $14,000 Kentucky Futurity for three-year-old trotters, $5,000 Transylvania, $3,000 Walnut Hall Cup, $4,000 Castleton, and various other rich events including the May Day ($13,000) for two-year-old trotters, a new event. This will be the richest of the year for two-year-old trotters.

Then in addition to the races, there are possibilities of several record breaking performances. Peter Manning 1:57 1/2 who dethroned Ublan 1:58 as king of trotters, at Lexington last fall, is being brought along carefully by Thomas W. Murphy, with the idea of shattering his own record, while Arion Guy, 4, 1:59 1/2 which during the 1921 meeting, gained the distinction of being the world's fastest four-year-old trotting colt, has been showing by his recent work that he will be ready for an assault on his own record. Then too, that wonderful trotting mare, Nedda 1:59 1/2, the most recent addition to the list of two-minute trotters, will undoubtedly be on the card to try at the trotting record for mares.—Indianapolis Horseman.

THRIFT SYSTEM INSTALLED IN COUNTY SCHOOLS BY BANK

State National Bank Will Conduct Up-To-Date Thrift System in Schools of the County Beginning At Once.

The Mason county school children are to have the opportunity to learn some of the principles of actual business practice. Believing that in order to teach thrift along lasting lines the American people must begin at the foundation, the officials of the State National Bank have made a study of some of the Thrift systems in operation in over three thousand schools throughout the United States. They have arranged to install a school savings department and to provide a representative who will visit the schools and instruct the children along practical lines about methods of obtaining money, value of the banks in handling and caring for money, thrift in judicious expenditure on immediate needs, and saving for future needs, the accumulative value of regular savings of small sums, and the importance of a personal budget.

The plan submitted by the State National Bank has been adopted by the County School Board, and is under consideration for the Maysville schools. It is endorsed by the American Bankers' Association who, finding that only a small per cent. of people who open accounts at banks know the fundamental principles of how to do business at a bank, advocate the co-operation of schools and banks in an educational plan to teach thrift in the schools. This has already been done in Kentucky by the Guaranty and Trust Company, of Lexington, and the First National Bank of Covington, and the Liberty Insurance Bank of Louisville. In each instance, the plan is enthusiastically endorsed, not only by the parents of the children, but by the school authorities and officials of the other banks who recognize its influence in a steady trend toward thrift throughout the whole community.

We are sure that our own Mason county children will readily avail themselves of this splendid opportunity to learn through practical experience some of the business relations of life, and will form habits of thrift that will be of lasting benefit to them and their families.

COURT HOUSE MAY RECEIVE COAT OF STUCCO

Experts Figuring With County Commissioners on Stuccoing Court House Instead of Painting.

It has just been learned that the County Commissioners are figuring with experts on covering the court house with stucco instead of giving it its regular dress of paint this year.

The exterior of the court house needs attention badly, this the Commissioners acknowledge and they are now endeavoring to decide whether it would be better to continue the old system of painting the large building or whether it would be better to give it a covering of gray marble stucco with the large pillars given a coat of white stone stucco. Estimates are being received by the Commissioners and it is likely that a final decision of the matter will be reached at the next meeting of those officials which will be held on Saturday, September 30th.

FAVORABLE HARVEST WEATHER IS REPORTED IN STATE

State Crop Report Says Corn and Tobacco Cutting Proceeds Satisfactorily.

The summary of weather and crop conditions in Kentucky for the week ending Tuesday, September 19, 1922, follows:

The dry weather and moderate temperature during the week were favorable for cutting corn and tobacco, for harvesting cowpea and alfalfa hay, and for picking and marketing the large fruit crop. There was some improvement in late corn, tobacco and potatoes, mainly in the northeastern counties, due to the rains of the previous week; but growth was retarded on the central and western uplands, where these crops suffered for rain and deteriorated in many localities. They are fairly good in the eastern half of the state and on the lowlands, but continue rather poor in other districts. Good progress was made in cutting early corn, and its condition in shock is excellent. Tobacco continues to cure rapidly. Late tobacco grew out well in the northeastern districts, where it has made a fair crop. It is also fairly good in other eastern counties; but in the western section it has not spread well, is badly "fired" on hill land, and is generally light in yield. Cutting tobacco is nearly finished in some southern counties, but rain would still be helpful to a part of the crop in the northern section. Late corn is maturing prematurely, with a light yield, in the dry districts. Most of it will be safe from frost in ten days. Pastures are very dry in the uplands, and are generally poor in other sections, while stock water continues short. A little plowing has been done in some eastern localities, but in general fall plowing and seeding can make no progress of consequence until good rains occur.
