Don't forget the games of ball which will be played between Eastern and Western Normal Schools for State championship May 15-16.

News has reached Richmond of the death of Mr. James Dunlap of Dallas, Texas, who a few years ago married Miss Elizabeth Embury, of this city.

Our Richmond boys are complimented wherever they go. On the ball team of Millersburg Military Institute, Harry Rice is captain and Harold Oldham and Ballard are also "office holders." Allen, Walton and Lackey are "subs." They will play Eastern on their grounds May 5. Everybody turn out for this occasion.

New Business Block For Irvine

The contract already let for the brick and clearing the lot to begin excavating for the basement and foundation, it is an absolute certainty that before the summer is over a new two-story business building, consisting of three store rooms on the ground floor will loom up on Main street. The new building will be erected of home manufactured brick and on a lot on the West side of Main street. It will have a frontage of fifty-five feet by eighty feet deep, two stories with basement.

Tragic Death

News has reached here of the tragic death in an automobile wreck of Mr. Frank Crosby, of New York City, on Wednesday.

Mr. Crosby acted as best man at the wedding of Miss Louise Covington and Mr. H. Hasbrouck Haynes, and many friends in this city will hear of his untimely death with much regret.

Mr. Crosby was a mechanical engineer and stood high in business and social circles in New York.

Jury Disagrees

On the trial of the case of the Commonwealth against the four negroes who killed Marshall Petit of Clay City, the jury failed to agree and was discharged. They disagreed on the penalty to be imposed, ten standing for death penalty against Tenney Smothers and Frank Williams, and life term against all the defendants.

Dies Suddenly

Thomas J. Hackworth, of Sand Hill, Estill county, died suddenly Saturday morning. He arose as usual but complained of not feeling well and laid down to rest. One of the family about half an hour later went to his bed and found him dead.

He was buried Monday in the family burying ground.

Death of Mrs. Bridges

"God's finger touched her and she slept." A death which has saddened our entire city was that of Mrs. D. W. Bridges which occurred on Sunday night at one o'clock after a painful illness of ten days.

Mrs. Bridges had lived here only a few years and yet in that short time had drawn many friends to her by her sweet, sunny disposition and attractive personality.

A death of this kind is peculiarly sad when life to all appearances held so much in store; was so full of promise and when a new life had just been entrusted to a mother's love and keeping, but God in His own good time will draw the veil aside, will "wipe away all tears from our eyes" and "then we'll understand."

Besides the devoted husband and two little ones Mrs. Bridges is survived by her mother Mrs. Marcellus Jagoe of Cadiz Ky. and several brothers and sisters to whom we tender the deepest sympathy.

The funeral was held at the residence on Monday morning at half after eleven and was conducted by Dr. D. H. Scanlon, assisted by Drs. E. B. Barnes and G. W. Crutchfield.

The following beautiful hymns were sung: "Abide With Me," "Come Unto Me" and "It Is Well With My Soul" after which the services were concluded and the remains were taken to her old home at Cadiz, Ky. for burial.

"The Melting-Pot"

On Wednesday evening in the Chapel of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal, Miss Jeanie Barron Hurst, Teacher of Expression, presented Israel Zangwill's powerful drama, "The Melting-Pot," in which she won instantaneous success.

Miss Hurst's portrayal of character from the witty native of the Emerald Isle, "Kathleen, the Serving Maid," to Mendel Quixano, the old music master, was realistic in the extreme. However, her marked triumph was achieved in the second and third acts by her soulful presentation of David, the Jewish lad fired with enthusiasm for the cause of his people, for the hope of oppressed Israel, salutes the flag of America, the great "Melting-Pot" where "the fires of God" are melting race hatred and bringing the Jew into his own.

Miss Hurst's further rendition of the play, David's recital of the terrible Russian massacre, was intense with passion and voiced with wonderful truth and pathos.

The evening throughout was a memorable one for the people of Richmond, for in addition to the artistic work of Miss Hurst, the musical program by Mrs. Kellogg, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Hoskinson, Miss Bright and Mrs. Ballard was one of the most finished and beautiful ever given by home talent in our city. The auditorium was especially pretty with its decorations of pink blossoms, palms and other potted plants, this being the work of Miss Gibson and Mrs. Hume.

Gov. James B. McCreary was among the speakers at concluding session of the Manufacturers' Association. Revision of Kentucky's system of taxation was recommended in resolutions.

The receipts for the Foreign Department for the year were $293,823.95; for the Home Department, $181,461.42.

Twelve young ladies were consecrated for the Foreign field and nine for Deaconess work in the Home field. Miss Belle H. Bennett presided. Bishop W. R. Lambuth delivered the charge to the candidates to the Foreign field and Bishop J. H. McCoy consecrated the deaconesses.

Death of Mrs. Benton

Mrs. Anne Covington Benton, wife of Mr. William Benton and the mother of Judge James Benton, died late Wednesday evening at her home in the country, after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Benton, who was 75 years of age, was a woman of the highest character and had been a consistent member of the Christian church since childhood. Her membership was with the congregation at Flatwood near Waco, and in this community as in all others where she was known she was greatly beloved for her sweet, gentle character; truly the life of such a woman is an inspiration for noble living.

Mrs. Benton is survived by her husband, Squire Wm. Benton, one son, Judge Benton, two brothers in Missouri, Elijah and John Covington, and one sister, Mrs. Polk Benton, of Madison county. The funeral was conducted Thursday afternoon by Rev. McDougale, followed by burial in the Richmond cemetery, where the many beautiful flowers spoke of the love and esteem in which she was held.

The Madisonian extends sympathy to the bereaved father and son.
