Auspicious Opening

The Normal has been busy for sometime "getting its house in order." The members of the faculty have come in from their home going vacation, and everything is in readiness to welcome the students who have indicated that they will attend this year. The number of applicants is largely in excess of any previous year and the prospect for a prosperous session from all standpoints, is a fine one.

Stock Water Scarce

Farmers throughout the county are complaining of a scarcity of stock water. In some parts of the county cattle are being driven considerable distance to water. Some are hauling water quite a distance. While other counties in the state have suffered more from the drouth than Madison up to this time, the drouth on us now is alarming, and many cattle raisers are looking for buyers.

Serious Accident

Little William Simmons the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Simmons, had a very narrow escape on Friday night; while taking milk thro' a glass tube the child crushed the tube and swallowed part of the glass.

Dr. Jasper was telephoned for and did everything in his power to relieve him. The little fellow rallied and the many friends of the family earnestly hope there will be no serious results.

The following members of Madison Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F. were selected as delegates to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge which convenes at Paducah on the 14 of October: C. C. Wallace, A. J. Suit, B. Juett, W. J. Stewart, Lewis Powell and Walter Wilburn.

HOME ENTERPRISES

The J. W. Zaring Grain & Mill Co.

The citizens of almost every town, and of the County also do not generally give proper encouragement and praise to the commercial enterprises, located in their town. Right here in Richmond is an enterprise the magnitude of which probably half of the citizens of the town and county are not aware..

We refer to the J. W. Zaring Grain & Mill Co., one of the biggest and strongest commercial enterprises in the county. The daily output of this company is two hundred and fifty barrels of flour a day, besides hundreds of bushels of meal. The product of this mill is classed as A1, and is shipped to hundreds of points in Kentucky, most of it however, going to the eastern section of the state. Within the last few days they received orders for seven carloads of flour, meal and ship-stuff from as many firms.

The company employs about twenty men, operating a day and night shift. The men employed get paid every Saturday evening and most of the money is spent with home merchants. Thus you see that business is largely, or should be, co-operative, therefore it is the duty of each citizen to lend encouragement to every enterprise tending to upbuild the town—newspapers included.

The Dixie Minstrels

The "hit" of the season was the Dixie Serenader Minstrels seen and heard at the Opera House Wednesday and repeated by request on Thursday evening.

With an all-star-cast and such soloists as Keller, Nelson, Baxter, Green, Elder, Adams, Hicks, Bowman and Wiggins, it was a notable entertainment for Richmond opera goers.

Indeed the stage sitting, costumes and acting generally would have done credit to Al G. Fields and his knights of color. Mr. George presided most gracefully as "middle man" while Messrs. Green and Nelson distinguished themselves as end men by their ready wit and laughable antics.

Mr. Wm. Elder was one of the starriest "stars," his dancing and singing being characterized by the ease of an old stager, in fact the entire performance was par excellence and Richmond is to be congratulated on having such a number of talented young men.

The entertainment closed with three excellent pictures making an evening of pure enjoyment.

Sudden Illness

Mrs. Million, wife of W. J. Million, merchant at Hockaday, was here Friday shopping. She left the store in charge of her 17-year old daughter and when she arrived here a telephone message informing her that the young woman in charge of the store had become suddenly ill and had to be carried to the home of her parents. The message did not state the nature of the illness.

New Firm

Mr. Harris Park has bought the interest of Mr. D. H. Thorpe in the grocery of The J. Covington-Thorpe Co. and is now a full fledged member of that well established business.

Mr. Park is one of the active, energetic members of the young business men of this city and his many friends are proud of his preferment.

Honorable Distinction

Abe Renick of Clark county, one of the pioneer Shorthorn cattle breeders of Kentucky has been selected as a Judge for the big cattle show at Toronto, Canada. With his selection came the distinction for Mr. Renick of being the first American ever chosen to judge a Canadian cattle show.

B. Barnes, secretary, Mrs. J. R. Pates and treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Wines. After the business meeting the members of the society were invited to the dining room to enjoy a social hour and refreshing ices.

The folks at the Methodist Church had a good day on Sunday. The membership was requested to remain for a few minutes after the benediction. The pastor stated that nearly $1000 remained to be provided for on account of the building of the Sunday School addition. He stated that he would like to see this provided for before he closed his pastorate. In a few minutes about $700 was subscribed for this purpose.

The Circle held its last meeting for the year with Mrs. Jas. Neale on Thursday afternoon. Two very interesting talks were given by Drs. E. B. Barnes and C. K. Marshall on "The Job of Preaching The Gospel" and "The Uplift of Religion." The election of officers took place and Mrs. Cobb was chosen President, Mrs. Jas. Neale, vice president, Miss Tillie Douglas, secretary and Miss Lizzie Wilmore, treasurer. It was decided to give a concert for the benefit of the Society.

At the business and social meeting at the Methodist Church Friday evening, encouraging reports were heard from the several departments of the Church. The League, Sunday School, Missionary Societies and the Journal work were reported by the inspection representatives.

Mr. C. C. Wallace made a short address, giving a very interesting account of the history of the Church here giving names and time of service of the several pastors since 1843, also giving names of many of those who were identified with the work of the Church in its early history.

Dr. Crabbe spoke of the Church of the future stressing some features of the work that should be more faithfully and fully provided for, and giving a hopeful vision of the future.

A most enjoyable social hour was then spent with refreshments served by the ladies of the Church.
