Remarkable Weather

We are having the most remarkable weather known here in a quarter of a century. The warm spring-like days have certainly been enjoyed. More spring plowing has already been done than for years at this season, and the ground is breaking as well as in April and May. But the worst is yet to come, according to the statements of the weather prophets, for they say we are to have some severe winter weather during February and March. Here's hoping the predictions will prove false.

Take Me Home

Take me back to old Kentucky,
Where the crystal waters glisten
As they dance along the borders,
Through the fragrant beds of mint;
Where the lasses and the horses
Are but terms for grace and speed,
And the whiskey and the statesman
Are both noted for their "bead."

Take me back to old Kentucky,
Where strong waters flow so free;
Where they cool off in the summer,
Neath the spreading julep tree;
Where the "high balls" and the "low balls"

Always hit the center square;
And you never have next morning,
Rheumatism in your hair.

Take me back to old Kentucky,
Where the blue grass decks the hills,
Where they have no use for water,
Save for operating mills:
For they scorn it as a beverage,
On that dark and bloody ground
As they claim—e'er since the deluge—
That it tastes of sinners drowned.

Take me back to old Kentucky,
To the state where I was born;
Where the corn is full of kernels,
And the Colonels full of "corn"
Where to disapprove that beverage
Is to toy with sudden death;
And they have a bonded warehouse
Where they barrel up their breath.

Take me back to old Kentucky,
Let me hear the pistols pop,
See the pigs and politicians
With their snouts deep in slop;
Take me back to those blue mountains,
Where they argue points with lead;
But you needn't rush the matter—
Take me back when I am dead.

Steel Frame Low Spread Manure Spreader

Have you ever seen any spreader with more or as many good features? Waist high box—easy to load; makes the shortest turns and spreads evenly at corners; spreads when turning either way; positive force feed—no rolling forward of the load when the manure is moved toward the beater; even spreading until the last forkful is spread; made in seven sizes; wide and narrow boxes; special attachments for drilling and spreading lime.

Ask us also about our new wide spread attachment which scatters manure over an area eight feet wide—a very handy and convenient device for top dressing growing corn.

The next time you are in town stop and get a catalogue. Ask us to show you this machine—to show you how it will save work and increase profits. Give us a chance to prove that the Low Spread tops them all.

RICHMOND, KY., February 9, 1914.

To Our Friends Interested In Tobacco:

THE MADISON HOUSE HAS JUST CLOSED ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL WEEK selling nearly 350,000 lbs., with prices from 2c to 30c. Good tobacco being scarce, but when shown demands attention and excellent prices, while the low grades have never been higher than at present. We want to ask those who have tobacco left that you get it to market just as soon as you can, while prices are good. While we expect a steady to strong market throughout, it is best to sell while you know the market is good. During the last week some of the best averages were as follows: W. C. Ross sold 1125 lbs. at average of $18.08, one basket bringing $30; Tudor & Moberley sold 3805 lbs., average of $15.99; Minter & Chamberlain sold 8890 lbs. at average of $14.90, over two-thirds of this crop averaged $17. Tips frozen and damaged often keep the general average low, even for an excellent crop. Price Williams sold 895 lbs., averaged $16.50; Haden Bros. sold 1005 lbs., averaged $17.95; Ross & VanArsdale sold 2770 lbs. for $443.50.

You will remember that our market is stronger now and has been throughout this year than it has ever been with us, quality of tobacco considered. And we know that our buyers expect to keep this market right up to the best in the country till we close.

Market your tobacco at once, and continue to sell with the house that gets you the top notch prices—THE MADISON HOUSE. Thanking you, we are,

Very truly yours,
