

A SAD MESSAGE

Mrs. Cecil Hurt, Wife of Mr. L. C. Hurt, Dies in Louisville—Buried Near Columbia.

MANY FRIENDS ATTENDED THE FUNERAL.

Possessing a most friendly disposition, and a kind word for every body she met, made Cecil Shreve Hurt, the beloved wife of Claud Hurt, one of Columbia's most popular young women. She was a friend to everybody and everybody was her friend, hence her death brought great sorrow to her home town.

The end came in St. Anthony Hospital, Louisville, last Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, where, a few weeks before, she had submitted to an operation. Her husband, relatives and friends had but little hope after she went under the knife, as her decline was very perceptible from day to day until the final dissolution. Her husband was with her almost constantly after she went to the hospital, and for several weeks before her demise her brother, Mr. Sam Shreve, and her cousin, Miss Amanda Butler, were daily present, and many friends called to make inquiry.

If the writer remembers correctly the deceased was born in Taylor county, and a short time after the death of her mother, who was a Miss Johnston, before her marriage, a sister of Mrs. Josh Butler, who lives near Columbia, she came to the home of the latter to live, and was loved and tenderly cared for as one of the family until her carriage to Mr. L. C. Hurt, which occurred about fifteen years ago.

After their union the couple went to house-keeping in the husband's residence on Greensburg street, this place. Mrs. Hurt took much pleasure in entertaining her friends; every one who visited her were made to feel perfectly happy—her pleasant disposition bringing sunshine to those who were in her presence.

While she and her husband owned a comfortable home in this place, for the past several years they lived in Louisville, and for a time conducted a boarding house, the wife looking after the guests, the husband, the most of the time, being a collector for a sewing machine company, but later connected with the city street car company.

The remains reached here Saturday afternoon, many friends calling to take the last look of the one they dearly loved in life.

The interment was in the Butler graveyard Sunday afternoon, a large circle of relatives and friends being present. There were many beautiful floral designs.

The religious exercises were conducted by her pastor, Eld. Z. T. Williams, who paid a high tribute to the life and character of this beloved young woman, whose stay upon earth was thirty-seven years, and from girlhood doing all the good she could. This paper is in sympathy with all those who so keenly feel the loss.

The Graded School boys, who went to Monticello to engage the Graded School team of that city in a basket ball contest, returned Sunday night. They spoke in the highest terms of Monticello, their cordial treatment by the entire town, and gave that place credit for having the best school team in the State. It was an inspiration to see the Wayne county boys, play. In fact, the Columbia aggregation was beaten quickly and so decisively that it did not know it was in the contest, the score being 46 to 4 in favor of the Monticello boys. A return game will be played in this place Thursday, Thanksgiving.

Willie Vance, a boy about twelve years old, who got so badly mangled by being caught on the shaft at Smith's roller mill, ten days ago, is slowly recovering. Both of his legs were broken, one of them in three different places.

Rev. O. P. Bush, pastor of the Baptist Church, will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Rev. I. M. Grimsley closed an interesting singing school at Conover school house on the 23rd.

Thanksgiving.

Lippincott, speaking of Thanksgiving says: Thanksgiving is the day when every one says he is thankful, and wants to eat turkey to prove it. If you haven't anything else to be thankful for, you are not a turkey.

Thanksgiving day was first observed by the Pilgrims, who were thankful that they had five grains of corn apiece. In these extravagant times a man wouldn't be thankful if he had ten grains of corn—which shows conclusively that we are prosperous. The trusts are doing a noble work in remedying this evil condition.

People have various unreasonable reasons for being thankful on Thanksgiving day. Some men are thankful they took a wife, and some are thankful they didn't take two. Bachelor maids are thankful they are not "horrid bachelors," and a married woman is always thankful that her husband has a good wife. It is easy to be thankful if you go about it right.

But the thing people are most thankful for is their money—even though they came by it honestly. The more a man has, the more thankful he is that it isn't less, and the less a man has the less likely he is to be thankful because it isn't more. Be thankful, therefore, that you haven't too much to be thankful for. Turkey tastes all the better for coming but once a year.

A Mistake.

A mistake was made when the town council refused to purchase rock for the streets at a price that would justify crushing the stone and by so doing really forced the sale of the crusher. Gravel and sand make good, but short life roads, and in the end crushed stone is cheaper. It is our judgment that Columbia would fare better to use stone instead of gravel and that it would be good business to buy a crusher for its own use.

For Sale.

Mammoth Bronze Turkeys.
4-2t. Mrs. Rollin Hurt.

Mr. H. K. Taylor, who clerks in Mr. Frank Sinclair's store, is responsible for this statement, which he says is true: Just now many turkeys and geese are being driven to the depot at Campbellsville, and unless the feet of geese are protected they make slow progress. Mr. Taylor said that experienced poultry drivers shield their geese before starting to the market. The parties to whom he was talking said they never heard of such a thing and asked him to explain. He did so as follows: "Before leaving with your geese get a bucket of tar and a smooth plank, pour the tar on the plank, then pick up the geese one at a time, setting their feet in the tar, turn them loose and in a short time a thick coat of dirt will camp, and the fowls can walk to Campbellsville before it wears off. Without doing this the feet of the geese get sore by the time they travel a few miles and they have to be taken up and hauled."

We learn that the post-office department at Washington has taken the good roads proposition in hand, and its action is having a good effect in some parts of the country. It is known that star route carriers deliver mail along their respective routes to farmers. It is reported that in one section of the country people who failed to get their mail promptly, made complaint and were notified from Washington that they would have to build better roads before the star route carriers could take the time to deliver their mail. Better get busy in this part of the country.

Bruce Jarbo, a boy about 17 years old, who once lived here with his father, the latter at the time was running a spoke factory, got killed in a mill at McKinney, Ky., one day last week. He got caught in a line shaft.

Save furnace coal Spring and Fall by using Coie's Air Tight Wood Stove. It holds the fire all night.

Mr. A. K. Stone Dead.

Mr. Albert K. Stone, who was a well-known citizen, of the Fairplay country, this county, died last Saturday night at 11 o'clock. He was seventy-seven years old, and his whole life was spent in the neighborhood where he died. For many years he was a devoted member of the Tabor Methodist Church, taking a great interest in religious work. He was an honorable citizen, a good neighbor, and will be greatly missed. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. Jesse V. White, this place, Mr. James White, of Coburg, and Mr. Harmon White, of Fairplay. The funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. S. Chandler, and the interment was in the Stone graveyard.

Many friends paid their last respects to this good man. It is reported at this office that the deceased was a victim of Bright's disease.

Will Remove to Indiana.

Mr. S. D. Barbee purchased a farm containing sixty-four acres, near New Albany, last week and in about ten days he will remove, with his family to it. Mr. Barbee says he certainly got a bargain. On the farm is a nice dwelling containing eight rooms, all necessary out-buildings, including barns. All the rooms of the dwelling are nicely carpeted, and in the transfer Mr. Barbee gets two head of horses, three fine hogs, sixty shocks of corn, five vehicles, buggies, a surrey and a wagon, a big lot of hay and a number of other articles. The consideration for the entire outfit, $8,000. The reason this property was sold so cheap, the owner recently lost his wife.

Every body will see the game Thursday.

Mr. R. O. Keltner, quite an old gentleman, who lives in the Gradyville country, made a narrow escape last Friday morning. He was in a buggy, driving a mare that he had been working in single harness for four years, and he thought she was perfectly gentle, and was en route to Columbia. Opposite Mr. S. H. Mitchell's residence she became frightened. Mr. Keltner thinks, at dog, and she commenced to run, kicking as she ran. With difficulty Mr. Keltner got out of the buggy and escaped from being killed or crippled. The owner of the mare will trade or sell her, but he wants the public to know of this circumstance.

Mr. H. D. Wilson, who was a prominent citizen of Greensburg, for many years cashier of the Peoples' Bank, died very suddenly in Louisville, the first of last week. At the time of his death he was President of the aforesaid bank. He was about 63 years old and a victim of pneumonia.

S. M. Burdett, our local mule dealer, purchased about fifteen in the last week, at from $140 to $200 per head. He purchased an extra pair of mare mules last Saturday. They are five years old and 16 hands high. They were weighed to him at 20 cents per pound and the two tipped the beam at 2,500 pounds, the two bringing $500.

Drs. L. F. Page and R. I. Blake-man, of Indianapolis, Ind., Messrs. W. A. Coffey and E. B. Barger were in the Esto neighborhood, Russell county, hunting birds two days of last week. They found quail scarce, the whole layout only getting sixty.

There are six shoats on my place, marked, crop off right ear and slit in left. The owner can have them by paying feed and this notice.

There are three bank statements published in the News this week. A careful reading is asked by each institution.

If you want to see a fast game of basket ball, be at the Graded School grounds Thanksgiving afternoon.

The Robber Caught.

Buster Anderson, a desperate colored man, is now in jail at Campbellsville, charged with robbing Mr. J. A. Dulworth's store at Camp Knox, the robbery having occurred two weeks ago. Anderson was suspected, and he left the neighborhood, going to Campbellsville. A warrant was procured for his arrest and placed in the hands of jailer Peterson, who cited the darkey, who at once took to his heels. The jailer fired his gun at him and he stopped. Before reaching the jail with the prisoner the latter overpowered Mr. Peterson, and would have escaped had not Joe Dulworth, who came to the scene, and shot the negro, not fatally. After the darkey was landed in jail he confessed and implicated a white man.

Ed Means, who ran a whisky joint near Sand Lick Spring, in Cumberland county, just over the Adair line, and who in a difficulty at his place with a man named Branham, shooting him, not dangerously, was tried at Burkesville last week, the jury giving him two years in the penitentiary.

Quite an Honor.

Miss Irene Smith, the 10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talmage Smith, of Indianapolis, and granddaughter of Mr. W. T. McFarland, of this city, was awarded the prize in a contest given by the Superintendent of the Junior League in her home church. She memorized one hundred and fifty-three verses and told the chapter and book of bible from which they came. The little girl nearest Irene memorized one hundred and eight verses. Columbia feels justly proud that Irene is one of her daughters.

A Small Fire.

The dwelling house of Martha Page, of color, was consumed by fire last Wednesday, just after dark. The building was located on the Burkesville pike, near the colored Methodist church. Two boys had gone up stairs and were preparing to retire, when the lamp was upset, setting fire to the bed clothing and the clothing of the smaller boy, but he was rescued by his companion, and in a few minutes the house was on fire, burning to the ground in a very short time. One trunk was all that was saved.

Killed Near Dunnville.

Sunday afternoon Levi B. Gosser, a notorious character, who removed from Russell county to Casey county, was shot and instantly killed near Dunnville by his step-son, a young man named Phelps.

About four weeks ago Gosser abused his wife and left home. Sunday he undertook to visit his wife's home. He was drunk and had upon his person a revolver. His step-son, seeing him approaching, ordered him to stop, but he went on making threats as he went. Young Phelps believing that he was intent upon doing his mother bodily harm, fired and killed him. Gosser had served two years in the Frankfort penitentiary for killing his brother-in-law.

The many friends of Mr. George W. Montgomery, of this place, son of Hon and Mrs. J. F. Montgomery, will be glad to learn that he is now employed as clerk in the post-office, Bradentown, Fla. He will have charge of the registry and money order departments. This information comes from the Bradentown Fla. Journal.

Mrs. Fannie G. Taylor, daughter of Mr. W. I. Meader, has been appointed postmistress at Campbellsville. The appointment will be confirmed at once and she will take charge of the office about the first of next month.

An address delivered by Mrs. N. B. Miller, who before her marriage, was Miss Kate Winfrey, who was reared and married in Columbia, is published elsewhere in this paper. It will be of interest to her many friends.

The ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will not meet as was announced with Miss Triplett this week. Further notice of the meeting will be given later.
