COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY APRIL 22, 1914.

NUMBER 25

PROF. CHESTERFIELD TURNER.

He Has Resigned the Principalship of the Graded School and Will be Succeeded by Prof. W. M. Wilson.

Prof. Chesterfield Turner, who has been the principal of the Graded and High School of this place for the past two years, tendered his resignation a few weeks ago, and Prof. W. M. Wilson was employed by the Trustees to succeed him.

Prof. Turner is a most excellent teacher and has endeared himself to all the pupils and patrons of the school and to the entire community. The departure of himself and most estimable companion will be generally regretted. Prof. Turner is an ardent Baptist, and it is our understanding that he has made up his mind to preach the Gospel, no calling being higher.

Prof. Wilson is known to everybody in Columbia, and our people were delighted to learn that he and his interesting little family were to again become residents of this place. Prof. Wilson was the principal of the school here two years before going to Monticello, and upon his return he will be given a hearty welcome.

The Monticello Outlook, in speaking of his departure says:

"He has been one of the best if not the best superintendents our school has had. There has been less complaint of his management, in fact there has been no complaint at all. He has pleased both pupil and patron."

Prof. Wilson and family will likely reach Columbia the latter part of May.

An Old Citizen Dies at Cane Valley.

Last Friday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, Mr. John H. Beard died at his home, in the Cane Valley country. Had he lived until the 21st of next August he would have been eighty-one years old.

When the civil war broke out he espoused the cause of the Union, entered the Third Kentucky Infantry, of which Thomas E. Bramlett was the Colonel. He was a gallant soldier, and since the close of hostilities was one of Adair's best citizens.

The funeral was largely attended. The deceased was a brother-in-law of Mr. J. P. Beard, this place.

Married.

Last Saturday afternoon Mr. Marvin Simpson, son of Judge and Mrs. J. J. Simpson, this place, and Miss Josie Ellis, a young lady who has been making her home with Mrs. Geo. W. Staples, drove to the home of Rev. W. F. Hogard, in company with Mr. Albert Bryant and Miss Hallie Ellis, where they were united in marriage. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left for the home of the groom's parents where they will for the present reside. Their many friends extend their best wishes.

That Dinner.

In the absence of old Dr. Jones' whiskey at that great dinner spoken of by our dear Brother and valued Rowe's X Roads correspondent, the presumption is that Bro. Hadley did not become (intoxicated) but did the next worse thing, and we hereby request Bro. James McKinley to send the writer by parcel post, one nail from the great toe of the left (hind) no hand foot, which may be found at Needmore No. 2. We think it would make a nice souvenir and bring good luck.

Notice, M. W. of A.

A full attendance of all Modern Woodmen, (in good standing,) is requested on Monday night, April 27th. Degree work.

W. T. Ottley, Consul, J. C. Strange, Clerk.

The Hotel to Change Management.

Judge Junius Hancock, who is proprietor of the Hancock Hotel, this place, has rented the building and everything pertaining thereto, to his son-in-law, Mr. Geo. W. Lowe, and his son, Mr. George Hancock, who will take charge of the hotel from the first of the coming month. This change will be made on account of the health of Mrs. Junius Hancock, who is very much in need of rest. Judge Hancock's family will remain at the hotel and he will aid his renters in the conduct of this popular house of entertainment. Mrs. Lowe was reared in a hotel and understands the management of the culinary department thoroughly, and her husband and brother will doubtless prove popular landlords.

Birthday Dinner.

Sunday, the 19th inst., was the birthday of Mrs. Bettie Hutchison, this place, and the occasion was duly celebrated, a most bountiful dinner being spread by her children, nephews and nieces. Mrs. Hutchison did not know that she was to be the guest of honor until her children commenced to arrive with well-filled baskets. The day proved a most happy one for the old lady and all others who were present. The following put in their appearance: Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Hutchison and their daughter, Clara May; Mrs. Mollie Littrell and son, Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Harden Cundiff and two sons, Everett and Clarence; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pickett and daughter, Lydia; Mr. and Mrs. Jo Hutchison.

Sheriff S. H. Mitchell, who lives but a short distance from the scene of the shooting, will be on the lookout for guilty parties, who, if caught, will be punished as the law directs.

Married in Louisville.

The Lebanon Falcon, of last week contains the following notice of the marriage of a young lady, who was born and reared at Gradyville, this county, and who is well-known in Columbia where she has many relatives and friends, and where she often visited. Her Adair county former associates will be glad to learn that she has been happily married to a worthy and popular gentleman:

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Gene Walker to Mr. Wallace Breeding, was solemnized at the Warren Memorial Presbyterian church, in Louisville, Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Webb pastor of the church, officiating. The attendants were Mr. W. L. Breeding, brother of the groom, and Rev. J. N. Valentine, of Bradfordsville. The bride is a daughter of Mr. H. C. Walker of Bradfordsville, a former resident of Adair county. She is an unusually bright, attractive young lady and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. Mr. Breeding is a son of Mr. J. R. Breeding, of Bradfordsville, and for some time has been one of the most valued employees of the large department store of Lewis & Drye, at Bradfordsville. Mr. and Mrs. Breeding returned to Bradfordsville Wednesday night. A number of social affairs have been arranged in their honor.

Stand by Your Home Town.

To further the interests of the town in which you live, it is necessary to vie with one another in all public enterprises and lay aside any envious feelings that may creep into your nature. Don't "knock" your neighbor because that by hard work and economy he has accumulated a few more dollars than you possess, but rather admire and encourage the example, to follow which, you might greatly better your own condition. There is a little something that every one can do that will add not only to the personal welfare of the individual, but prove a help to the community at large. With an eye ever to "self-preservation," one of the first laws of nature, then let us reach out to our neighbor a helping hand that he may tide over any reverses that he may encounter either in a business or a social way.—Ex.

Married.

Mr. L. L. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Bennett, and Miss Ada Walkup, daughter of Mr. C. A. Walkup, of Garlin, were married by Eld. Tobias Huffaker, at his residence, last Thursday afternoon. The many friends of the young couple extend their best wishes.

A Play, Highly Enjoyable.

The play entitled "A Co-ed Comedy," written by Miss Margaret Chandler, daughter of Rev. J. S. Chandler, of this place, and given by the pupils of the expression department of Lindsey-Wilson under the direction of Miss Hewitt, drew a large crowd Saturday evening.

The plot was very original and interesting and the musical numbers appropriate and well rendered. In fact, if there was a single mistake made the audience was unable to detect it.

No school girls were ever more winsome and clear than Misses Hewitt, Chandler, Knight, Hogard, Coffey and Russell: no "Knights" more gallant than Messrs. Stevenson, Gadberr, Sullivan, Popplewell, Tucker and Harris; no Matron in a girls' school could possibly have been sterner than Miss Capitola Webb when she looked over her glasses at the girls and boys enjoying forbidden privileges, nor could two popular young teachers be more irresistible than Misses Sallie E. Murphy and Eva Cook, while Miss Mabel Hindman, as the dusky "Carrie Lou," with Aubrey Wilson as her devoted "Sam" kept the crowd smiling whenever they appeared.

Little Maxine Moss, as "Bobby," added much to the list of characters. The tennis drill given by ten young ladies also deserves special mention.

Both Miss Hewitt and Miss Chandler are to be congratulated upon the perfect success of the evening.

"Better Than Gold."

The above heading is the title of a play given at the court-house last Thursday evening by the pupils of the Graded and High School of this place. It drew a large audience and perfect order prevailed during its rendition. There were quite a number of characters, all of whom were up on their parts, and there were some very fine acting, especially for amateurs, and often the house was brought down by timely expressions, impressively said. There was a moral drawn which struck the audience forcibly, every reader declaring that it was a lesson well worth remembering. We have not the space to give each actor and actress the praise justly due, but all who took part should be satisfied when we state that the expressions we have heard are to the effect it was one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given to a Columbia audience by local talent.

Greensburg.

Much interest has been manifested in the recent contested election case filed by P. F. Marshall against John W. Thomas for the office of County Court Clerk. Marshall was the incumbent and was defeated by Thomas Republican, by a majority of thirty votes on the face of the returns. Marshall sought a recount and Judge Thurman, of the Circuit Court decided that sufficient irregularities were proven to justify a recount in the upper Brush and the North Greensburg precincts. On a recount of the ballots in these precincts, Marshall gained enough votes to give him a majority of four. The contestee, Thomas, has filed an amended answer, charging that the ballot boxes were in the custody of Marshall who was then County Clerk, from the date of the election, November 14, to November 13 when they were placed in the vaults of the Greensburg Deposit Bank. He alleges in his amended answer that the ballots just counted by the court are not the same ballots that were counted and certified to by the election officers the night of the election. The court withheld its judgment and a special term of the court was called for April 23 to try out the issue raised in the amended answer.

At a special meeting of the town board this week it was agreed to forbid license for another year to the pool room which has been operating on the Public Square.

It required only three hours to go down stream and five hours to return. They visited the aged mother of Mrs. Sandidge. Rev. Sandidge has just returned from Stanford where he attended the Transylvania Presbytery.
